Ringling In The Common Love Of Good:

Ringling in the Common Love of Good Kerry Badgley, 2000 Badgley archivist National Archives of Canada explores the rise and fall of the United Farmers of Ontario UFO a party that won a majority in the 1919 provincial election and formed a ruling coalition with the Independent Labor Party The author challenges views that the UFO was a group of impatient liberals or self interested commodity producers and instead argues that the UFO developed alternative economic political and social visions that led to internal struggles ushering in the demise of a movement fighting for democratic change Canadian card order number C99 9010468 Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Ringling in the Common Love of Good Kerry Badgely, 2000-02-24 By the mid 1920s the UFO had gone into a period of decline from which it never recovered The promise of equality hoped for by UFWO members never materialized and the UFCC once a key component in the development of an alternative vision began to focus more on profits than on politics In Ringling in the Common Love of Good Kerry Badgley explores both the rise and the fall of the UFO focusing on the Ontario counties of Lambton Simcoe and Lanark He challenges the liberal capitalist interpretation that the movement was nothing more than a group of impatient Liberals as well as the Marxist view that the UFO consisted of self interested independent commodity producers Badgley argues that as the UFO broke free from hegemonic forces it developed alternative economic political and social visions but that it was these same forces combined with internal struggles and a conservative leadership that ultimately resulted in the decline of the movement as a vehicle for democratic change in Ontario Goucher College
