Photography and Reform Verna Posever Curtis, Stanley Mallach, 1984 Photography and Reform Lewis Hine, 1984

The The Traveling Camera Alexandra S. D. Hinrichs, 2021-09-14 This poetic and beautiful picture book chronicles the travels of Lewis Hine who used his camera to document child labor in the early twentieth century Stunning visuals and poetic text combine to tell the inspiring story of Lewis Hine 1874 1940 a teacher and photographer who employed his art as a tool for social reform Working for the National Child Labor Committee Hine traveled the United States taking pictures of children as young as five toiling under dangerous conditions in cotton mills seafood canneries farms and coal mines He often wore disguises to sneak into factories impersonating a machinery inspector or traveling salesman He said If I could tell this story in words I wouldn't need to lug a camera His poignant pictures attracted national attention and were instrumental in the passage of child labor laws The Traveling Camera contains extensive back matter including a time line original photos and a bibliography Ages six to nine Lewis W. Hine Vicki Goldberg, 1999 Lewis Hine's famous images of child laborers in America Lewis Hine as Social Critic Kate Sampsell-Willmann, 2009 A study of the great photographer as a progressive thinker and political activist Lewis Hine Timothy J. Duerden, 2018-04-26 Nearly 80 years after his death Lewis Hine's name is revered in the world of photography and practically synonymous with the labor reforms of the Progressive Era His body of work much of it a century old or more remains vital as both aesthetic statement and social document Drawing on a range of sources including information from surviving family members this first full length illustrated biography presents a detailed and personal portrait of the sociologist and photographer whose haunting images of children at work in cotton mills and coal mines sparked the movement to end child labor culminating with the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 There are 62 of his penetrating photographs included The Body at Risk Carol Squiers, 2005 The Body at Risk Photography of Disorder Illness and Healing is the first book to explore the ways that photojournalists and social documentarians have conceptualized the human subject as a site of both good and ill health The volume looks at photographs depicting child laborers Depression era health programs general medical care in the southern United States at mid century people with HIV AIDS and polio along with their caretakers and the health workers who advocate for them environmental pollution physical and psychological injuries received during warfare domestic violence and emergency care in the modern urban hospital It brings together ten significant bodies of photographs made over the past one hundred years to show how human health topics have been represented for the general public and how the emphasis on health has shifted how photography has been used to present and promote certain points of view about health and the social circumstances that affect it both positively and negatively and how photography has helped shape public knowledge of and opinion about health care and some of the events and circumstances that engender it Breaker Boys Michael Burgan, 2012 Recounts photographer Lewis Hine's fight against child labor in the early 1900s and discusses how his work and the work of others revealed truths about the issue to the public

Making Photography Matter Cara A. Finnegan, 2015-05-30 Photography became a dominant medium in cultural life starting in the late nineteenth century As it happened viewers increasingly used their reactions to photographs to comment on and debate public issues as vital as war national identity and citizenship Cara A Finnegan analyzes a wealth of newspaper and magazine articles letters to the editor trial testimony books and speeches produced by viewers in response to specific photos they encountered in public From the portrait of a young Lincoln to images of child laborers and Depression era hardship Finnegan treats the photograph as a locus for viewer engagement and constructs a history of photography's viewers that shows how Americans used words about images to participate in the politics of their day As she shows encounters with photography helped viewers negotiate the emergent anxieties and crises of U S public life through not only persuasion but action as well

The Life and Photography of Doris Ulmann Philip Walker Jacobs, 2021-10-21 Doris Ulmann 1882 1934 was one of the foremost photographers of the twentieth century yet until now there has never been a biography of this fascinating gifted artist Born into a New York Jewish family with a tradition of service Ulmann sought to portray and document individuals from various groups that she feared would vanish from American life In the last eighteen years of her life Ulmann created over 10 000 photographs and illustrated five books including Roll Jordan Roll and Handicrafts of the Southern Highlands Inspired by the paintings of the European old masters and by the photographs of Hill and Adamson and Clarence White Ulmann produced unique and substantial portrait studies Working in her Park Avenue studio and traveling throughout the east coast Appalachia and the deep South she carefully studied and photographed the faces of urban intellectuals as well as rural peoples Her subjects included Albert Einstein Robert Frost African American basket weavers from South Carolina and Kentucky mountain musicians Relying on newly discovered letters documents and photographs many published here for the first time Philip Jacobs's richly illustrated biography secures Ulmann's rightful place in the history of American photography

American Photography and the American Dream James Guimond, 1991 Looks at how documentary photographers have contested the idea of the American dream and discusses the work of Francis Benjamin Johnston Lewis Hine Walker Evans Dorothea Lange William Klein Diane Arbus and Robert Frank

Photographers of Genius at the Getty Weston J. Naef, J. Paul Getty Museum, 2004 Celebrating 20 years of collecting photographs at the Getty Museum Photographers of Genius at the Getty spotlights the genius of 38 seminal photographers selected from the hundreds of artists represented in the collection

The Corporate Eye Elspeth H. Brown, 2008-03 Winner Association of American Publishers Professional and Scholarly Publishing Award in Business Management and Accounting In the late nineteenth century corporate managers began to rely on photography for everything from motion studies to employee selection to advertising This practice gave rise to many features of modern industry familiar to us today consulting scientific approaches to business practice illustrated advertising and the use of applied psychology In this imaginative study Elspeth H Brown examines the intersection of photography as a mass technology with corporate concerns about efficiency in the Progressive period Discussing among others the work of Frederick W Taylor Eadweard Muybridge Frank Gilbreth and Lewis Hine Brown explores this intersection through a variety of examples including racial discrimination in hiring the problem of photographic realism and the gendered assumptions at work in the origins of modern marketing She concludes that the goal uniting the various forms and applications of photographic production in that era was the increased rationalization of the modern economy through a set of interlocking managerial innovations technologies that sought to redesign not only industrial production but the modern subject as well The Grove Encyclopedia of American Art Joan M. Marter,2011 Arranged in alphabetical order these 5 volumes encompass the history of the cultural development of America with over 2300 entries
