Queen of the Court Madeleine Blais, 2023-08-15 From the Pulitzer Prize winning journalist Madeleine Blais the dramatic and colorful story of legendary tennis star and international celebrity Alice Marble In August 1939 Alice Marble graced the cover of Life magazine photographed by the famed Alfred Eisenstaedt She was a glamorous worldwide celebrity having that year won singles women's doubles and mixed doubles tennis titles at both Wimbledon and the US Open then an unprecedented feat Yet today one of America's greatest female athletes and most charismatic characters is largely forgotten Queen of the Court places her back on center stage Born in 1913 Marble grew up in San Francisco her favorite sport baseball Given a tennis racket at age 13 she took to the sport immediately rising to the top with a powerful aggressive serve and volley style unseen in women's tennis A champion at the height of her fame in the late 1930s she also designed a clothing line in the off season and sang as a performer in the Sert Room of the Waldorf Astoria Hotel in New York to rave reviews World War II derailed her amateur tennis career but her life off the court was if anything even more eventful She wrote a series of short books about famous women She turned professional and joined a pro tour during the War entertaining and inspiring soldiers and civilians alike Ever glamorous and connected she had a part in the 1952 Tracy and Hepburn movie Pat and Mike and she played tennis with the likes of Charlie Chaplin Marlene Dietrich and her great friends Clark Gable and Carole Lombard However perhaps her greatest legacy lies in her successful efforts working largely alone to persuade the all white US Lawn Tennis Association to change its policy and allow African American star Althea Gibson to compete for the US championship in 1950 thereby breaking tennis's color barrier In two memoirs Marble also showed herself to be an at times unreliable narrator of her own life which Madeleine Blais navigates skillfully especially Marble's dramatic claims of having been a spy during World War II In Queen of the Court the author of the bestselling In These Girls Hope Is a Muscle recaptures a glittering life story

Appropriations,2006      The Book of Agreement Stewart Levine,2010-06 Teaches a fundamental life skill crafting mutually satisfying agreements Describes ten essential elements for designing agreements focused on achieving results rather than providing remedies for what might go wrong a more effective alternative to the traditional legal adversarial approach Includes thirty model agreements for business personal and professional uses Crafting agreements with others is a fundamental life skill Unfortunately we were never taught how to do it The agreements most people make are incomplete and ineffective they usually focus on protecting against what might go wrong instead of figuring out how to make things go right The Book of Agreement offers a new approach Stewart Levine demonstrates the superiority of agreements for results versus agreements for protection and outlines ten principles for creating agreements that explicitly articulate desired outcomes and provide a roadmap to achieving them He includes over thirty specific templates that can be used to create this new type of agreement for results in a variety of organizational and personal contexts      Cognitive Approaches to Tense, Aspect, and Epistemic Modality Adeline Patard, Frank Brisard,2011 This volume addresses problems of semantics regarding the analysis of tense and aspect TA markers in a variety of languages including Arabic Croatian English French German Russian Thai and Turkish Its main interest goes out to epistemic uses of such markers whereby epistemic modality is understood as indicating a degree of compatibility between the modal world and the factual world Declerck All contributions moreover tackle these problems from a more or less cognitive point of view with some of them insisting on the need to provide a unifying explanation for all usage types temporal and non temporal and all of them accepting the premise that the semantics of TA categories essentially refers to subjective rather than objective concerns The volume also represents one of the first attempts to gather accounts of TA marking in various languages that are explicitly set within the framework of Cognitive Grammar Ultimately this volume aims to contribute to establishing an awareness that modal meaning elements are directly relevant to the analysis of the grammar of time      Three Rims and a Hubcap Gentile,2016-03-29 It is impossible to judge individuals who are not like us because each persons view is different Vantage point is not based on right or wrong but on survival or extensions In this work of fiction the seat of evil shines brightest at night      PeopleSmart Freda Hansburg,2000 It turns out that when you become savvy about other people or people smart you become smarter about yourself as well That s the hidden practical message in Mel Silberman and Freda Hansburg s intelligent new book They bring their considerable expertise and hands on experience to bear in these lessons on building interpersonal skills Simply laid out yet well written and concise the book walks you through the sets of skills you need to master As you learn to understand and apply them you gradually sense the impact these skills can have on your ability to lead and excel getAbstract recommends this book to those who are interested in improving their people skills and remember you re a people too      PeopleSmart Mel Silberman,2000-06-12 Two psychologists explain the benefits of refining enhancing and applying people skills in professional and personal situations Includes a five step plan to develop and practice skills in various settings      The last Dawn Shyam

Kumar,2019-09-12 Raj and Anjali meet and develop mutual respect and love for each other on the very first meeting in the office and find in each other as their soul mate in the days to come Raj owes Anjali his life when she saves him from drowning She becomes more adorable for him He wants to marry her But his family does not agree He wants to disassociate himself with his family to make Anjali his life partner But she sacrificing her own love for Raj persuades him not to go against the wishes of his parents and instead she offers her assistance in selecting a suitable girl for him recommended by his family members Raj unwillingly accepts the choice of his family and finally marries a girl whom he has never met before and finds himself at crossroads to balance his life between his love and responsibilities It takes a long time for him to negotiate with life without his dream girl Anjali Tragedies in the family and the increasing pressure at home widen the breach between the two lovebirds It creates feelings of bitterness and betrayal between the two Anjali not only suffers the loss of all her near and dear ones but also feels betrayed by those for whom she has sacrificed her own peace of mind to make their life comfortable and on whom she desires to depend upon during grey years of her life She finds herself all alone and no one to take care of her As her age is declining she needs some social security and decides to look for a life partner She seeks the help of Raj and ultimately chooses a life companion a widower with grown up children for herself and one fine morning she goes with a stranger to spend her life with leaving behind her past and breaking all her promises made to Raj that her love for him would never change Due to added responsibilities of the new family she finds difficult to cope up with the work pressure at the office and is forced to give up the job and leave the city as well as her soul mate for good Luck strikes again Raj and Anjali establish contact after a long interval But it does not last long She with her spouse returns to start business in the city Their business fails and they leave the city never to return Raj is clueless about her whereabouts Raj at the fag years of his life and still madly in love with Anjali cannot tolerate the absence of his loved one and finds himself irreconcilable He loses the desire to live and tries to end his life But life does not oblige him He hopes to meet one day his Anjali in whom he had found a sublime love inspiration and completeness of life He has come across a number of women in his life but no one could surpass that ordinary looking and dark complexioned lady called Anjali His love for her just refuses to wither with age Finally his hopes start fading like his age But his life lingers on without his love      On Replacement Jean Owen,Naomi

Segal,2018-06-05 This book is an interdisciplinary study of the human drama of replacement Is one s irreplaceability dependent on surrounding oneself by a replication of others Is love intrinsically repetitious or built on a fantasy of uniqueness The sense that a person s value is blotted out if someone takes their place can be seen in the serial monogamy of our age and in the lives of replacement children children born into a family that has recently lost a child whom they may even be named after The book investigates various forms of replacement including AI and doubling incest and bedtricks imposters and revenants human rights and surrogacy and intertextuality and adaptation The authors highlight the emotions of betrayal jealousy and desire both within and across generations On Replacement consists of 24 essays divided into seven sections
