Recent Social Trends in West Germany, 1960-1990 Wolfgang Glatzer, Karl Otto Hondrich, 1992-08-21 The thirty year period examined was characterized in West Germany by a number of inconsistent trends While income and consumption levels increased as part of a silent revolution poverty also increased especially during the 1980s People's lifestyles changed with less time spent on formal employment and more on household production and recreation Individualization and pluralization began to dissolve the class structure and social movements such as feminism and environmentalism gained some influence Although hostility toward foreigners did not disappear de facto immigrants were increasingly integrated into society Satisfaction with life reached a generally high and stable level although some people expressed an unanticipated degree of boredom The legitimacy of the political system was not affected by conflicts about income distribution and changing values and cooperation grew among government business and traditional and emerging intermediate groups Special chapters have been authored by Johann Behrens Mathias B s Bernhard Engel Renate Hornung Draus Heiner Meulemann Claudia Koch Arzberger J rgen Kohl Jakob Schissler J rgen Schumacher and Karin Seibel

Reinventing Youth Ministry (Again) Wayne Rice, 2010-09-11 Reflecting on four decade long a career marked by wild social turbulence and remarkably creative and innovative ministry including game changing initiatives such as Youth Specialties and the Wittenburg Door Wayne Rice turns his eye toward those who are to come What does the future of youth require of the future of youth ministry For three dimensional people at the greatest cusp of change in their lives set against a backdrop of a constantly changing world it requires youth parents congregations and youth workers alike to undergird the activities of their ministry with a commitment to reality to remember that the gospel is always ultimately a matter of a flesh and blood God pouring his life into his flesh and blood children      Child Marriage, Rights and Choice Hoko Horii, 2021-11-18

This book addresses the issue of agency in relation to child marriage. In international campaigns against child marriage there is a puzzle of agency. While international human rights institutions celebrate girls exercise of their agency not to marry they do not recognize their agency to marry. Child marriage usually defined as any formal marriage or informal union where one or both of the parties are under 18 years of age is normally considered as forced which is to say that it is assumed that are not capable of consenting to marriage. This book however re-examines this assumption through a detailed socio-legal examination of child marriage in Indonesia. Eliciting the multiple competing frameworks according to which child marriage takes place the book considers the complex reasons why children marry. Structural explanations such as lack of opportunities and oppressive social structures are important but not exhaustive explanations. Exploring the subjective reasons by listening to children's perspectives their stories show that many of them decide to marry for love, desire to belong to the community and for new opportunities and hopes. The book then demonstrates how the child marriage framework and indeed the human rights framework in general is constructed on too narrow a vision of human agency. One that cannot but fail to respect and promote the agency of all regardless of gender, race, religion and age. This book will be of interest to scholars, students and practitioners in the areas of children's rights, legal anthropology and socio-legal studies.
