Redesigning The American Dream The Future Of Housing Work And Family Life:

Redesigning the American Dream Dolores Hayden, 1986 The noted feminist theorist argues for a new conception of architectural design and outlines housing plans that will support new patterns of nurturing and opportunity for a range of individuals and families

Modern Housing for America Gail Radford, 2008-10-03 In an era when many decry the failures of federal housing programs this book introduces us to appealing but largely forgotten alternatives that existed when federal policies were first defined in the New Deal Led by Catherine Bauer supporters of the modern housing initiative argued that government should emphasize non commercial development of imaginatively designed compact neighborhoods with extensive parks and social services The book explores the question of how Americans might have responded to this option through case studies of experimental developments in Philadelphia and New York While defeated during the 1930s modern housing ideas suggest a variety of design and financial strategies that could contribute to solving the housing problems of our own time

Designing the Green Economy Brian Milani, 2000-09-20 Designing the Green Economy explores realistically and in detail the world s enormous potential for human and ecological regeneration It also explains why this potential has been suppressed or distorted by industrial institutions thus creating economic crisis growing inequality and environmental destruction The first half of the book looks at the challenge ecological change has represented to capitalism as well as capitalism s repressive response the waste economy as expressed in postwar Fordist capitalism and current trends toward a globalized economy But today the great divide between waste and green economies can be narrowed by emerging legal institutional and market approaches to production and environmentalism In Part II Milani explores the practical and theoretical implications of fully unleashing these new productive forces to create community based ecological economies Milani argues that neither sustainability social justice nor economic stability can be secured without comprehensive redesign of the economy along ecological principles It looks at key sectors of the economy including manufacturing energy and money and finance to illustrate how this redesign can and is taking place through both incremental grassroots initiatives and transformative politics

The Informal American City Vinit Mukhija, Anastasia Loukaitou-Sideris, 2014-05-09 Every day in American cities street vendors spread out their wares on sidewalks food trucks serve lunch from the curb and homeowners hold sales in their front yards examples of the wide range of informal activities that take place largely beyond the reach of government regulation This book examines the informal revolution in American urban life exploring a proliferating phenomenon often associated with developing countries rather than industrialized ones and often dismissed by planners and policy makers as marginal or even criminal The case studies and analysis in The Informal City challenge this narrow conception of informal urbanism The chapters look at informal urbanism across the country empirically and theoretically in cities that include Los Angeles Sacramento Seattle Portland Phoenix Kansas City Atlantic City and New York City They cover activities that range from unpermitted in law apartments and ad hoc support for homeless citizens to urban agriculture street vending and day labor The contributors consider the nature and underlying logic of these activities argue for a spatial understanding of informality and its varied settings and discuss regulatory planning and community responses Publisher's website American Dreams, Suburban Nightmares: Suburbia as a Narrative Space between Utopia and Dystopia in Contemporary American Cinema Melanie Smicek, 2014-10-01 The suburban landscape is inseparable from American culture Suburbia does not only relate to the geographical concept but also describes a cultural space incorporating people's hopes for a safe and prosperous life Suburbia marks a dynamic ideological space constantly influenced and recreated by both the events of everyday life and artistic discourse Fictional texts do not merely represent suburbia but also have a decisive role in the shaping of suburban spaces The widely held idealized image of suburbia evolved in the 1950s Today reality deviates from the concept of suburbs projected back then due to e.g. high divorce rates and an increase of crime Nevertheless the nostalgic view of the suburbs as the Promised Land has survived Postwar critics object to this perception considering the suburbs rather as depressing landscapes of mass consumption conformity and alienation This book exemplifies the dualistic representation of suburbs in contemporary American cinema by analyzing Pleasantville The Truman Show and American Beauty It examines how utopian concepts of suburbia are created culturally and psychologically in the films and how the underlying anxieties of the suburban experience visualized by the dystopian narratives challenge this ideal The Domestic Space Reader Chiara Briganti, Kathy Mezei, 2012-11-23 Tune in to HGTV visit your local bookstore's magazine section or flip to the Homes section of your weekend newspaper and it becomes clear domestic spaces play an immense role in our cultural consciousness The Domestic Space Reader addresses our collective fascination with houses and homes by providing the first comprehensive survey of the concept across time cultures and disciplines This pioneering anthology which is ideal for students and general readers features writing by key scholars thinkers and writers including Gaston Bachelard Mary Douglas Le Corbusier Homi Bhabha Henri Lefebvre Mrs Beeton Ma Thanegi Diana Fuss Beatriz Colomina and Edith Wharton Among the many engaging topics explored are the impact of domestic technologies on family life the relationship between religion and the home nomadic peoples and housing domestic spaces in art and literature and the history of the bedroom the kitchen and the bathroom The Domestic Space Reader demonstrates how discussions of domestic spaces can help us better understand our inner lives and challenge our perceptions of life in particular times and places Handbook of Research on Urban Politics and Policy in the United States Ronald K. Vogel, 1997-01-21 A comprehensive reference work which provides a way to access research on urban politics and policy in the United States Experts in the field guide readers through major controversies while evaluating and assessing the subfields of urban politics and policy Each chapter follows the same basic organization with topics such as methodological and theoretical issues current states of the field and directions for future research For students this work provides a starting place to guide them to the most important works in a particular subfield and a context to place their work in a larger body of knowledge For scholars it serves as a reference work for immediate familiarity with subfields of the discipline including classic studies and major research questions For urban policymakers or analysts the handbook provides a wealth of information and allows quick identification of existing academic knowledge and research relevant to the problem at hand Housing in America Marijoan Bull,Alina Gross,2018-03-22

Housing is a fundamental need and universal part of human living that shapes our lives in profound ways that go far beyond basic sheltering Where we live can determine our self image social status health and safety quality of public services access to jobs and transportation options But the reality for many in America is that housing choices are constrained costs are unaffordable discriminatory practices remain and physical features do not align with needs As a society we recognize the significant role housing plays in our overall quality of life and the stability of our communities We have made a national commitment to decent housing for all yet this promise remains unrealized Housing in America provides a broad overview of the field of housing with the objective of fostering an informed and engaged citizenry The evolution of housing norms and policy is explored in a historical context while underscoring the human and cultural dimensions of housing program choices Specific topics covered include why housing matters housing and culture housing frameworks and political ideologies housing and opportunities housing and the economy housing discrimination and housing affordability Readers will gain an understanding of the basic debates within the field of housing consider the motivations and performance of various interventions and critically examine persistent patterns of racial and class inequality With an exploration of theoretical frameworks short case studies reflective exercises and strong visuals this introductory text explores improving housing choices in America Technology in America Alan I. Marcus,Howard P. Segal,2018-04-05 Now in a thoroughly updated new edition this successful textbook surveys the history of technology in America from the 1600s to the 21st century Alan I

Marcus and Howard P Segal explore the effect society culture politics and economics have had upon technological advances and place the evolution of American technology within the broader context of the development of systems such as transportation and communications This unique book connects phenomena such as colonial printing presses with the American Revolution early photographs with the creation of an allegedly unique American character and high tech advances in biotechnology with a growing desire for individual autonomy This is an ideal resource for undergraduate and postgraduate students of the history of technology the history of science and American history Houses and Homes Barbara Howe,1997

This volume in the Nearby History series helps the reader document the history of a home The reader will learn to examine written records oral testimonies visual sources and the house s surroundings The author covers American housing patterns the individual characteristics of houses in different regions construction techniques and materials household technology and family life styles Houses and Homes is Volume 2 in The Nearby History Series Place, Identity and Everyday Life in a Globalizing World Harvey Perkins,David C. Thorns,2017-09-16 How do our everyday environments inform our activities routines and encounters In what way has globalization affected the sites in which we work relax and interact Is there still a place for local identity in a globalized age This book examines the ways in which we use local spaces and global processes to shape our identities Showing how enhanced tourism communication developments and increased diversity have effected the way we live every day the text also explains how individuals communities and cities react to such globalizing forces on a local level Each chapter unravels complex connections between place identity and global processes and carefully outlines what core theory can tell us about key contemporary debates including surveillance environmental change and sustainability Taking examples from urban and rural life shopping malls and virtual worlds the book encourages us to look at our immediate surroundings in a sociological light Highlighting the interdependence of space and society in a rapidly changing world this text is essential reading for those studying place and identity in Sociology Cultural Studies Geography Urban Studies and Rural Studies

Consuming Architecture Daniel Maudlin, Marcel Vellinga, 2014-03-05 Projecting forward in time from the processes of design and construction that are so often the focus of architectural discourse Consuming Architecture examines the variety of ways in which buildings are consumed after they have been produced focusing in particular on processes of occupation appropriation and interpretation Drawing on contributions by architects historians anthropologists literary critics artists film makers photographers and journalists it shows how the consumption of architecture is a dynamic and creative act that involves the creation and negotiation of meanings and values by different stakeholders and that can be expressed in different voices In so doing it challenges ideas of what constitutes architecture architectural discourse and architectural education how we understand and think about it and who can claim ownership of it Consuming Architecture is aimed at students in architectural education and will also be of interest to students and researchers from disciplines that deal with architecture in terms of consumption and material culture

Gendering Labor History Alice Kessler-Harris, 2007 The role of gender in the history of the working class world

The Challenge of Modernity Adelheid von Saldern, 2002 A collection of work in translation by the celebrated influential German historian Adelheid von Saldern

Home Michael Allen Fox, 2016-12-01 Thoughts and feelings about home traditionally provided people of all cultures with a firm sense of where they belonged and why But with the world rapidly changing many of our basic notions are becoming problematic Both internationally and within countries populations are constantly on the move seeking better opportunities and living conditions or an escape from violence and war In spite of or perhaps even because of these trends ideas about home continue to shape the way people everywhere frame an understanding of their lives In this Very Short Introduction Michael Allen Fox considers the complex meaning of home and the essential importance of place to human psychology Drawing on a wide array of international examples he discusses what dwelling is and the variety of dwellings Fox also looks at the politics of the concept of home homelessness refugeeism and migration and the future of home and argues that home remains a central organizing concept in human life
