At the Brink of Infinity James E. von der Heydt, 2008-04 From popular culture to politics to classic novels quintessentially American texts take their inspiration from the idea of infinity In the extraordinary literary century inaugurated by Ralph Waldo Emerson the lyric too seemed to encounter possibilities as limitless as the U S imagination This raises the question What happens when boundlessness is more than just a figure of speech Exploring new horizons is one thing but actually looking at the horizon itself is something altogether different In this carefully crafted analysis James von der Heydt shines a new light on the lyric craft of Emily Dickinson Robert Frost Elizabeth Bishop and James Merrill and considers how their seascape vision redefines poetry's purpose Emerson famously freed U S literature from its past and opened it up to vastness in the following century a succession of brilliant rigorous poets took the philosophical challenges of such freedom all too seriously Facing the unmarked horizon Emersonian poets capture and are captured by a stark astringent version of human beauty Their uncompromising visions of limitlessness reclaim infinity's proper legacy and give American poetry its edge Von der Heydt's book recovers the mystery of their world

Gelfant, 1995-01-27 Blanche H Gelfant's book Cross Cultural Reckonings both demonstrates and questions the applicability of postmodern cultural and literary theories to realistic texts to fiction and autobiographies valued for their truth Drawing together an unusual combination of Russian American and Canadian writers the various essays of this book provide new and original perspectives upon the puzzling issues of national identity of historical change and continuity of gender and the integrity of literary genres the boundaries between text and context and the underlying if overlooked conflicts between the postmodern critic's skepticism and a writer's belief in the transcendence of art and truth To avoid the contingencies inherent in binary comparisons the essays in this book seek a triadic form analogous to the triptych or polyptych of the visual arts Multi faceted non linear and open ended such a form might allow the academic essay to recover a waywardness that traces back to Montaigne cited in prefatory notes and to the etymological meaning of the essay as an exagium or weighing as an act of reckoning A study at once elegant erudite and personal Cross Cultural Reckonings reckons with writers of different backgrounds and reputation in whom Gelfant discovers surprising affinities among them the Russian writers Lydia Chukovskaya Natalya Baranskaya and Alexander Solzhenitsyn Ethel Wilson a highly reputed Canadian writer the famous cross cultural figure Emma Goldman and established as well as new or rediscovered American writers such as Willa Cather Saul Bellow Arlene Heyman and Meridel Le Sueur These writers are discussed singly and in comparative essays each of which is discrete and self contained while all interconnect and reflect upon each other as exemplary demonstrations of cross cultural literary criticism and the deferred final judgment that results from a weighing and reweighing of books

Whitman's Queer Children Catherine A. Davies, 2012-04-26 Davies examines the work of four of the most important twentieth century poets who have explored the epic tradition Some of the poems display an explicit concern with ideas of American nationhood while others emulate the formal ambitions and encyclopaedic scope of the epic poem The study undertakes extensive close readings of Hart Crane's The Bridge 1930 Allen Ginsberg's Howl 1956 and The Fall of America Poems of These States 1965-71 1972 James Merrill's The Changing Light at Sandover 1982 and John Ashbery's Flow Chart 1991 Although not primarily an account of a Whitmanian lineage this book considers Whitman's renegotiation of the dialectic between the public and the private as a context for the project of the homosexual epic arguing for the existence of a genealogy of epic poems that rethink the relationship between these two spheres If as Bakhtin suggests the job of epic is to accomplish the task of cultural national and political centralization of the verbal ideological world the idea of the homosexual epic fundamentally problematizes the traditional aims of the genre

Salem Story Bernard Rosenthal, 1993 Salem Story engages the story of the Salem witch trials by contrasting an analysis of the surviving primary documentation with the way events of 1692 have been mythologised by our culture Resisting the temptation to explain the Salem witch trials in the context of an inclusive theoretical framework the book examines a variety of individual motives that converged to precipitate the witch hunt Of the many assumptions about the Salem witch trials the most persistent is that they were instigated by a circle of hysterical girls Through an analysis of what actually happened by perusal of the primary materials with the close reading approach of a literary critic a different picture emerges one where hysteria inappropriately describes the logical rational strategies of accusation and confession followed by the accusers males and females alike
