

The Lookout

by Robert Girvan

The woods were dark, but it was day.
The brush grew dense toward the edge.
You seemed well-enough to lead.
That Lookout had to be close-by.

We stopped and stood silently as high branches cracked in the cold.
There, falling sharply between rocks,
the path to the Lookout plunged.

“We went down there when they were young,”
you said lightly, while peering down.
“It was easier then,” I said.
You stared at the unknown blackness.

Stricken, you spoke: “I can’t do it.”
The sweep of blue was not for us.
You rushed ahead, while I looked down.
Leaves joined rock, like love with death.

Excerpt from The Lookout and Other Poems The earth has voices low and meek For each who in its pathway strays But accents yet more gently speak In language that through nature plays Than lightest warbling of a bird Or whisper of a leafy tree A softer utterance is heard A breath inbreathed o'er land and sea Who walks in time's events and cares His thought with deep concerns replete Perceives it floating on the airs And deems no other sound so sweet The heart receives in solemn pause The crowning sentiment it brings Love's wording of life's inward cause The message of the soul of things About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
