Reading Theory An Introduction To Lacan Derrida And Kristeva:

Reading Theory Michael Payne, 1993-08-20 Deconstruction psychoanalysis and semiotics have become part of the vocabulary of contemporary culture Reading Theory introduces the principal texts by Derrida Lacan and Kristeva that are behind these terms and that provide their contexts This book concentrates its attention on making accessible what these three theorists have written rather than offering a synthetic construction of the fashionable terminology of theory Works carefully through key texts by the leading contemporary theorists Clear accessible and introductory Challenges recent attacks on theory and on Derrida

Kristeva's Fiction Benigno Trigo, 2013-09-17 With published work spanning more than forty years Julia Kristeva's influence in psychoanalysis and literary theory is difficult to overstate In addition to this scholarship Kristeva has written several novels however this portion of her oeuvre has received comparatively scant attention In this book Kristeva scholars from a number of disciplines analyze her novels in relation to her work in psychoanalysis interrogating the relationships between fiction and theory The essays explore questions including what is the value of experimental writing that escapes easy definition and classification putting ideas at the same level as character pacing plot suspense form and style And how might such fiction help its readers overcome the psychological maladies that affect contemporary society The contributors make a compelling case for understanding Kristeva's fiction as a crucial influence to her wider psychoanalytic project

Cultural Theory: The Key Thinkers Andrew Edgar, Peter Sedgwick, 2005-07-28 Featuring over eighty essays Cultural Theory The Key Thinkers is a seminal guide to the literary critics sociologists historians artists philosophers and writers who have shaped culture and society and the way in which we view them Ranging from Arnold to Le Corbusier from Eco to Marx the entries offer a lucid analysis of the work of influential figures in the study of cultural theory making this the perfect introduction for the student and general reader alike

Subjectivity Ruth Robbins, 2005-04-20 Who do you think you are In Subjectivity Ruth Robbins explores some of the responses to this fundamental question In readings of a number of autobiographical texts from the last three centuries Robbins offers an approachable account of formations of the self which demonstrates that both psychology and material conditions often in tension with one another are the building blocks of modern notions of selfhood Key texts studied include William Wordsworth's Prelude Thomas De Quincey's Confessions of an English Opium Eater James Joyce's A Portrait of the Artist as a Young Man Oscar Wilde's De Profundis Jung Chang's Wild Swans Robbins also argues that our subjectivity far from being the secure possession of the individual is potentially fragile and contingent She shows that the versions of subjectivity authorized by the dominant culture are full of gaps and blindspots that undo any notion of universal human nature subjectivity is culturally and historically specific we are in part what the culture in which we live permits us to be Concise and easy to follow this introduction to the concept of subjectivity and the theories surrounding it shows that in spite of the insecurity of selfhood there is still much to be gained from the textual encounter with other selves It is essential reading for all those studying autobiography or autobiographical writing The Abject of Desire ,2007-01-01 The Abject of Desire approaches the aestheticization of the unaesthetic via a range of different topics and genres in twentieth century Anglophone literature and culture The experience of disgust which Winfried Menninghaus describes as an acute crisis of self preservation is correlated with conceptualizations of gender in theories of the abject abjection In view of this general crisis of identity in the experience of disgust the contributions to this volume discuss examples of the aestheticization of the unaesthetic in cultural representations and locate conceptual re codings of the body gender and identity with regard to the abject as an immediate and uncompromising experience on the one hand and a social and political phenomenon on the other Considering a variety of cultural narratives by writers as diverse as Samuel Delany Sarah Schulman Joyce Carol Oates Leslie Marmon Silko Paul Magrs J G Ballard Stevie Smith T C Boyle Joseph Conrad Poppy Z Brite and Will Self by film directors John Waters and Peter Greenaway playwrights Girish Karnad and Mahesh Dattani and body artist Gunter von Hagens the contributors to this volume scrutinize different implications of the ambivalent concept of the abject abjection Background Noise Brandon LaBelle,2006-01-01 The rise of a prominent auditory culture reveals the degree to which sound art is lending definition to the 21st Century And yet sound art still lacks related literature to compliment and expand the realm of practice Background Noise sets out an historical overview while at the same time shaping that history according to what sound art reveals the dynamics of art to operate spatially through media of reproduction and broadcast and in relation to the intensities of communication and its contextual framework Bloody Living Rhona Trench,2010 This book deals with the process of negotiation with the past in the present through the plays of Marina Carr The title frames the work connoting the path towards destruction and the sense of lethargy acquired along the way The book offers an in depth and extensive reading of Carr s plays In doing so it surveys some of the destructive issues represented in the works and provides a series of social and cultural contexts to which the concerns in the works are related Carr is best known for her trilogy The Mai Portia Coughlan and By the Bog of Cats and more recently Woman and Scarecrow The Cordelia Dream and Marble The plays are regularly concerned with notions of identity in the context of self destruction self estrangement and displacement This book applies Julia Kristeva s theory of abjection to Carr s plays in an effort to structure the loss the author identifies in the works Themes of memory history and myth are examined in the context of these concerns in provocative and confrontational ways The Change in Female Subjectivity in Women's Fiction Hasibe Ambarcıoğlu,2024-04-02 This book aims to provide readers with an inclusive reading of Kristevan theories on subjectivity focusing on semiotic and symbolic phases of the infant abjection melancholy love and revolution It presents three different types of novels from three well known female authors in order to study their female characters who are subjects in process trying to overcome their psychological maladies In each part different eras have been chosen to see how female subjectivity has changed throughout the Feminist Waves starting from the Victorian period until the Third Wave With its feminist stance this book is expected to appeal to the students researchers and academicians particularly those in

Mixed News Jay Black, 2013-12-02 This volume addresses some of the central issues of journalism today the nature and needs of the individual versus the nature and needs of the broader society theories of communitarianism versus Enlightenment liberalism independence versus interdependence vs co dependency negative versus positive freedoms Constitutional mandates versus marketplace mandates universal ethical issues versus situational and or professional values traditional values versus information age values ethics of management versus ethics of worker bees commitment and compassion versus detachment and professional distance conflicts of interest versus conflicted disinterest and talking to versus talking with All of these issues are discussed within the framework of the frenetic field of daily journalism a field that operates at a pace and under a set of professional standards that all but preclude careful systematic examinations of its own rituals and practices The explorations presented here not only advance the enterprise but also help student and professional observers to work through some of the most perplexing dilemmas to have faced the news media and public in recent times This lively volume showcases the differing opinions of journalistic experts on this significant contemporary issue in public life Unlike previous books and monographs which have tended toward unbridled enthusiasm about public journalism and trade press articles which have tended toward pessimism this book offers strong voices on several sides of this complex debate To help inform the debate a series of voices journalistic interviews with practitioners and critics of public journalism is interspersed throughout the text At the end of each essay a series of quotes from a wide variety of sources In other words augments each chapter with ideas and insights that support and contradict the points used by each chapter author

Reconstructing Contexts Robert D. Hume, 1999 This book attempts to justify and theorize old historicism defining archaeo historicism as a method by which scholars can reconstruct past context in order to apply it to the interpretation of works and events of that time If such reconstruction is to be more than wildly impressionistic it must be grounded in hard evidence handled according to clear rules In this intriguing and rigorous analysis Robert Hume identifies legitimate objects for reconstruction and proposes procedures and principles by which such interpretation may be pursued He then examines the failures of the same method which works only when adequate evidence can be found In particular Hume flatly denies the intellectual legitimacy of literary history as it is commonly practised and attempts to disentangle such history from the practice of historicism The final chapter is devoted to a cogent discussion of how archaeo historicism relates to various forms of contemporary theory Hume offers a profusion of examples of good and bad historicist reconstruction and interpretation drawing largely on English literature but also on American and other world literatures theatre history and music theory Although addressed primarily to literary critics this wide ranging and bold work will be of interest to historians and cultural critics as well
