Looking At Cuba Essays On Culture And Civil Society:

Looking at Cuba Rafael Hernández Rodríguez, 2003 Rafael Hernandez one of the most visible intellectuals living and writing in Cuba today addresses such controversies as the current social diversity brought about by socialist policies the presence of well educated new generations and the emergence of growing inequality that accompanied and has followed the crisis of the 1990s He also discusses the role played by Fidel Castro in this transitional period Cuban foreign relations the revival of religious practices on the island the new debate over racial prejudice and discrimination and the new environment for artistic freedom of expression BOOK JACKET The Quality of Home Runs Thomas F. Castro Mariño, Ronald W. Pruessen, 2012-08-15 In the years since the Cuban Revolution in 1959 eleven men have served as president of the United States arguably the most powerful nation on earth Yet none of them has been able to effect any significant change in the stalemate between the United States and Cuba its closest neighbor not to share a land border Fifty Years of Revolution features contributions from an international Who's Who gallery of leading scholars The volume adopts a uniquely nonpartisan attitude a departure from this topic's generally divisive nature Emerging from a series of meetings conference panels and lectures the book coheres more strongly than the typical essay collection Organized to analyze not describe Cuba's foreign relations the work examines sanctions the embargo regime change Guantanamo the exile community and more Drawing from personal experiences as well as recently declassified documents these essays update summarize and explain one of the prickliest political issues in the Western Hemisphere today Culture and the Cuban State Yvon Grenier, 2017-11-08 Culture and the Cuban State examines the politics of culture in communist Cuba It focuses on cultural policy censorship and the political participation of artists writers and academics such as Tania Bruguera Jesús Díaz Rafael Hernández Kcho Reynier Leyva Novo Leonardo Padura and Jos Toirac The cultural field is important for the reproduction of the regime in place given its pretense and ambition to be eternally revolutionary and to lead a genuine cultural revolution Cultural actors must be mobilized and handled with care given their presumed disposition to speak their mind and to cherish their autonomy This book argues that cultural actors also seek recognition by the main for a long time the only sponsor and patron of the art in Cuba the curator state The curator state is also a gatekeeper state arbitrarily and selectively opening and closing the space for public expression and for access to foreign currencies and the global market The time when everything was either mandatory or forbidden is over in Cuba The regime seems to have learned from egregious mistakes that led to a massive exodus of artists writers and academics In a country where things change so everything could stay the same the controlled opening in the cultural field playing on the actors ambition and fear illuminates a broader phenomenon the evolving rules of the political game in the longest standing dictatorship of the hemisphere Sustainable Urban
