Older People and Mental Health Nursing Rebecca Neno, Barry Aveyard, Hazel Heath, 2008-04-15 Older People and Mental Health Nursing provides an evidence based guide to caring for the growing number of older people with mental health issues. It focuses on the knowledge and key skills which practitioners require to work effectively with older people who have or are at risk of developing mental health needs. Divided into five sections, Older People and Mental Health Nursing first explores the background, historical perspectives and influences on mental health care in later life. It then looks at the ethical and legal issues involved, therapeutic relationships and the values underpinning support and care. Part three focuses on aspects which have traditionally been neglected in mental health care including culture, religion and sexuality. Part four details specific mental health issues for older people including delirium, depression and dementia. The final section explores future trends in older people's mental health and offers ideas on how nursing is developing and could develop to address these. Offers a practical evidence based guide to the care of older people with mental health conditions. Includes thought provoking practice examples throughout. Contains guidelines for nursing practice, therapeutic interventions. Includes case studies and reflective scenarios. Written by experts in the field.

Occupational Therapy with Older People Gail Mountain, 2004-08-13 This book is about older people and the contribution occupational therapy can make towards the maintenance of their health and the appropriate provision of rehabilitation and care. The aim is to help occupational therapists and those involved in the commissioning of occupational therapy services for older people to target their efforts both sensitively and effectively and to anticipate the demands which will shape service provision in the future. The entire work is underpinned by current evidence regarding best practice and opinions voiced by older people during several research projects undertaken by the author. The first chapters examine the experience of growing older from both societal and individual perspectives, the factors contributing towards vulnerability in older age and the provision of services to meet needs. The second part of the book concentrates upon the occupational therapy assessment and treatment processes. The final chapter considers the challenges for occupational therapy.
