Blinkhorn, 2004 The new millennium has recently dawned bringing with it a series of catastrophic events that were set in motion by a single episode The events seem to coincide with the prediction of the Sleeping Prophet Edgar Cayce Only a male volcanologist named Paul and a sexy French lady named Loren can prevent the deaths of millions of people on the west coast of North America as the devastation begins World leaders are depending on the expertise of these two scientists to guide them through while some military experts remain sceptical He is the best volcanologist in the world banished to Canada from the United States Geological Survey by his wife's lover She is a brilliant sexy seismologist that every man wants but only Paul can possess Paul hired her and promoted her but never really understood her magnetic attraction As they fall in love the world realizes that they cannot survive without them Follow the lives of Paul and Loren through North America's worst disaster since the ice age while discovering how they save the world and each other Paul's ex-wife attempts to save herself through murder only to lose her dignity to another A sceptical American President becomes their closest friend while his popularity soars from their predictions From Portland to the South Pacific Paul and Loren continue to save Americans while meddling young women flirt with danger The duo is in the right location at the right time to save the people but prevent the cataclysmic events In the end they are rewarded for their efforts by a grateful American President but that's when the reader learns that this is only the beginning of the story Ring of Fire, Resource Management Plan ,2005

Wildland Fire Behaviour Mark A. Finney,Sara S. McAllister,Jason M. Forthofer,Torben P. Grumstrup,2021-11 Wildland fires have an irreplaceable role in sustaining many of our forests shrublands and grasslands They can be used as controlled burns or occur as free burning wildfires and can sometimes be dangerous and destructive to fauna human communities and natural resources Through scientific understanding of their behaviour we can develop the tools to reliably use and manage fires across landscapes in ways that are compatible with the constraints of modern society while benefiting the ecosystems The science of wildland fire is incomplete however Even the simplest fire behaviours how fast they spread how long they burn and how large they get arise from a dynamical system of physical processes interacting in unexplored ways with heterogeneous biological ecological and meteorological factors across many scales of time and space The physics of heat transfer combustion and ignition for example operate in all fires at millimetre and millisecond scales but wildfires can become conflagrations that burn for months and exceed millions of hectares Wildland Fire Behaviour Dynamics Principles and Processes examines what is known and unknown about wildfire behaviours The authors introduce fire as a dynamical system along with traditional steady state concepts They then break down the system into its primary physical components describe how they depend upon environmental factors and explore system dynamics by constructing and exercising a nonlinear model The limits of modelling and knowledge are discussed throughout but emphasised by review of large fire behaviours Advancing knowledge of fire behaviours will require a multidisciplinary approach and rely on quality
