Analysis of Lord Byron's Poem Well! Thou Art Happy Sarah Ruhnau, 2010-10 Essay from the year 2010 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade 1-3 Ruhr University of Bochum Englisch Seminar course Romantic Poetry language English abstract In the following essay I would like to analyse one of Lord Byron's earlier poems namely Well Thou art happy which was written in November 1808 and thus belongs to the epoch of romanticism The poem involves a poetic speaker who laments a love relationship to a woman that has come to an end In his sadness he is torn between the love he still feels and the jealousy that occurs inside of him when he is concerned with his beloved's husband or their child. However, he is aware of the fact that it is necessary for him to get over the end of the relationship. As mentioned above, Well Thou art happy belongs to Byron's early poems as it was written in 1808 and in general, Byron's poems written before 1809 are considered as early poems of Marchand 15. Apart from that, the poem itself includes some hints which point out its early stage. In line 22, the poetic speaker talks about his boyish flame and in line 33, he describes his early dream of Byron 83. Hence, the poetic speaker seems to be a fairly young man who is not very experienced yet. This suits the typical characteristic of Byron's early poems. Marchand calls it a juvenile verse that describes youthful innocence as well as the fictions of flimsy romance of Marchand 15. f. Before I will begin to analyse the poem, I will start with a subchapter about its formal part.
