Sounding Objects Carla Zecher, 2007-12-15 Often abstracted by the aesthetic implications of music itself musical instruments can be seen as physical signifiers apart from the music that they produce In Sounding Objects Carla Zecher studies the representation of musical instruments in French Renaissance poetry and art arguing that the efficacy of these material objects as literary and pictorial images was derived from their physical characteristics and acoustic properties as well as from their aesthetic product Sounding Objects is concerned with ways in which musical culture provided poets with a rich nuanced vocabulary for reflecting on their own art and its roles in courtly life the civic arena and salon society Poets not only depicted the world of musical practice but also appropriated it using musical instruments figuratively to establish their literary identities Drawing on music treatises and archival sources as well as poems paintings and engravings this unique study aims to enrich our understanding of the interplay of poetry music and art in this period and highlights the importance of musical materiality to Renaissance culture Electronic Format Disclaimer Images removed at the request of the rights holder

The Baroque Clarinet and Chalumeau Albert R. Rice, 2020 The first edition of Albert R Rice's The Baroque Clarinet is widely considered the authoritative text on the European clarinet during the first half of the eighteenth century Since its publication in 1992 its conclusions have influenced the approaches of musicologists instrument historians and clarinet performers Twenty eight years later Rice has updated his renowned study in a second edition with new chapters on chalumeau and clarinet music insights on newly found instruments and additional material on the Baroque clarinet in society Expanding the volume to include the chalumeau close cousin and predecessor to the clarinet Rice draws on
