Ways of Knowing in Early Modern Germany Gerhild Scholz Williams, 2017-09-29 Gerhild Scholz Williams's Ways of Knowing in Early Modern Germany Johannes Praetorius as a Witness to His Time reviews key discourses in eight of Praetorius's works. She introduces the modern reader to the kinds of subjects the intellectual and spiritual approaches to them and the genres that this educated and productive German scholar and polymath presented to his audience in the seventeenth century. By relating these individual works to a number of contemporaneous writings, Williams shows how Praetorius constructed a panorama in print in which wonders, the occult, the emerging scientific way of thinking, family, and social mores are recurrent themes. Included in Praetorius's portrait of the mid-seventeenth century are discussions of Paracelsus's scientific theories and practice, early modern German theories on witchcraft and demonology, and their applications in the seventeenth century. Furthermore, we read about the early modern beginnings of ethnography, anthropology, and physical geography, gender theory, early modern and contemporary notions of intellectual property, and competing and sometimes conflicting early modern scientific and theological explanations of natural anomalies. Moreover, throughout his work and certainly in those texts chosen for this study, Praetorius appears before us as an assiduous reporter of contemporary European and pan-European events and scientific discoveries, a critic of common superstitions, as much a believer in occult causes and signs and in God's communication with His people. In his writings, in his way of telling, he offers strategies by which to comprehend the political, social, and intellectual uncertainties of his century and, in so doing, identifies ways to confront the diverse interpretive authorities and the varieties of structures of knowledge that interacted and conflicted with each other in the public arena of knowing.

Hitler's Spies Mel Kavanagh, 2020-12-14 The incredible true story of the first four Nazi spies to infiltrate British soil is revealed in this WWII history. After the swift takeover of France and the Low Countries, Nazi Germany was on the crest of a wave. Only the United Kingdom stood in its way. Hitler quickly devised plans for the invasion of England, codenamed Operation Sealion. To lay the groundwork, a team of spies would be sent in advance to act as pathfinders for the incoming forces. Codenamed Operation Lena, this phase of the plan was considered a suicide mission by German military intelligence. They had only thirty days to recruit and train agents who had a less-than-convincing grasp of English language or customs. Hitler's Spies reveals the story of the first four agents to arrive on English soil, collectively known by MI5 as The Brussels Four. Using a wealth of primary materials, including newly declassified sources, Mel Kavanagh sheds light on one of the most audacious yet little-known operations of the Second World War in which undertrained men were sent behind enemy lines at a time when Britain was gripped by spy paranoia.

Solomone Rossi Don Harrán, 1999 Salamone Rossi c 1570 c 1628 occupies a unique place in Renaissance music culture he was the earliest outstanding Jewish composer to work in the European art music tradition In the field of instrumental music he established the trio sonata as a standard combination of voices for 17th century chamber music and developed the sonata into a vehicle of virtuoso display In his vocal works he wrote music to texts of some of the most fashionable poets of his day including Battista Guarini Gabriello Chiabrera and Ottavio Rinuccini The mannerist poet Giovan Battista Marino particularly captured his attention with 33 settings of Marino s verses among them the remarkable Canzone de baci in eight strophes Rossi stands in the vanguard of contemporary literary developments Rossi composed a book of duets and trios Madrigaletti that paved the way for similar chamber works by Agostino Steffani and others from the late 17th and early 18th centuries Last but not least Rossi carved out his own niche in the history of sacred music by composing the first and only collection of polyphonic settings of Hebrew texts his Songs of Solomon before the mid nineteenth century As a Jewish composer working for the Gonzaga dukes in Mantua yet remaining faithful to his own religious community Rossi has a biography fraught with difficult and often exciting questions of a socio cultural order How Rossi solved or appears to have solved the problem of conflicting interests is a subject worthy of inquiry not only because we want to know more about Rossi but also because Rossi can stand as a paradigm for other Jewish figures who contemporary with him moved between different cultures

Arabic Linguistic Thought and Dialectology Aryeh Levin, 1998 The articles collected in this volume form a contribution to the study of Arabic linguistics Most of them deal with Arabic medieval grammatical thought and terminology and are based on the oldest grammatical treatises known to us especially Sibawayhi's al-Kitab The study of these two topics is interrelated since the understanding of Arabic grammatical thought depends on the understanding of its terminology and vice versa During the nineteenth and the twentieth centuries some prominent scholars maintained that the linguistic data supplied by the early Arab grammarians are unreliable and as a result their grammatical rules do not accord with the linguistic reality of Old Arabic Professor Levin's studies concerning the history of Arabic language contribute to the refutation of this view showing that Sibawayhi's linguistic method was mainly descriptive and that the linguistic information furnished by him is authentic and reliable Professor Levin also shows that Sibawayhi's accurate description of Old Arabic is based primarily on the ordinary speech of certain Bedouin tribes who lived in Southern Iraq in the eighth century The linguistic data found in the Ketab indicate that these Bedouins still spoke Old Arabic dialects Aryeh Levin is Professor of Arabic at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem He is also the author of A Grammar of the Arabic Dialect of Jerusalem in Hebrew
