music by Virgil Thomson and a libretto by Gertrude Stein Four Saints in Three Acts was completed in 1928 but waited almost six years for its first performances After a week s run in Hartford Connecticut in February 1934 it moved to New York where with some sixty performances in six weeks it became the longest running opera that Broadway up to that time had experienced This critical edition by H Wiley Hitchcock and Charles Fussell features the scenario by Maurice Grosser and is based on the full score that Thomson commissioned from copyist Ben Weber for his 1947 48 revision it includes the 32 measure orchestral prelude to the Act II Dance of the Angels and it makes comparisons primarily to the manuscript scores held at the Library of Congress and Yale University The critical apparatus applies as much to the music as to the Stein text the principal source for which is the 1929 first publication The Publishers Weekly ,1903 Resisting History Barbara Ladd,2007-06-01 In a major reinterpretation Resisting History reveals that women as subjects of writing and as writing subjects themselves played a far more important role in shaping the landscape of modernism than has been previously acknowledged Here Barbara Ladd offers powerful new readings of three southern writers who reimagined authorship between World War I and the mid 1950s Ladd argues that the idea of a new woman released from some of the traditional constraints of family and community more mobile and participating in new contractual forms of relationality precipitated a highly productive authorial crisis of gender in William Faulkner As new women themselves Zora Neale Hurston and Eudora Welty explored the territory of the authorial sublime and claimed for themselves and other women new forms of cultural agency Together these writers expose a territory of female suffering and aspiration that has been largely ignored in literary histories In opposition to the belief that women s lives and dreams are bound up in ideas of community and pre contractual forms of relationality Ladd demonstrates that all three writers Faulkner in As I Lay Dying Welty in selected short stories and in The Golden Apples and Hurston in Tell My Horse place women in territories where community is threatened or nonexistent and new opportunities for self definition can be seized And in A Fable Faulkner undertakes a related project in his exploration of gender and history in an era of world war focusing on men mourning and resistance and on the insurgences of the masses the feminized others of history in order to rethink authorship and resistance for a totalitarian age Filled with insights and written with obvious passion for the subject Resisting History challenges received ideas about history as a coherent narrative and about the development of U S modernism and points the way to new histories of literary and cultural modernisms in which the work of women shares center stage with the work of men Evolutions of Capitalism Catherine Casson,Philipp Robinson Rössner,2022-04-05 This ambitious collection follows the evolution of capitalism from its origins in 13th century European towns to its 16th century expansion into Asia Africa and South America and on to the global capitalism of modern day Written by distinguished historians and social scientists the chapters examine capitalism and its critics and the level of variation and convergence in its operation across locations The authors illuminate the aspects of capitalism that have encouraged but also limited social responsibility and environmental sustainability Covering times places
