

A young boy with light brown hair, wearing a white long-sleeved shirt and blue jeans, stands in front of a black metal gate. He is holding an open book and looking down at it. The gate is flanked by two brick pillars. To the left, a potted plant sits on top of the pillar. The background shows a brick wall and lush green trees under a blue sky with some clouds. The overall scene is peaceful and suggests a quiet moment of reading in a garden or courtyard.

Authors, Living and Deceased, from the Earliest Accounts to the Latter Half of the Nineteenth Century Samuel Austin Allibone, 1891 Central American Literatures as World Literature Sophie Esch, 2023-10-05 Challenging the notion that

Central American literature is a marginal space within Latin American literary and world literary production this collection positions and discusses Central American literature within the recently revived debates on world literature This groundbreaking volume draws on new scholarship on global transnational postcolonial translational and sociological perspectives on the region's literature expanding and challenging these debates by focusing on the heterogeneous literatures of Central America and its diasporas Contributors discuss poems testimonios novels and short stories in relation to center periphery cosmopolitan and Internationalist paradigms Central American Literatures as World Literature explores the multiple ways in which Central American literature goes beyond or against the confines of the nation state especially through the indigenous Black and migrant voices A Companion to Medieval English Literature and Culture, c.1350 - c.1500 Peter

Brown,2009-10-26 A Companion to Medieval English Literature and Culture c 1350 c 1500 challenges readers to think beyond a narrowly defined canon and conventional disciplinary boundaries A ground breaking collection of newly commissioned essays on medieval literature and culture Encourages students to think beyond a narrowly defined canon and conventional disciplinary boundaries Reflects the erosion of the traditional rigid boundary between medieval and early modern literature Stresses the importance of constructing contexts for reading literature Explores the extent to which medieval literature is in dialogue with other cultural products including the literature of other countries manuscripts and religion Includes close readings of frequently studied texts including texts by Chaucer Langland the Gawain poet and Hoccleve Confronts some of the controversies that exercise students of medieval literature such as those connected with literary theory love and chivalry and war Victorian Photography, Literature, and the Invention of Modern Memory Jennifer Green-Lewis,2020-08-07 Analysing a broad range of texts by inventors cultural critics photographers and novelists this book argues that Victorian photography ultimately defined the concept of memory for generations to come including our own The book will be of interest to students of Victorian and modernist literature visual culture and intellectual history as well as scholars working within the emerging field of research at the intersection of photographic and literary studies

Readings in Literature Franklin B. Dyer,Mary J. Brady,1919 Cultural Encounters in Translated Children's Literature Helen Frank,2014-04-08 Cultural Encounters in Translated Children s Literature offers a detailed and innovative model of analysis for examining the complexities of translating children s literature and sheds light on the interpretive choices at work in moving texts from one culture to another The core of the study addresses the issue of how images of a nation locale or country are constructed in translated children s literature with the translation of Australian children s fiction into French serving as a case study Issues examined include the selection of books for translation the relationship between children s books and the national and international publishing industry the packaging of translations and the importance of titles blurbs and covers the linguistic and stylistic features specific to translating for children intertextual references the function of the translation in the target culture didactic and pedagogical aims euphemistic language and explicitation and literariness in translated texts The findings of the case study suggest that the most common constructs of Australia in French translations reveal a preponderance of traditional Eurocentric signifiers that identify Australia with the outback the antipodes the exotic the wild the unknown the void the end of the world the young and innocent nation and the Far West Contemporary signifiers that construct Australia as urban multicultural Aboriginal worldly and inharmonious are seriously under represented The study also shows that French translations are conventional conservative and didactic showing preference for an exotic rather than local specificity with systematic manipulation of Australian referents betraying a perception of Australia as antipodean rural exoticism The significance of the study lies in underscoring the manner in which a given culture is constructed in another cultural milieu especially through translated children s literature Better Books!
