Matupit Land Politics And Change Among The Tolai Of New Britain:

Matupit Arnold Leonard Epstein, 1969      Anthropos and the Material Penny Harvey, Christian Krohn-Hansen, Knut G. Nustad, 2019-05-09 The destructive effects of modern industrial societies have shaped the planet in such profound ways that many argue for the existence of a new geological epoch called the Anthropocene This claim brings into relief a set of challenges that have deep implications for how relations between the human the material and the political affect contemporary social worlds The contributors to Anthropos and the Material examine these challenges by questioning and complicating long held understandings of the divide between humans and things They present ethnographic case studies from across the globe addressing myriad topics that range from labor economics and colonialism to technology culture the environment agency and diversity In foregrounding the importance of connecting natural and social histories the instability and intangibility of the material and the ways in which the lively encounters between the human and the nonhuman challenge conceptions of liberal humanism the contributors point to new understandings of the capacities of people and things to act transform and adapt to a changing world      Urban Food Marketing and Third World Rural Development

T. Scarlett Epstein, 2019-07-19 Originally published in 1982 This book explores the nature of food marketing in Third World countries Economic development invariably involves a transition from the traditional subsistence and or barter economics to increasing participation in cash transactions In many less developed countries this transition has been facilitated by enterprising middlemen who provide the link between dispersed small satellite producers and urban buyers In spite of these developments producer seller markets still operate in numerous countries particularly the newly independent Pacific island states and large parts of Africa and Asia This book examines the phenomenon of producer seller markets basing the study on the situation in New Guinea The author then uses this data to construct theoretical propositions for the marketing of various food items and examines the producer seller market arguing that the lack of inter regional economic interdependence is likely to promote secessionary movements particularly in states where two or more ethnic groups exist      The Garland Encyclopedia of World Music J.W. Love, Adrienne Kaeppler, 2017-09-25 In the most comprehensive collection of information ever published on the performing arts of Oceania 168 scholars in thirty countries and on every continent describe the music of the indigenous peoples of Australia New Guinea Melanesia Micronesia and Polynesia in forty in depth articles      The Social Consequences of Resettlement Elizabeth Colson, University of Zambia. Institute for African Studies, 1971

Paideuma Bd.52 / Jahrgang 2006 ,      Matupit A. L. Epstein, 2023-11-15 This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1969      Unstable Images Brenda Johnson Clay, 2005-07-31 The subject of colonialism encompasses a multitude of analytic concerns about the nature and extent of political controls economic inequalities and social hierarchies Underlying the varied conditions of power and subordination are the diverse sometimes contested representations of human difference that motivate support or question colonial practices and projects Unstable Images concentrates a critical gaze on this discursive side of colonialism through close readings of a series of Western texts on the people of New Ireland from the 1870s to the 1930s when the status of the New Ireland New Britain region changed from precolonial to German control and finally to a League of Nations mandated Australian administration The Psychoanalytic Study of Society, V. 15 L. Bryce Boyer, Simon A.

Grolnick, 2019-01-04 Volume 15 features Melford Spiro's Culture and Human Nature and The internalization of Burmese Gender Identity along with an interview of Spiro by B Kilbourne and S Bolle Additional topics include children's fantasy life in Papua New Guinea F Poole a psychoanthropological approach to Kagwahiv food taboos W Kracke an ethnological and Rorschach study of three groups of Australian aborigines R Boyer et al a consideration of the trickster in relation to issues of sublimation and psychosocial development and a review of Bettelheim's contribution to anthropology R Paul Papua New Guinea Conservation Needs Assessment, 1993 Tribal Ethnography, Customary Law, and Change K. S. Singh, 1993

Kastom, property and ideology Siobhan McDonnell, Matthew Allen, Colin Filer, 2017-03-22 The relationship between customary land tenure and modern forms of landed property has been a major political issue in the Spearhead states of Melanesia since the late colonial period and is even more pressing today as the region is subject to its own version of what is described in the international literature as a new land rush or land grab in developing countries This volume aims to test the application of one particular theoretical framework to the Melanesian version of this phenomenon which is the framework put forward by Derek Hall Philip Hirsch and Tania Murray Li in their 2011 book Powers of Exclusion Land Dilemmas in Southeast Asia Since that framework emerged from studies of the agrarian transition in Southeast Asia the key question addressed in this volume is whether land transformations in Melanesia are proceeding in a similar direction or whether they take a somewhat different form because of the particular nature of Melanesian political economies or social institutions The contributors to this volume all deal with this question from the point of view of their own direct engagement with different aspects of the land policy process in particular countries Aside from discussion of the agrarian transition in Melanesia particular attention is also paid to the growing problem of land access in urban areas and the gendered nature of landed property relations in this region Return to Volcano Town R. Wally Johnson, Neville A. Threlfall, 2023-10-24 Wally Johnson and Neville Threlfall re-examine the explosive volcanic eruptions that in 1937-43 killed more than 500 people in the Rabaul area of East New Britain Papua New Guinea They reassess this disaster in light of the prodigious amount of new scientific and disaster management work that has been undertaken there since about 1971 when strong tectonic earthquakes shook the area Comparisons are made in particular with volcanic eruptions in 1994-2014 when half of Rabaul town was destroyed and then abandoned A striking feature of historical eruptive periods at Rabaul is the near simultaneous activity at Vulcan and

Tavurvur volcanoes on either side of Rabaul Harbour Such rare twin eruptions are interpreted to be the result of a common magma reservoir beneath the harbour This interpretation has implications for ongoing hazard and risk assessments and for volcano monitoring in the area

Identity and Affect John R. Campbell, Alan Rew, 1999-02-20 When forces of globalisation and local culture converge distinctive social habitats are created Drawing on case studies of South Asian East African Melanesian and European societies Identity and Affect provides a contextual analysis of the formation and expression of local identities and of the affective self constitution of social agents The contributors examine in particular the growing fragmentation of social relations in these areas and the impact this is having on individuals and communities who forced into an increasingly outward orientation are initiating processes of cultural redefinition and social realignment The different effects of colonialism on identity formation are examined in studies of communalism in Sri Lanka untouchables in India cargo cults in New Guinea and the substitution of food exchange for cannibalism in Kaluana Focusing on Italians in London and south Asians in East Africa the formation and experience of belonging to cultural diaspora is explored from the perspective of the individual and the social collectivity The authors conclude with an exploration of some of the defining experiences of modernity specifically how individuals in industrial capitalist societies have come to see their identity as dependent on modern forms of industrial public sector work

The Quest for the Good Life in Precarious Times Chris Gregory, Jon Altman, 2018-04-01 The study of the quest for the good life and the morality and value it presupposes is not new To the contrary this is an ancient issue its intellectual history can be traced back to Aristotle In anthropology the study of morality and value has always been a central concern despite the claim of some scholars that the recent upsurge of interest in these issues is new What is novel is how scholars in many disciplines are posing the value question in new ways The global economic alignments of the present pose many political moral and theoretical questions but the central issue the essays in this collection address is how do relatively poor people of the Australia Pacific region survive in current precarious times In looking to answer this question contributors directly engage the values and concepts of their interlocutors At a time when understanding local implications of global processes is taking on new urgency these essays bring finely honed anthropological perspectives to matters of universal human concern they offer radical empirical critique based on intensive fieldwork that will be of great interest to those seeking to comprehend the bigger picture

Protection of Intellectual, Biological and Cultural Property in Papua New Guinea Kathy Whimp, Mark Busse, 2013-03-01 Intellectual biological and cultural property rights are a powerful and debatable topic They offer the possibility for protection of rights to intangible resources including the products of knowledge and creativity The forces of globalisation have made this subject of immediate international concern Struggles for ownership of intellectual property occur between and within local and global arenas This book examines important questions which Papua New Guinea must ask in the development of intellectual property legislation The chapters are written by specialists in the fields of medicine law the environment music genetics and traditional cultural knowledge The wise and creative protection of intellectual biological and cultural property is important if Papua New Guinea is to successfully define and realise its future

Kinship in Action Andrew Strathern, Pamela J Stewart, 2015-07-02 For courses in Social Organization Kinship and Cultural Ecology Kinship has made a come back in Anthropology Not only is there a line of noted general introductory works and readers in the topic but theoretical discussions have been stimulated both by technological changes in mechanisms of reproduction and by reconsiderations of how to define kinship in the most productive ways for cross cultural comparisons In addition kinship studies have moved away from the minutiae of kin terminological systems and the kinship algebra often associated with these to the broader analysis of processes historical changes and fundamental cultural meanings in which kin relationships are implicated In this changed and changing context both Andrew Strathern and Pamela J Stewart both of the University of Pittsburgh bring together a number of interests and concerns in order to provide pointers for students as well as scholars in this field of study Taking an explicitly processual approach the authors examine definitions of terms such as kinship itself approach the topic in a way that is invariably ethnographic and deploy materials from field areas where they themselves have worked

Karavar Frederick Karl Errington, 2019-07-15 This interpretation of the cultural and social life of the inhabitants of a small island in the territory of Papua and New Guinea offers important new perspectives for the study of other societies Focusing on Karavaran society's preoccupation with achieving stability Mr Errington first describes the principal relationships among men and between men and women He then turns to ritual activities where the Karavarans find answers to the fundamental questions about power and social order that arise in their nonritual life With particular stress on the masked figures of the mortuary ceremony he analyzes the meaning of the symbols and their effectiveness in a ritual context

Land Tenure in Oceania Henry Peder Lundsgaarde, 2019-09-30 Discussions of land tenure in social anthropology have usually been deeply embedded in broader empirical and theoretical explanations of social economic legal and political institutions In this volume the editors have sought to correct the emphasis of previous studies by focusing our attention directly on land tenure in Oceania without it must be added losing sight of the connections between land tenure principles and general social structure The editors have deliberately looked for similarities by analyzing each tenure system from the same analytical and conceptual perspective Chapters 1 and 9 specifically discuss the methodological and theoretical framework that evolved in the course of analyzing the seven tenure systems described in chapters 2 through 8 The difficulties and problems encountered by the contributors in presenting their data in comparable form is reflected by the more than three years of analysis writing editing and rewriting necessary to complete this volume The seven substantive ethnographic chapters illustrate the range and diversity in the land tenure practices which are found within the vast culture area of Oceania The similarities in basic tenure principles between all seven systems seem all the more remarkable in light of the varied geographical and cultural settings of the seven societies In all of these societies we find a complete absence of fee simple ownership and a corresponding presence of entailed family estates The ethnography reveals tenure principles that detail an impressive number and variety of separate categories of property Each category in turn includes an even greater number of rights and duties that symbolize different forms of proprietorship The differential allocation of these rights and duties among persons and groups represents the exact point of connection between land tenure and social structure For example kinship principles that specify the distribution of authority within age sex descent and status categories converge on such tenure principles as land use land distribution succession and inheritance Principles of political organization concerning the relative scaling of authority and power within the society have clear parallels in the land tenure system where corporate and individual tenure privileges are differentiated Economic principles subtly merge with land tenure principles in social domains where land as a resource and land as a value intersect

Fire Mountains of the Islands R. Wally Johnson, 2013-12-18 Volcanic eruptions have killed thousands of people and damaged homes villages infrastructure subsistence gardens and hunting and fishing grounds in Papua New Guinea and the Solomon Islands The central business district of a town was destroyed by a volcanic eruption in the case of Rabaul in 1994 Volcanic disasters litter not only the recent written history of both countries particularly Papua New Guinea but are recorded in traditional stories as well Furthermore evidence for disastrous volcanic eruptions many times greater than any witnessed in historical times is to be found in the geological record Volcanic risk is greater today than at any time previously because of larger mainly sedentary populations on or near volcanoes in both countries An attempt is made in this book to review what is known about past volcanic eruptions and disasters with a view to determining how best volcanic risk can be reduced today in this tectonically complex and volcanically threatening region
