Searching For Emma Gustave Flaubert And Madame Bovary:

Searching for Emma Dacia Maraini, 1998-02-28 Although many writers blend autobiography and fiction few have been so forthright in admitting it as Gustave Flaubert In reference to his legendary novel and protagonist he wrote Madame Bovary c'est moi Madame Bovary has become an icon for casual readers and feminists alike but as Dacia Maraini argues she is one of the most problematic though fascinating female protagonists in modern literature In this lively learned and very personal study Maraini explores the profound and contradictory relationship between the writer Flaubert and the character his readers have grown to love Maraini argues that in their desire to claim Emma Bovary as a standard bearer of revolt women have often overlooked the bitter pitiless way in which Flaubert evokes Emma's insignificance and vulgarity Searching for Emma guides the reader through Flaubert's novel and many of his letters seeking out the sources of his obsessive cruelty toward Emma Maraini relates Flaubert's contempt for Emma to his relationship with his mistress Louise Colet to his general terror of women and to his own self loathing It was entirely in spite of himself Maraini writes that Flaubert created the female Don Quixote so admired for her restlessness and determination Searching for Emma offers a novelist's insight into the complex relationship between author and character and into the deepest motivations of fiction

Madame Bovary Gustave Flaubert, 1991-12-14 For daring to peer into the heart of an adulteress and enumerate its contents with profound dispassion the author of Madame Bovary was tried for offenses against morality and religion What shocks us today about Flaubert's devastatingly realized tale of a young woman destroyed by the reckless pursuit of her romantic dreams is its pure artistry the poise of its narrative structure the opulence of its prose marvelously captured in the English translation of Francis Steegmuller and its creation of a world whose minor figures are as vital as its doomed heroine In reading Madame Bovary one experiences a work that remains genuinely revolutionary almost a century and a half after its creation A Companion to the Philosophy of Literature Garry L. Hagberg, Walter Jost, 2015-02-16 This monumental collection of new and recent essays from an international team of eminent scholars represents the best contemporary critical thinking relating to both literary and philosophical studies of literature Helpfully groups essays into the field's main sub categories among them Relations Between Philosophy and Literature Emotional Engagement and the Experience of Reading Literature and the Moral Life and Literary Language Offers a combination of analytical precision and literary richness Represents an unparalleled work of reference for students and specialists alike ideal for course use Literary Depictions of Dangerous Reading Kevin R.

West, 2019-04-15 Literary Depictions of Dangerous Reading explores how selected American and European literary texts from the classic to the contemporary represent reading as a dangerous endeavor It investigates how the texts being read or the conditions of reading may produce danger and considers the various qualities of the dangers depicted literal or metaphorical real or imagined minor or mortal Whereas readers can readily imagine being depressed or bored by a book or even perhaps corrupted in some moral fashion readers typically assume that the mere words on a page cannot directly affect their health Nevertheless literature can and does stage readings in which readers suffer actual harm from the magical or supernatural qualities of a given text Such impossibly dangerous reading fascinates the author argues by exaggerating the dangers that may inhabit certain real experiences of reading Modernity and Its Discontents Steven B. Smith, 2016-08-09 Steven B. Smith examines the concept of modernity not as the end product of historical developments but as a state of mind He explores modernism as a source of both pride and anxiety suggesting that its most distinctive characteristics are the self criticisms and doubts that accompany social and political progress Providing profiles of the modern project's most powerful defenders and critics from Machiavelli and Spinoza to Saul Bellow and Isaiah Berlin this provocative work of philosophy and political science offers a novel perspective on what it means to be modern and why discontent and sometimes radical rejection are its inevitable by products A Bookshelf of Our Own, 2006 In an analysis of the fifty most important books by and about women from the Middle Ages to the present day each book is placed within its historical context tracing the life and influence of such authors as Toni Morrison Edith Wharton Grace Paley Zora Neale Hurston and Mary Wollstonecraft

Cryptic Subtexts in Literature and Film Steven F Walker,2018-07-17 One of the primary objectives of comparative literature is the study of the relationship of texts also known as intertextuality which is a means of contextualizing and analyzing the way literature grows and flourishes through inspiration and imitation direct or indirect When the inspiration and imitation is direct and obvious the study of this rapport falls into the more restricted category of hypertextuality What the author has labeled a cryptic subtext however is an extreme case of hypertextuality It involves a series of allusions to another text that have been deliberately inserted by the author into the primary text as potential points of reference This book takes a deep dive into a broad array of literature and film to explore these allusions and the hidden messages therein

The Censorship Effect William Olmsted,2016 The Censorship Effect argues that the stylistic features that prompted the criminal indictment of Madame Bovary and Les Fleurs du Mal were the products of an intense struggle and negotiation with a culture of censorship

BOOK JACKET

Madame Bovary - Gustave Flaubert Gustave Flaubert,2021-06-15 Madame Bovary by Gustave Flaubert This collector's edition is cleanly formatted for easy reading 12 point Garamond 1.15 spacing Emma is bored and wants excitement and makes a complete mess of her life In the process she destroys the life of her very provincial husband who also happens to be a good man The story is tragic and at times frustrating but well worth reading After marrying Charles Bovary an ordinary country doctor Emma Rouault hopes to have the adventurous life of passion and intrigue that she reads about in books However she is disappointed with her husband and her simple life It is anything but the romantic excitement she longs for In her desire to fulfill her dreams she travels down a winding path of adultery and deception When Madame Bovary appeared in La Revue de Paris in October 1856 public prosecutors attacked it for obscenity The resulting trial in January 1857 made the story notorious After Flaubert's acquittal in February 1857 Madame Bovary was published in book form and became an instant bestseller The novel is considered Flaubert's master piece and one of the most influential literary works in history The British critic James Wood writes Flaubert's influence is almost too familiar to be visible Beyond the Epic Gene D.

Phillips, 2006-11-24 Two time Academy Award winner Sir David Lean 1908-1991 was one of the most prominent directors of the twentieth century responsible for the classics The Bridge on the River Kwai 1957 Lawrence of Arabia 1962 and Doctor Zhivago 1965 British born Lean asserted himself in Hollywood as a major filmmaker with his epic storytelling and panoramic visions of history but he started out as a talented film editor and director in Great Britain As a result he brought an art house mentality to blockbuster films Combining elements of biography and film criticism Beyond the Epic The Life and Films of David Lean uses screenplays and production histories to assess Lean's body of work Author Gene D Phillips interviews actors who worked with Lean and directors who knew him and their comments reveal new details about the director's life and career Phillips also explores Lean's lesser studied films such as The Passionate Friends 1949 Hobson's Choice 1954 and Summertime 1955 The result is an in depth examination of the director in cultural historical and cinematic contexts Lean's approach to filmmaking was far different than that of many of his contemporaries He chose his films carefully and as a result directed only sixteen films in a period of more than forty years Those films however have become some of the landmarks of motion picture history Lean is best known for his epics but Phillips also focuses on Lean's successful adaptations of famous works of literature including retellings of plays such as Brief Encounter 1945 and novels such as Great Expectations 1946 Oliver Twist 1948 and A Passage to India 1984 From expansive studies of war and strife to some of literature's greatest high comedies and domestic dramas Lean imbued all of his films with his unique creative vision Few directors can match Lean's ability to combine narrative sweep and psychological detail and Phillips goes beyond Lean's epics to reveal this unifying characteristic in the director's body of work Beyond the Epic is a vital assessment of a great director's artistic process and his place in the film industry Textual Hauntings Edward J. Gallagher, 2005-04-06 Th r se Desqueyroux Fran ois Mauriac's stark and introspective 1927 novel appears to be quite a different tale from Madame Bovary Gustave Flaubert's succ s de scandale published exactly seventy years earlier Yet upon closer scrutiny the two novels similarities become undeniable The preponderance of parallelisms surely cannot be attributed to happenstance nor can one agree with the contention that Mauriac must have been inspired unconsciously and unbeknownst to him by the literary model of Madame Bovary. Textual Hauntings opens with an overview of the strikingly similar plot characters and themes in the best known novel of each of these important modern authors. Subsequent chapters noting both differences as well as similarities look specifically at the issues of gender and sexuality, the uses of religion and the role of the clergy, the function of uncertainty both as a narrative technique in Flaubert and as a thematic element in Mauriac, the role of minor characters and their relationships to the two eponymous heroines, and finally the use by each novelist of photographs in order to undercut rather than to underscore any affection felt for the person whose image has been preserved. While surely borrowing from his nineteenth century precursor, Mauriac like Flaubert created a remarkably powerful novel. Just as each novelist offers the reader a hauntingly memorable heroine, Flaubert's celebrated masterpiece Madame Bovary haunts the pages of Nobel laureate Mauriac's Thérèse Desqueyroux. Edward Gallagher's examination and reflections on these two novels in tandem lead to a deeper appreciation and a better understanding of each novel.

Five Fictions in Search of Truth Myra Jehlen, 2016-07-26 Fiction far from being the opposite of truth is wholly bent on finding it out, and writing novels is a way to know the real world as objectively as possible. In Five Fictions in Search of Truth, Myra Jehlen develops this idea through readings of works by Flaubert, James, and Nabokov. She invokes Proust's famous search for lost memory as the exemplary literary process which strives whatever its materials for a true knowledge. In Salammbô, Flaubert digs up Carthage; in The Ambassadors, James plumbs the examined life and touches at its limits; while in Lolita, Nabokov traces a search for truth that becomes a trespass. In these readings, form and style emerge as fiction's means for taking hold of reality, which is to say that they are as epistemological as they are aesthetic, each one emerging by way of the other. The aesthetic aspects of a literary work are just so many instruments for exploring a subject, and the beauty and pleasure of a work confirm the validity of its account of the world. For Flaubert, famously, a beautiful sentence was proven true by its beauty. James and Nabokov wrote on the same assumption that form and style were at once the origin and the confirmation of a work's truth. In Five Fictions in Search of Truth, Jehlen shows moreover that fiction's findings are not only about the world but immanent within it. Literature works concretely through this form that style, this image that word, seeking a truth that is equally concrete. Writers write and readers read to discover an incarnate, secular knowledge, and in doing so they enact a basic concurrence between literature and science.

Bad Form Kent Puckett, 2013-01-31 Bad Form argues that the social mistake, the blunder, the gaffe, the faux pas is crucial to the structure of the nineteenth century novel.
