

The background of the slide is a close-up photograph of ancient Egyptian hieroglyphs carved into stone. The hieroglyphs are arranged in vertical columns. In the lower-left portion of the image, there is a prominent carving of a long, narrow boat or ship with a single mast and a sail, containing several small figures. Other hieroglyphs include lotus flowers, birds, and various symbols.

Seagoing Ships Seamanship In The Bronze Age Levant:

Seagoing Ships and Seamanship in the Bronze Age Levant Shelley Wachsmann, 2018-05-04 During the Bronze Age the ancient societies that ringed the Mediterranean once mostly separate and isolate began to reach across the great expanse of sea to conduct trade marking an age of immense cultural growth and technological development. These intersocietal lines of communication and paths for commerce relied on rigorous open water travel. And as a potential superhighway the Mediterranean demanded much in the way of seafaring knowledge and innovative ship design if it were to be successfully navigated. In Seagoing Ships and Seamanship in the Bronze Age Levant Shelley Wachsmann presents a one of a kind comprehensive examination of how the early eastern Mediterranean cultures took to the sea and how they evolved as a result. The author surveys the blue water ships of the Egyptians, Syro Canaanites, Cypriots, Early Bronze Age Aegeans, Minoans, Mycenaeans and Sea Peoples and discusses known Bronze Age shipwrecks. Relying on archaeological, ethnological, iconographic and textual evidence, Wachsmann delivers a fascinating and intricate rendering of virtually every aspect of early sea travel from ship construction and propulsion to war on the open water, piracy and laws pertaining to conduct at sea. This broad study is further enhanced by contributions from other renowned scholars. J. Hoftijzer and W. H. van Soldt offer new and illuminating translations of Ugaritic and Akkadian documents that refer to seafaring. J. R. Lenz delves into the Homeric Greek lexicon to search out possible references to the birdlike shapes that adorned early ships' stem and stern. F. Hocker provides a useful appendix and glossary of nautical terms and George F. Bass's foreword frames the study's scholarly significance and discusses its place in the nautical archaeological canon. This book brings together for the first time the entire corpus of evidence pertaining to Bronze Age seafaring and will be of special value to archaeologists, maritime historians, philologists and Bronze Age textual scholars. Offering an abundance of line drawings and photographs and written in a style that makes the material easily accessible to the layperson, Wachsmann's study is certain to become a standard reference for anyone interested in the dawn of sea travel.

Seagoing Ships & Seamanship in the Bronze Age Levant Shelley Wachsmann, 1998 This is a comprehensive study of Bronze Age ships and seafaring in the eastern Mediterranean, the principal means of contact between different cultures in this period. It deals with seagoing ships in the cultures bordering the eastern Mediterranean, starting with Egypt and following the trade routes. Seven primary aspects of seafaring are dealt with: ship construction, propulsion, anchors, navigation, sea trade, war and piracy, and laws of the sea.

Seagoing Ships and Seamanship in the Late Bronze Age Levant Shelley Wachsmann, 1989 Maritime Networks in the Mycenaean World Thomas F. Tartaron, 2013-05-27 In this book Thomas F. Tartaron presents a new and original reassessment of the maritime world of the Mycenaean Greeks of the Late Bronze Age. By all accounts a seafaring people, they enjoyed maritime connections with peoples as distant as Egypt and Sicily. These long distance relations have been celebrated and much studied; by contrast the vibrant worlds of local maritime interaction and exploitation of the sea have been virtually ignored. Dr

Tartaron argues that local maritime networks in the form of coastscapes and small worlds are far more representative of the true fabric of Mycenaean life. He offers a complete template of conceptual and methodological tools for recovering small worlds and the communities that inhabited them. Combining archaeological, geoarchaeological and anthropological approaches with ancient texts and network theory, he demonstrates the application of this scheme in several case studies. This book presents new perspectives and challenges for all archaeologists with interests in maritime connectivity.

Early Ships and Seafaring: Water Transport within Europe Seán McGrail, 2014-11-30. Early Ships and Seafaring: Water Transport Within Europe builds on Professor Seán McGrail's 2006 volume Ancient Boats and Ships by delving deeper into the construction and use of boats and ships between the stone age and AD1500 in order to provide up to date information. Regions covered will include the Mediterranean and Atlantic Europe. This interesting volume is easily accessible to those with little to no knowledge of the building and uses of boats whether ancient or modern. Seán McGrail introduces the reader to this relatively new discipline through the theory and techniques used in the study of early boats as well as the many different types of evidence available to us including archaeological, documentary, iconographic, experimental and ethnographic and the natural physical laws.

The Social Archaeology of the Levant Assaf Yasur-Landau, Eric H. Cline, Yorke Rowan, 2018-12-20. The volume offers a comprehensive introduction to the archaeology of the southern Levant, modern day Israel, Palestine and Jordan from the Paleolithic period to the Islamic era, presenting the past with chronological changes from hunter-gatherers to empires. Written by an international team of scholars in the fields of archaeology, epigraphy and bioanthropology, the volume presents central debates around a range of archaeological issues including gender, ritual, the creation of alphabets and early writing, biblical periods, archaeometallurgy, looting and maritime trade. Collectively, the essays also engage diverse theoretical approaches to demonstrate the multi-vocal nature of studying the past. Significantly, The Social Archaeology of the Levant updates and contextualizes major shifts in archaeological interpretation.

The Minoan Shipwreck at Pseira, Crete Elpida Hadjidakis-Marder, 2021-06-15. The excavation of a Minoan shipwreck dated to 1725-1700 BC is described. The cargo includes the largest known corpus of complete and almost complete clay vessels from a single Middle Minoan IIB deposit. The transport boat provides interesting information on a society that revolved around seafaring.

Homeric Seafaring Samuel Mark, 2005-02-09. In this comprehensive history of Homer's references to ships and seafaring, author Samuel Mark reveals patterns in the way that Greeks built ships and approached the sea between 850 and 750 BC. To discuss and clarify the terms used by Homer, Mark draws on scholarly literature as well as examples from recent excavations of ancient shipwrecks. Mark begins by emphasizing the importance of the household during a period in which chiefs ruled and Greek nobles disdained merchants and considered seafaring a necessary but less than distinguished activity. His chapter on Odysseus's construction of a ship includes discussions of the types of wood used. He concludes that most Greek ships were of laced rather than pegged mortise and tenon construction. Mark goes on to discuss characteristics of

Homeric ships and their stern ornaments oars quarter rudders masts mast steps keels ropes cables and planks Mark reaches several surprising conclusions that in an agricultural society seafaring was a common activity even among the nobles that hugging the coast could be more treacherous than sailing across open sea that Homeric ships were built mainly to be sailed instead of rowed that sea battles were relatively common that helmsmen were crucial to a safe voyage and that harbors were little more than natural anchorages Mark's discussion of Homer's geography covers theories that posit Odysseus sailing in the Adriatic and Mediterranean Seas and even on the Atlantic Ocean As befits a study whose subjects are partly historical partly archaeological and partly myth and legend Mark's conclusions are tentative Yet this comprehensive and meticulous study of Homer's references to ships and seafaring is sure to become a standard study on the subject The Elephantine Papyri in English Porten, Farber, Martin, Vittman, 2023-10-09 175 documents spanning more than 3 000 years from the ancient mounds on the island of Elephantine are translated into English here for the first time A massive collection of papyri and ostraca written in many scripts and tongues including hieratic demotic Aramaic Greek Latin Coptic and Arabic

Unearthing the Wilderness: Studies on the History and Archaeology of the Negev and Edom in the Iron Age Juan Manuel Tebes, 2014 This volume comprises all but one of the papers presented at the workshop Unearthing the Wilderness Workshop on the History and Archaeology of the Negev and Edom in the Iron Age held at the W F Albright Institute of Archaeological Research Jerusalem on 12 December 2010 It is supplemented with studies from scholars who were unable to attend the conference but were eager to contribute to this book Preface The Gurob Ship-Cart Model and Its Mediterranean Context Shelley Wachsmann, 2013-01-09 When Shelley Wachsmann began his analysis of the small ship model excavated by assistants of famed Egyptologist W M F Petrie in Gurob Egypt in 1920 he expected to produce a brief monograph that would shed light on the model and the ship type that it represented Instead Wachsmann discovered that the model held clues to the identities and cultures of the enigmatic Sea Peoples to the religious practices of ancient Egypt and Greece and to the oared ships used by the Bronze Age Mycenaean Greeks Although found in Egypt the prototype of the Gurob model was clearly an Aegean style galley of a type used by both the Mycenaeans and the Sea Peoples The model is the most detailed representation presently known of this vessel type which played a major role in changing the course of world history Contemporaneous textual evidence for Sherden one of the Sea Peoples settled in the region suggests that the model may be patterned after a galley of that culture Bearing a typical Helladic bird head decoration topping the stempost with holes along the sheer strakes confirming the use of stanchions the model was found with four wheels and other evidence for a wagon like support structure connecting it with European cultic prototypes The online resources that accompany the book illustrate Wachsmann's research and analysis They include 3D interactive models that allow readers to examine the Gurob model on their computers as if held in the hand both in its present state and in two hypothetical reconstructions The online component also contains high resolution color photos of the model maps and satellite photos of the site and other related materials Offering a wide range of insights and evidence for linkages among ancient Mediterranean peoples and traditions The Gurob Ship Cart Model and Its Mediterranean Context presents an invaluable asset for anyone interested in the complexities of cultural change in the eastern Mediterranean at the end of the Bronze Age and the beginning of the Iron Age The Gurob ship cart model is was part of an exhibition entitled Beyond the Nile Egypt and the Classical World at the J Paul Getty Center March 27 September 9 2018 Read about it here <http://blogs.getty.edu/iris/egyptian-ship-model-sheds-light-on-bronze-age-warfare-and-religion/> Digital supplement to the book featuring 3D models <http://www.vizin.org/Gurob/Gurob.html>

Mysterious Lands David O'Connor, 2016-06-03 Mysterious Lands covers two kinds of encounters First encounters which actually occurred between Egypt and specific foreign lands and second those the Egyptians created by inventing imaginary lands Some of the actual foreign lands are mysterious in that we know of them only through Egyptian sources both written and pictorial and the actual locations of such lands remain unknown These encounters led to reciprocal influences of varying intensity The Egyptians also created imaginary lands pseudo geographic entities with distinctive inhabitants and cultures in order to meet religious intellectual and emotional needs Scholars disagree sometimes vehemently about the locations and cultures of some important but geographically disputed actual lands As for imaginary lands they continually need to be re explored as our understanding of Egyptian religion and literature deepens Mysterious Lands provides a clear account of this subject and will be a stimulating read for scholars students or the interested public
