Rise Of The Silver Queen:

Eben Smith David Forsyth,2021-09-21 David Forsyth recounts the life of Eben Smith an integral but little known figure in Colorado mining history Smith was one of the many fortune seekers who traveled to California during the gold rush and one of the few who found what he sought He moved to Colorado in 1860 with business partner Jerome Chaffee and over the next forty six years was involved in mining in nearly every major camp in the state from Central City to Cripple Creek and in the development of mines such as the Bobtail Little Jonny and Victor He was eulogized by the Denver Post and Denver Times as the dean of mining in Colorado The mining teams Smith formed with Chaffee and with industrialist David Moffat were among the most successful and respected in Colorado and many in the state held Smith in high regard Yet despite the credit he received during his lifetime for establishing Colorado s mining industry Smith has not received much attention from historians perhaps because he was content to leave public facing duties to his partners while he concerned himself with managing mine operations From Smith s early years and his labor in the mines to his rise to prominence as an investor and developer Forsyth shows how Smith used the mining and milling knowledge he acquired in California to become a leader in technological innovation in Colorado s mining industry A Colorado History Carl Ubbelohde,Maxine Benson,Duane A. Remembering Ludlow but Forgetting the Columbine Leigh Campbell-Hale, 2023-02-15 Mining the American West Remembering Ludlow but Forgetting the Columbine examines the causes context and legacies of the 1927 Columbine Massacre in relation to the history of labor organizing and coal mining in both Colorado and the United States While historians have written prolifically about the 1914 Ludlow Massacre there has been a lack of attention to the violent event remembered now as the Columbine Massacre in which police shot and killed six striking coal miners and wounded sixty more protestors during the 1927 1928 Colorado Coal Strike even though its aftermath exerted far more influence upon subsequent national labor policies This volume is a comparative biography of three key participants before during and after the strike A S Embree the IWW strike leader Josephine Roche the owner of the coal mine property where the Columbine Massacre took place and Powers Hapgood who came to work for Roche four months after she signed the 1928 United Mine Worker s contract The author demonstrates the significance of this event to national debates about labor during the period as well as changes and continuities in labor history starting in the progressive era and continuing with 1930s New Deal labor policies and through the 1980s This examination of the 1927 1928 Colorado Coal Strike reorients understandings of labor history from the 1920s through the 1960s and the construction of public memory and forgetting surrounding those events Remembering Ludlow but Forgetting the Columbine appeals to academic and general readers interested in Colorado history labor history mining history gender studies memory and historiography Merchant Vessels of the United States ,1959
