Jackson, 2022-08-01 Originally published in 1986 Politics and Government in African States 1960 1985 deals with the politics of sub Saharan African states since independence Each chapter considers the formal structure of government at the time of independence and traces the subsequent changes Each chapter also describes the development of the state machinery the civil service the parastatals defence and police forces party structure the political opposition and trade unions The economics of African states are dealt with insofar as they affect politics and government Africans John Iliffe,1995-08-25 In a vast and all embracing study of Africa from the origins of mankind to the South African general election of 1994 John Iliffe refocuses African history on the peopling of an environmentally hostile continent Africans have been pioneers struggling against disease and nature and their social economic and political institutions have been designed to ensure survival and maximise numbers These institutions enabled them to survive the slave trade and colonial invasion but in the context of medical progress and other twentieth century innovations the same institutions have bred the most rapid population growth the world has ever seen This demographic growth has lain behind the collapse of colonial rule the disintegration of Apartheid and the instability of contemporary nations The history of the continent is thus a single story binding living Africans to their earliest human ancestors Political Culture and Nationalism in Malawi Joey Power,2010 Malawi s political culture is examined as it emerged in the colonial and early post colonial periods particularly in light of anti colonial protest Inspired by the events leading up to the overthrow of Dr Hastings Kamuzu Banda s Life Presidency this book explores the deep logic of Malawi s political culture as it emerged in the colonial and early post colonial periods It draws on archival sources from three continents and oral testimonies gathered over a ten year period provided by those who lived these events Power narrates how anti colonial protest was made relevant to the African majority through the painstaking engagement of politicians in local grievances and struggles which they then linked to the fight against white settler domination in the guise of the Central African Federation She also explores how Dr Banda leader of independent Malawi for thirty years the Nyasaland African Congress and its successor the Malawi Congress Party functioned within this political culture and how the MCP became a formidable political machine Central to this process was the deployment of women and youth to cut across parochial politics and consolidate a broad base of support No less important was the deliberate manipulation of history and the use of rumor and innuendo symbol and pageantry persecution and reward It was this mix that made people both accept and reject the MCP regime sometimes simultaneously Joey Power is Professor of History at Ryerson University Toronto Ontario
