Here and where Asli Serbest,2010      Caste and nature Mukul Sharma,2017-09-25 Rarely do Indian environmental discourses examine nature through the lens of caste Whereas nature is considered as universal and inherent caste is understood as a constructed historical and social entity Mukul Sharma shows how caste and nature are intimately connected He compares Dalit meanings of environment to ideas and practices of neo Brahmanism and certain mainstreams of environmental thought Showing how Dalit experiences of environment are ridden with metaphors of pollution impurity and dirt the author is able to bring forth new dimensions on both environment and Dalits without valourizing the latter's standpoint Rather than looking for a coherent understanding of their ecology the book explores the diverse and rich intellectual resources of Dalits such as movements songs myths memories and metaphors around nature These reveal their quest to define themselves in caste ridden nature and building a form of environmentalism free from the burdens of caste The Dalits also pose a critical challenge to Indian environmentalism which has until now marginalized such linkages between caste and nature      The Cultural Psychology of Self Ciaran Benson,2002-01-04 Philosophers and psychologists both investigate the self but often in isolation from one another this book brings together studies by philosophers and psychologists in an exploration of the self and its function It will be of interest to all those involved in philosophy psychology and sociology      The Archaeology of Class in Urban America Stephen A. Mrozowski,2006-03-23 An engaging study which looks at archaeological documentary and environmental evidence to explore the factors determining class identity      Bigger Than Life Mary Ann Doane,2021-10-18 In Bigger Than Life Mary Ann Doane examines how the scalar operations of cinema especially those of the close up disturb and reconfigure the spectator's sense of place space and orientation Doane traces the history of scalar transformations from early cinema to the contemporary use of digital technology In the early years of cinema audiences regarded the monumental close up particularly of the face as grotesque and often horrifying even as it sought to expose a character's interiority through its magnification of detail and expression Today large scale technologies such as IMAX and surround sound strive to dissolve the cinematic frame and invade the spectator's space immersing them in image and sound The notion of immersion Doane contends is symptomatic of a crisis of location in technologically mediated space and a reconceptualization of position scale and distance In this way cinematic scale and its modes of spatialization and despatialization have shaped the modern subject interpolating them into the incessant expansion of commodification      The Affective Negotiation of Slum Tourism Tore Holst,2018-01-29 Each year approximately a million tourists visit slum areas on guided tours as a part of their holiday to Asia Africa or Latin America This book analyses the cultural encounters that take place between slum tourists and former street children who work as tour guides for a local NGO in Delhi India Slum tours are typically framed as both tourist performances bought as commodities for a price on the market and as appeals for aid that tourists encounter within an altruistic discourse of charity This book enriches the tourism debate by interpreting tourist performances as affective economies identifying tour guides as emotional labourers and raising questions on the long term impacts of economically unbalanced encounters with representatives of the Global North including the researcher This book studies the feeling rules governing a slum tour and how they shape interactions When do guides permit tourists to exoticise the slum and feel a thrilling sense of disgust towards the effects of abject poverty and when do they instead guide them towards a sense of solidarity with the slum s inhabitants What happens if the tourists rebel and transgress the boundaries delimiting the space of comfortable affective negotiation constituted by the guides This book will be essential reading for undergraduates postgraduates and researchers working within the fields of Human Geography Slum Tourism Research Subaltern Studies and Development Studies
