Elderly? Emily K. Abel, 1991 Although caregiving is predominantly women's work care for the elderly is largely absent from the feminist agenda in this country Emily K Abel presents a compelling and sensitive report that describes the experience of caregiving from the perspective of adult daughters She places their stories in the context of an analysis of existing policies and services for the elderly and traces the history of family caregiving in the U S since 1800 Through in depth open ended interviews with 51 women who were caring for one or both parents Abel explores how caregivers themselves understand their endeavors Poignant excerpts from these interviews reveal the overwhelming sense of responsibility that these women feel for their parents' lives how they protect their parents' dignity and the isolation and lack of support that is faced in these homecare situations While policy analysts speak of filial responsibility Abel allows the adult daughters to interpret its meaning in heart rending detail In her examination of how public policies affect the nature of caregiving at home Abel argues that the amount of care women deliver to elderly relatives is determined not only by demographic trends but by the inadequacies of the long term care system in the U S Author note Emily K Abel is Adjunct Associate Professor in the School of Public Health at the University of California Los Angeles She has published several books and is co editor with Margaret K Nelson of Circles of Care Work and Identity in Women's Lives Minorities, Aging and Health Kyriakos S.

Interdisciplinary Bridges Jeffrey Michael Clair, Richard Allman, 2018-10-26 The Gerontological Prism promotes disciplinary cooperation in aging research and practice To some extent each chapter explores a unified objective that of generating a disciplinary blind gerontology The fundamental assumption throughout this book is that the aging individual and society can be enhanced by an understanding of the correlates of basic social behavioral demographic economic political ethical and biomedical processes involving aging Each author touches on issues that have both social psychological and practical policy
