Core Themes In Social Work: Power, Poverty, Politics And Values Sheedy, Martin, 2013-01-01 This book sheds a very bright light on poverty as a central experience of the people social workers work with Research and theories of power politics and values are thoroughly discussed and provide the basis for a sustained commitment to social justice The book is a supportive read as it skilfully appreciates the personal challenges that critical and assertive practice entails It is a book for students professionals and service leads to keep re read and savour Dr Tillie Curran Senior Lecturer in Social Work University of the West of England UK By identifying power poverty politics and values as core themes in social work this text offers us a refreshing perspective which will challenge students and practitioners alike to re evaluate their practice in the light of its wider social political and philosophical contexts Through an exploration of issues of power and an interrogation of the real meaning of social work ethics and values Sheedy motivates and encourages us to reflect on our practice and to ensure that it is truly person centred Dr Sue Taplin University of Nottingham UK This book offers a concise and coherent discussion of what should be core themes in thoughtful and careful social work practice It offers a journey towards rethinking and embracing effective critical practice which engages with human rights and social justice as much as with empowerment and with individual and interpersonal change Occasional student accounts coupled with use of key points and questions for discussion make for accessibility The book synthesises summarises and critiques ideas about how to understand and resolve social issues enabling readers to question how they might work creatively alongside service users It is a book which invites reflection on policy and practice Professor Michael Preston Shoot Dean Faculty of Health and Social Sciences University of Bedfordshire UK This excellent text is essential reading for all social workers and students and a key resource for academics It highlights with concern and conviction the importance of developing an effective critical practice that challenges enhances and broadens the task of conventional social work in ways that have the potential to improve outcomes for service users It calls for a social work practice based on an understanding of the issues of power politics and ideology and the values and world view held by the worker linked with concerns raised by the people that social workers regularly encounter and work with The issues of poverty and disadvantage and their structural causes run throughout this text issues that have been too long neglected in social work In this text Martin Sheedy corrects that neglect by outlining in some detail the impact of poverty on people s lives and life chances whilst at the same time describing how critical practice can be used by social workers to promote social justice and empowerment practices Dr Pamela Trevithick Visiting Professor in Social Work Buckinghamshire New University UK This engaging book introduces the core themes in social work and encourages students and practitioners to connect with the important debates surrounding these themes and challenges them to revisit the direction social work is and should be going in The key contexts of social work are explored using knowledge from the disciplines of social theory politics sociology psychology and ethics The content is enlivened by The voices of students service users and practitioners Current and topical content on social work poverty politics power and values A discussion style format to help readers engage with the topics An extensive range of sources of knowledge and theory Key summary points at the end of each chapter Group discussion questions at the end of each chapter This book will contribute to social work students and practitioners thinking about the world in which they live and operate as professionals

The Politics of Non-state Social Welfare Melani Cammett, Lauren M. MacLean, 2014-06-25 Across the world welfare states are under challenge or were never developed extensively in the first place while non state actors increasingly provide public goods and basic welfare In many parts of the Middle East and South Asia sectarian organizations and political parties supply basic services to ordinary people more extensively and effectively than governments In sub Saharan Africa families struggle to pay hospital fees and nongovernmental organizations NGOs launch welfare programs as states cut subsidies and social programs Likewise in parts of Latin America international and domestic NGOs and increasingly private firms are key suppliers of social welfare in both urban and rural communities Even in the United States where the welfare state is far more developed secular NGOs and faith based organizations are critical components of social safety nets Despite official entitlements to public welfare citizens in Russia face increasing out of pocket expenses as they are effectively compelled to seek social services through the private market In The Politics of Non State Social Welfare a multidisciplinary group of contributors use survey data analysis spatial analysis in depth interviews and ethnographic and archival research to explore the fundamental transformation of the relationship between states and citizens The book highlights the political consequences of the non state provision of social welfare including the ramifications for equitable and sustainable access to social services accountability for citizens and state capacity The authors do not assume that non state providers will surpass the performance of weak inefficient or sometimes corrupt states but instead offer a systematic analysis of a wide spectrum of non state actors in a variety of contexts around the world including sectarian political parties faith based organizations community based organizations family networks informal brokers and private firms

A Political History of Child Protection Ian Kelvin Hyslop, 2022-01-26 Exploring the current and historical tensions between liberal capitalism and indigenous models of family life Ian Kelvin Hyslop argues for a new model of child protection in Aotearoa New Zealand and other parts of the Anglophone world He puts forward the case that child safety can only be sustainably advanced by policy initiatives which promote social and economic equality and from practice which takes meaningful account of the complex relationship between economic circumstances and the lived realities of service users

Innovations in Older Adult Care and Health Service Management: A Focus on China Madhan Balasubramanian, Angie Shafei, Zhanming Liang, 2024-06-19 Population aging is a consistent global demographic trend The growth in both the size and proportion of older adults has threatened the sustainability of health systems in meeting healthcare needs of the population Countries in the Asia Pacific Region may face even more complex health system challenges due to the diversity in culture management and leadership styles composition of health service provision investment in research infrastructure and innovation adaptation data availability and gaps in information technology

Sex Work Politics Samantha Majic, 2013-12-19 In San Francisco the St James Infirmary SJI and the California Prostitutes Education Project CAL PEP provide free nonjudgmental medical care counseling and other health and social services by and for sex workers a radical political commitment at odds with government policies that criminalize prostitution To maintain and expand these much needed services and to qualify for funding from state federal and local authorities such organizations must comply with federal and state regulations for nonprofits In Sex Work Politics Samantha Majic investigates the way nonprofit organizations negotiate their governmental obligations while maintaining their commitment to outreach and advocacy for sex workers rights as well as broader sociopolitical change Drawing on multimethod qualitative research Majic outlines the strategies that CAL PEP and SJI employ to balance the conflicting demands of service and advocacy which include treating sex work as labor with legitimate occupational health and safety concerns empowering their clients with civic skills to advance their political commitments outside the nonprofit organization and conducting and publishing research and analysis to inform the public and policymakers of their constituents needs Challenging the assumption that activists must sell out and abandon radical politics to manage formal organizations Majic comes to the surprising conclusion that it is indeed possible to maintain effective advocacy and key social movement values beliefs and practices even while partnering with government agencies Sex Work Politics significantly contributes to studies of transformational politics with its nuanced portrait of nonprofits as centers capable of sustaining political and social change
