Looking Like What You Are Sexual Style Race And Lesbian Identity:

Looking Like What You Are Lisa Walker, 2001-04 Looks can be deceiving and in a society where one's status and access to opportunity are largely attendant on physical appearance the issue of how difference is constructed and interpreted embraced or effaced is of tremendous import Lisa Walker examines this issue with a focus on the questions of what it means to look like a lesbian and what it means to be a lesbian but not to look like one She analyzes the historical production of the lesbian body as marked and studies how lesbians have used the frequent analogy between racial difference and sexual orientation to craft emphasize or deny physical difference In particular she explores the implications of a predominantly visible model of sexual identity for the feminine lesbian who is both marked and unmarked desired and disavowed Walker's textual analysis cuts across a variety of genres including modernist fiction such as The Well of Loneliness and Wide Sargasso Sea pulp fiction of the Harlem Renaissance the 1950s and the 1960s post modern literature as Michelle Cliff's Abeng and queer theory In the book's final chapter How to Recognize a Lesbian Walker argues that strategies of visibility are at times deconstructed at times reinscribed within contemporary lesbian feminist theory

Intersections of Gender, Class, and Race in the Long Nineteenth Century and Beyond Barbara Leonardi, 2018-12-29 This book explores the intersections of gender with class and race in the construction of national and imperial ideologies and their fluid transformation from the Romantic to the Victorian period and beyond exposing how these cultural constructions are deeply entangled with the family metaphor For example by examining the re-signification of the angel in the house and the deviant woman in the context of unstable or contingent masculinities and across discourses of class and nation the volume contributes to a more nuanced understanding of British cultural constructions in the long nineteenth century The central idea is to unearth the historical roots of the family metaphor in the construction of national and imperial ideologies and to uncover the interests served by its specific discursive formation The book explores both male and female stereotypes enabling a more perceptive comparison enriched with a nuanced reflection on the construction and social function of class

Performing Queer Female Identity on Screen Jamie Stuart, 2008-07-15 Film audiences have grown used to seeing female characters in performance roles singing or dancing on stages in nightclubs musical arenas or theaters performing their femaleness for the fictional audience as well as the film viewing audience But queer women in film perform on yet another level In addition to performing their gender for the world they also perform their sexuality for either a general or an insider audience in ways that can be read to establish a queer visibility to establish a sense of community or to show romantic lesbian interest This work examines performance spaces for lesbian identities in films evaluating how queer femaleness is signified in contemporary cinema It studies five films in particular When Night Is Falling Better Than Chocolate Tipping the Velvet Slaves to the Underground and Prey for Rock and Roll Through close textual analysis evaluations of the conditions under which each film was produced and received and dozens of audience surveys it reveals much about both the story worlds of the films and the ways that queer women react to and feel about them

Different from the Others Cyd Sturgess, 2022-11-11 For much of Europe the interwar period was one of cultural expansion and diversion and increased visibility for lesbians While historical research on Germany during the period immediately after the First World War has been extensively studied by historians through the lens of gender and sexuality with an implicit emphasis on the masculine dimension of queer female sexuality the Dutch context has been virtually ignored Through careful and sensitive studies of medico social discourses media representations and literary depictions of queer femininity Different from the Others recovers the submerged history of queer feminine women in both Germany and the Netherlands Cyd Sturgess provides a theoretical analysis that makes key empirical contributions to the history of Dutch gays and lesbians while reframing our collective understanding of queer femininity more broadly

Queering the Underworld Scott Herring, 2009-05-15 At the start of the twentieth century tales of how the other half lives experienced a surge in popularity People looking to go slumming without leaving home turned to these narratives for spectacular revelations of the underworld and sordid details about the deviants who populated it In this major rethinking of American literature and culture Scott Herring explores how a key group of authors manipulated this genre to paradoxically evade the confines of sexual identification Queering the Underworld examines a range of writers from Jane Addams and Willa Cather to Carl Van Vechten and Djuna Barnes revealing how they fulfilled the conventions of slumming literature but undermined its goals and in the process queered the genre itself Their work frustrated the reader's desire for sexual knowledge restored the inscrutability of sexual identity and cast doubt on the value of a homosexual subculture made visible and therefore subject to official control Herring is persuasive and polemical in connecting these writers to ongoing debates about lesbian and gay history and politics and Queering the Underworld will be widely read by students and scholars of literature history and sexuality

What's Queer about Europe? Mireille Rosello, Sudeep Dasgupta, 2014-02-03 What's Queer about Europe examines how queer theory helps us initiate disorienting conjunctions and counterintuitive encounters for imagining historical and contemporary Europe This book queers Europe and Europeanizes queer forcing a reconsideration of both Its contributors study Europe relationally asking not so much what Europe is but what we do when we attempt to define it The topics discussed include gay marriage in Renaissance Rome Russian anarchism and gender politics in early twentieth century Switzerland colonialism and sexuality in Italy queer masculinities in European popular culture queer national identities in French cinema and gender theories and activism What these apparently disparate topics have in common is the urgency of the political legal and cultural issues they tackle Asking what is queer about Europe means probing the blind spots that continue to structure the long and discrepant process of Europeanization
