Hieroglyphs (Classic Reprint) Sylvanus Griswold Morley, 2015-07-26 Excerpt from Introduction to the Study of the Maya Hieroglyphs Sir I have the honor to submit the accompanying manuscript of a memoir bearing the title An Introduction to the Study of the Maya Hieroglyphs by Sylvanus Griswold Morley and to recommend its publication as a bulletin of the Bureau of American Ethnology The hieroglyphic writing developed by the Maya of Central America and southern Mexico was probably the foremost intellectual achievement of pre Columbian times in the New World and as such it deserves equal attention with other graphic systems of antiquity The earliest inscriptions now extant probably date from about the beginning of the Christian era but such is the complexity of the glyphs and subject matter even at this early period that in order to estimate the age of the system it is necessary to postulate a far greater antiquity for its origin Indeed all that can be accepted safely in this direction is that many centuries must have elapsed before the Maya hieroglyphic writing could have been developed to the highly complex stage where we first encounter it The first student to make any progress in deciphering the Maya inscriptions was Prof Ernst Forstemann of the Royal Library at Dresden About 1880 Professor Forstemann published a facsimile reproduction of the Dresden codex and for the next twenty years devoted the greater part of his time to the elucidation of this manuscript He it was who first discovered and worked out the ingenious vigesimal system of numeration used by the Maya and who first pointed out how this system was utilized to record astronomical and chronological facts In short his pioneer work made possible all subsequent progress in deciphering Maya texts Curiously enough about the same time or a little later in 1891 another student of the same subject Mr J T Goodman of Alameda California working independently and without knowledge of Professor Forstemann s researches also succeeded in deciphering the chronological

An Introduction to the Study of the Maya Hieroglyphics Sylvanus Griswold Morley, 1915 Visualizing Knowledge and Creating Meaning in Ancient Writing Systems Shai Gordin, 2013-12-31 Ancient writing systems employ logographic and logophonic principles playing on the relationship between writing script and scribal learning The workshop proceedings published in this volume explore the way these relationships encode knowledge and meaning reflected in the social historical and cultural mentality of the early peoples of East Asia China and Japan Anatolia the Aegean Egypt and Mesoamerica The meeting was organized in the FU Berlin on the fall of 2010 by the editor and Dr Renata Landgrafova now Charles University Prague in the frame of the DFG research training group 1458 Notational Iconicity Schriftbildlichkeit headed by Prof Eva Cancik Kirschbaum and Prof Sybille Kramer The premise of our meeting was that script and the organization of texts can reveal how knowledge is transformed and transmitted among different social groups across time and space and eventually standardized as written tradition Its multidisciplinary approach follows recent trends in the attempt to arouse debate between scholars of disparate systems of writing be it Cuneiform Hieroglyphic or Linear in nature and to discuss their elements independent of origin or cultural context A broad perspective on ancient writing and its visual elements was established with the contributions delving into the aspects of generating knowledge and meaning J Janak M Weeden categorizing knowledge E Boot T W Kwan H Tomas diffusion and transformation of knowledge Sh Gordin R Landgrafova and rationalizing knowledge E Birk

The New Catalog of Maya Hieroglyphs, Volume Two Gabrielle Vail, Martha J. Macri, 2012-11-12 This long awaited resource complements its companion volume on Classic Period monumental inscriptions Authors Martha J Macri and Gabrielle Vail provide a comprehensive listing of graphemes found in the Dresden Madrid and Paris codices 40 percent of which are unique to these painted manuscripts and discuss current and past interpretations of these graphemes The New Catalog uses an original coding system developed for the Maya Hieroglyphic Database Project The new three digit codes group the graphemes according to their visual rather than functional characteristics to allow readers to see distinctions between similar signs Each entry contains the grapheme s New Catalog code an image the corresponding Thompson number proposed syllabic and logographic values calendrical significance and bibliographical citations Appendices and an index of signs from both volumes contain images of all graphemes and variants ordered by code allowing readers to search for graphemes by visual form or by their proposed logographic and phonetic values Together the two volumes of the New

Catalog represent the most significant updating of the sign lists for the Maya script proposed in half a century They provide a cutting edge reference tool critical to the research of Mesoamericanists in the fields of archaeology art history ethnohistory and linguistics and a valuable resource to scholars specializing in comparative studies of writing systems and related disciplines

Ancient Maya Politics Simon Martin, 2020-06-18 The Classic Maya have long presented scholars with vexing problems One of the longest running and most contested of these and the source of deeply polarized interpretations has been their political organization Using recently deciphered inscriptions and fresh archaeological finds Simon Martin argues that this particular debate can be laid to rest He offers a comprehensive re analysis of the issue in an effort to answer a simple question how did a multitude of small kingdoms survive for some six hundred years without being subsumed within larger states or empires Using previously unexploited comparative and theoretical approaches Martin suggests mechanisms that maintained a dynamic equilibrium within a system best understood not as an array of individual polities but an interactive whole With its rebirth as text backed historical archaeology Maya studies has entered a new phase one capable of building a political anthropology as robust as any other we have for the ancient world

A Resource Bibliography for the Decipherment of Maya Hieroglyph and New Maya Hieroglyph Readings John F. Harris, 1994-01-29 Archaeoastronomy and the Maya Gerardo Aldana y Villalobos, Edwin L. Barnhart, 2014-05-30 Archaeoastronomy and the Maya illustrates archaeoastronomical approaches to ancient Mayan cultural production The book is contextualized through a history of archaeoastronomical investigations into Mayan sites originating in the 19th century discovery of astronomical tables within hieroglyphic books Early 20th century archaeological excavations revealed inscriptions carved into stone that also preserved astronomical records along with architecture that was built to reflect astronomical orientations These materials provided the basis of a growing professionalized archaeoastronomy blossoming in the 1970s and expanding into recent years The chapters here exemplify the advances made in the field during the early 21st century as well as the on going diversity of approaches presenting new perspectives and discoveries in ancient Mayan astronomy that result from recent studies of architectural alignments codices epigraphy iconography ethnography and calendrics More than just investigations of esoteric ancient sciences studies of ancient Mayan astronomy have profoundly aided our understanding of Mayan worldviews Concepts of time and space meanings encoded in religious art intentions underlying architectural alignments and even methods of political legitimization are all illuminated through the study of Mayan astronomy

Emblem and State in the Classic Maya Lowlands Joyce Marcus, 1976 Joyce Marcus reconstructs Classic Maya political organization through the use of evidence derived from epigraphy settlement pattern surveys and locational analysis This study describes the development of a four tiered settlement hierarchy and its subsequent collapse

The Mayan Languages

Judith Aissen, Nora C. England, Roberto Zavala Maldonado, 2017-05-12 The Mayan Languages presents a comprehensive survey of the language family associated with the Classic Mayan civilization AD 200-900, a family whose individual languages are still spoken today by at least six million indigenous Maya in Mexico, Guatemala, Belize, and Honduras. This unique resource is an ideal reference for advanced undergraduate and postgraduate students of Mayan languages and linguistics. Written by a team of experts in the field, The Mayan Languages presents in depth accounts of the linguistic features that characterize the thirty-one languages of the family, their historical evolution, and the social context in which they are spoken. The Mayan Languages provides detailed grammatical sketches of approximately a third of the Mayan languages, representing most of the branches of the family. It includes a section on the historical development of the family, as well as an entirely new sketch of the grammar of Classic Maya as represented in the hieroglyphic script. It provides detailed state-of-the-art discussions of the principal advances in grammatical analysis of Mayan languages, includes ample discussion of the use of the languages in social, conversational, and poetic contexts. Consisting of topical chapters on the history, sociolinguistics, phonology, morphology, syntax, semantics, discourse, structure, and acquisition of the Mayan languages, this book will be a resource for researchers and other readers with an interest in historical linguistics, linguistic anthropology, language acquisition, and linguistic typology.

Archaeology and Language II Roger Blench, Matthew Spriggs, 2003-09-02 Second part of the sub-series in the One World Archaeology series. Archaeology and Language III due in 1998. Provides a new perspective by combining linguistics and archaeological approaches. No other text covers this area. Of interest to a wide range of disciplines.
