A Cultural History of Marriage in the Renaissance and Early Modern Age Joanne M. Ferraro, 2021-11-18 Why marry The personal question is timeless Yet the highly emotional desires of men and women during the period between 1450 and 1650 were also circumscribed by external forces that operated within a complex arena of sweeping economic demographic political and religious changes The period witnessed dramatic religious reforms in the Catholic confession and the introduction of multiple Protestant denominations the advent of the printing press European encounters and exchange with the Americas North Africa and southwestern and eastern Asia the growth of state bureaucracies and a resurgence of ecclesiastical authority in private life These developments together with social religious and cultural attitudes including the constructed norms of masculinity femininity and sexuality impinged upon the possibility of marrying The nine scholars in this volume aim to provide a comprehensive picture of current research on the cultural history of marriage for the years between 1450 and 1650 by identifying both the ideal templates for nuptial unions in prescriptive writings and artistic representation and actual practices in the spheres of courtship and marriage rites sexual relationships the formation of family networks marital
