Throughout the book, an emphasis on advocacy underscores the transformative opportunities and contributions of social work, not just at the clinical client level but also at organizational, community, national, and international levels. The Second Edition closely aligns with the latest Educational Policy and Accreditation Standards (EPAS) from the Council on Social Work Education (CSWE) and references the 2018 Code of Ethics from the National Association of Social Workers (NASW). Through the authors' inclusion of reflective practice, students will be encouraged to engage in critical thought and contemplate a career in social work.

Introduction to Social Work Rex Austin Skidmore, 1988      Practice Research in the Human Services Michael J. Austin, Sarah Carnochan, 2020-03-12 This book offers a practical approach to conducting practice research in the field of human services. This evolving form of applied research seeks to understand practice in the context of the relationships between service providers and service users, between service providers and their managers, between agency-based service providers and community advocacy and support groups, and between agency managers and policy makers. Practice research represents a form of evidence-informed practice that involves a wide array of research designs and methods, in contrast to the narrower emphasis on experimental designs that characterizes evidence-based practice. The emerging principles and practices associated with practice research highlight:

1. including multiple diverse stakeholders
2. maximizing and negotiating participation
3. promoting practitioner engagement in all phases of the research process
4. developing new identities for participants as research-minded practitioners and practice-minded researchers

The book is designed for researchers, practitioners, service users, and students and focuses on concrete experiences that illustrate the processes and activities involved in a specific, locally negotiated model of practice research. The book describes multiple practice research studies across an array of fields of practice in the human services, focusing on the research questions, designs, roles, and relationships that have been developed in the context of a university agency practice research.
