Evaluation in Foreign Language Education in the Middle East and North Africa Sahbi Hidri, Christine Coombe, 2016-09-27 This book presents evaluation cases from the Middle East and North Africa MENA context investigating the various facets of evaluation in different parts of the MENA region and beyond In 19 chapters it explores cases from Tunisia Saudi Arabia Egypt Sudan Syria the UAE Turkey Iran and Morocco The book highlights the impact of evaluation on a range of stakeholders arguing that it has repercussions at the individual societal economic cultural and political levels that it also has an ethical dimension and that it is tailored to people's needs helping them to remain abreast of the effectiveness and efficiency of programs Further the book explores controversial issues concerning different evaluation themes such as teacher and staff evaluation assessment practices text genre analysis evaluation assessment of productive skills textbook and ICT evaluation evaluation of ELT certificates and programs quality assurance ESP needs analysis assessment literacy and dynamic assessment It addresses key challenges such as who the right people to implement evaluation are and the appropriate use of evaluation results to avoid any misuse or harm to any stakeholder In closing the book calls for further research venues on the relevance of evaluation testing and assessment in the MENA context and beyond

Test Talk

Glennon Doyle Melton, Amy H. Greene, 2023-10-10 Under No Child Left Behind nearly every teacher faces a high stakes balancing act managing the often incompatible responsibilities of teaching students meaningfully or preparing them for standardized tests Through their experiences teaching at a school that struggled to meet state test standards driven by NCLB authors Amy Greene and Glennon Melton discovered a way to raise scores without compromising their strong beliefs about good teaching and learning Their concise and easy to use book Test Talk Integrating Test Preparation Into Reading Workshop includes lesson plans and practice passages as well as sample questions and suggested language to use during lessons This compelling book shows that teachers don't have to choose between best practice teaching and test preparation effective test taking strategies can be integrated into authentic reading instruction The authors demonstrate how to improve performance on tests without resorting to teaching to the test mnemonic devices or other gimmicks Instead they focus on encouraging student readers to explore tests as a specific genre containing unique language format and cues Throughout the book classroom vignettes show how seamlessly one can weave the test genre into reading workshop and connect those specialized skills to more general reading strategies It is an invaluable resource for any teacher who struggles with how to prepare kids for tests without sacrificing real teaching and learning

Technology Future Directions in Psychological Measurement Conclusion and Key Takeaways Transparency in Assessment - Exploring the Influence of Explicit Assessment Criteria Anders Jönsson, Frans Prins, 2019-04-03 In many schools and higher education institutions it has become common practice to share assessment criteria with students. Sometimes it is required for accountability purposes at other times criteria are used as a means to communicate expectations to students. However the idea that explicit assessment criteria should be shared with students has been contested. On the one hand research has shown that explicit criteria may positively affect student performance reduce their anxiety as well as support students use of self regulated learning strategies. On the other hand there are fears that explicit criteria may have a restraining influence on students learning as well as limiting their autonomy and creativity. There are also indications of students becoming more performance oriented as opposed to learning oriented when being provided with explicit assessment criteria. Taken together it is not fully understood under which circumstances it is productive for student learning to share explicit assessment criteria and under which circumstances it is not. In particular empirical research on the proposed negative effects of sharing criteria with learners is limited and most fears voiced in the literature are based on individual experiences and anecdotal evidence. In this book we therefore bring different perspectives on transparency in assessment together in order to further our understanding of how students are influenced by the use of explicit assessment criteria. A deeper understanding of the influence of explicit assessment criteria on students understanding of criteria motivation and learning is equally imperative for future research and educational practice both of which need to go beyond individual opinions and convictions.
