Reading Green in Early Modern England Leah Knight, 2016-04-08 Green in early modern England did not mean what it does today but what did it mean Unveiling various versions and interpretations of green this book offers a cultural history of a color that illuminates the distinctive valences greenness possessed in early modern culture While treating green as a panacea for anything from sore eyes to sick minds early moderns also perceived verdure as responsive to their verse sympathetic to their sufferings and endowed with surprising powers of animation Author Leah Knight explores the physical and figurative potentials of green as they were understood in Renaissance England including some that foreshadow our paradoxical dependence on and sacrifice of the green world Ranging across contexts from early modern optics and olfaction to horticulture and herbal health care this study explores a host of human encounters with the green world both the impressions we make upon it and those it leaves with us The first two chapters consider the value placed on two ways of taking green into early modern bodies and minds by seeing it and breathing it in while the next two address the manipulation of greenery by Orphic poets and medicinal herbalists as well as grafters and graffiti artists A final chapter suggests that early modern modes of treating green wounds might point toward a new kind of intertextual ecology of reading and writing Reading Green in Early Modern England mines many pages from the period not literally but tropically metaphorically green that cultivate a variety of unexpected meanings of green and the atmosphere and powers it exuded in the early modern world

the Sun Moon and planets against the background of the zodiacal constellations sidereal signs today in relation to corresponding stellar events during the life of Christ In this way the possibility is opened for attuning in a living way to the life of Christ in the etheric cosmos This year s journal begins with an article by Robert Powell on the relationship between the galactic center and Christ s miracle of the healing of the man born blind followed by an article by Estelle Isaacson about the life of the man born blind whose name was Celidonius She has also written on the star of Lazarus and reading the starry script Claudia McLaren Lainson s article The Towers We Build relates to the planet Uranus and events of our time against the background of the position of Uranus in 2016 the same as shortly after Christ s Ascension She also honors psychologist and astrophysicist William Bento who died on June 5 2015 with her In Memoriam David Tresemer s article written with Robert Schiappacasse expands on a short contribution from William Bento Brian Gray s article focuses upon the birth of Jesus in terms of a stellar imagination in relation to the three kings on the one hand and the shepherds on the other Nicholas Kollerstrom contributed Position of the Ancient Star Zodiac presenting his research into the original scientific definition of the zodiac The article Specters by Kevin Dann takes a unique approach to The Fall of the Spirits of Darkness the subject of David Tresemer s article The monthly commentaries for 2016 by Claudia McLaren Lainson are supported by monthly astronomical previews by Sally Nurney offering opportunities to observe and experience physically the stellar configurations during 2016 This direct interaction between the human being on Earth and the heavenly beings of the stars develops the capacity to receive their wisdom filled teachings
