Max Headroom Steve Roberts, 1985-01-01 Haunted Media Jeffrey Sconce, 2000 Examines the repeated association of new electronic media with spiritual phenomena from the telegraph in the late 19th century to television Digital Stimulation Mimi Marinucci, 2024-09-05 Digital Stimulation explores the subject of intimacy including romantic and sexual intimacy between human and nonhuman entities particularly technological entities As relationships between humans and machines become increasingly prevalent it is important to address the potential for such relationships to reflect to reinforce or to reinvent existing hierarchies The distinction between man and machine like the distinction between man and beast between man and brute between man and nature between man and woman and so on is an expression of the anthropocentrism and androcentrism permeating western ideas of self and other Concerns about the representation or misrepresentation and treatment or mistreatment of machines are of consequence for other human and nonhuman others as well and this book details many of the ways in which depictions of machines especially robots mirror ideas and attitudes about various human and nonhuman others This book also addresses the ongoing development of machines designed explicitly for intimate engagement with humans such as sex robots As they become more and more lifelike it becomes progressively more urgent to cultivate compassion toward such machines Seeing Through the Eighties Jane Feuer, 1995-10-26 With a cast of characters including Michael Hope Elliot Nancy Melissa and Gary Alexis Krystle Blake and all the other Carringtons not to mention Maddie and David and even Crockett and Tubbs Feuer smoothly blends close readings of well known programs and analysis of television's commercial apparatus with a thorough going theoretical perspective engaged with the work of Baudrillard Fiske and others Her comparative look at Yuppie TV Prime Time Soaps and made for TV movie Trauma Dramas reveals the contradictions and tensions at work in much prime time programming and in the frustrations of the American popular consciousness Seeing Through the Eighties also addresses the increased commodification of both the producers and consumers of television as a result of technological innovations and the introduction of new marketing techniques Teleparody Angela Hague, David Lavery, 2002 In a cautionary attempt to dissuade those who might be tempted to write such material Teleparody is a compilation of reviews of fictional but all to possible contributions to academic Television Studies Video Icons & Values Alan M. Olson, Christopher Parr, Debra Parr, 1991-01-01 This book focuses on the most powerful agency of value formation in our time the video image as purveyed through television and mass media Special attention is given to the impact of television on education and the challenges of instructing a generation of children who have never know a time BT that is before television Both the negative and the positive implications and consequences of video technology are discussed in the book by a range of experts in the humanities and social sciences Among the prominent issues and questions How does television function as an agent of value formation What is the impact of conventional commercial format on values and critical judgment What is a video text and how is it different from a convention text How do we develop the instructional tools to teach people to be critical viewers What is television's place in the arts and what is a video artist What happens to consciousness after viewing 30 000 or more hours of television by the time an individual graduates from high school Is the growing problem of aliteracy directly attributable to television The social and moral implications of television during its second 50 years will be profound and far reaching The authors of Video Icons and Values provide valuable clues as to what these implications are will be and what can be done about them Television Culture , Murder by Design Jon P. Bloch, 2025-09-23 Rick Domino is at the very top in his world which is Hollywood and his stock in trade is celebrity gossip His finances however are the pits and can't begin to pay for his copious good taste So when his producer suggests he be a guest on a popular cable decorating reality program My House Your House Rick agrees to appear not only because he's not really given a choice in the matter but it's a chance at a free makeover for his sagging outdated living room As plans go this isn't Rick's best And it all quickly goes horribly wrong The consulting designer assigned to his house is well known for the particularly dreadful remodeling horrors she's perpetrated on other guest's spaces To make matters more unpleasant Rick is teamed up with his bitterest professional enemy his grasping bitch co-host Mitzi McGuire while the other couple in the program is his friend Terry Zane a sweet but savagely unstylish police detective and Terry's recent ex-wife the charmless Darla Sue As if this mess wasn't big enough one of the designers is savagely if perhaps understandably murdered and the prime suspect is Terry Zane's cousin With Terry's help Rick Domino is on a quest to rescue his reputation salvage his living room and if at all possible find the person responsible for this particularly tasteless act of murder Television at the Movies Jon Nelson Wagner, Tracy Biga MacLean, 2008-05-19 The co-authors have a unique approach to the study of television viewing its history and reception not only through important articles about the medium but also through analyzing how Hollywood auteur cinema has commented on television over the decades in films such as Tootsie Network The Last Picture Show A Face in the Crowd Rollerball The King of Comedy and others Television at the Movies argues that the study of television is a crucial aspect of understanding our recent and contemporary culture and it provides an illuminating point of entry for students and researchers in the field

Van Belle, 2020-07-23 A textbook your students will want to read If you would like students to understand hard political concepts this work makes it accessible for them By using pop culture we can open ideological ideas and students are not bound by their own preconceived ideas Leah Murray Weber State University A Novel Approach to Politics turns the conventional textbook wisdom on its head by using pop culture references to illustrate key concepts and cover recent political events Adopters of previous editions are thanking author Douglas A Van Belle for some of their best student evaluations to date With this Sixth Edition Van Belle brings the book fully up to date with current events and policy debates international happenings and other assorted intergalactic matters Van Belle tackles the most tumultuous political periods in recent history head on encouraging students to engage with ideas arguments and information that makes them uncomfortable Employing a wide range of references from Brooklyn Nine Nine to The Good Place to Ready Player One students are given a solid grounding in institutions ideology and economics To keep things grounded the textbook nuts and bolts are still there to aid students including chapter objectives chapter summaries bolded key terms and discussion questions Included with this title The password protected Instructor Resource Site formally known as SAGE Edge offers access to all text specific resources including a test bank and editable chapter specific PowerPoint slides Agitpop Arthur Asa Berger, 2017-07-12 In this entirely sophisticated and scholarly account of political culture Arthur Asa Berger shows how the variety of cultural preferences creates the foundations of communication theory Using the work of Aaron Wildavsky the author shows how individualism egalitarianism collectivism and fatalism form the basis of culture in complex societies But more importantly Berger breaks down the mechanical distinction between mass culture and elite culture showing how they interpenetrate and crossover at the level of competitive and hierarchical frames Agitpop now in paperback suggests that there is an ideological content to our popular culture even though the creators no less than the consumers of that culture are either unaware or dimly aware that they are creating works with an ideological bent The work takes up in quick order two examples from different areas of the hierarchical individualist egalitarian and fatalist cultures From football games to the Iran Contra Hearings from MTV to the Human Potential Movement from Max Headroom to humor on the Jews and from wrestling to The Terminator Berger takes up his master themes with a deft touch of his own Weaving in the work of scholars from Emile Durkheim to Aaron Wildavsky he manages to make each of the chapters very much his own For those who know the earlier work of this author the reader will be very much at home for those new to Berger the volume will be a joyous revelation The final three chapters reveal a deeper aspect of Berger's work His interpretation of the earlier materials in terms of the semiotics of power of textual analysis or deconstruction of the media and finally an analysis and self analysis of the larger research agenda of which this work is pivotal should make this book central to the theoretical construction of popular and political culture For people working in communications theory political culture and the sociology of knowledge this book is a must for everyone else Globalization and American the the potential of sound infrasound and ultrasound to access anomalous zones of transmission between the realms of the living and the dead For as long as recording and communications technologies have existed operators have evoked the potential of sound infrasound and ultrasound to access anomalous zones of transmission between the realms of the living and the dead In Unsound Undead contributors from a variety of disciplines chart these undead zones mapping out a nonlinear timeline populated by sonic events stretching from the 8th century BC the song of the Sirens to 2013 acoustic levitation with a speculative extension into 2057 the emergence of holographic and holosonic phenomena For the past seven years the AUDINT group has been researching peripheral sonic perception unsound and the ways in which frequencies are utilized to modulate our understanding of presence non presence entertainment torture and ultimately life death Concurrently themes of hauntology have inflected the musical zeitgeist resonating with the notion of a general cultural malaise and a reinvestment in traces of lost futures inhabiting the present This undead culture has already spawned a Lazarus economy in which Tupac ODB and Eazy E are digitally revived as laser lit holograms The obscure otherworldly dimensions of sound have also been explored in the sonic fictions produced by the likes of Drexciya Sun Ra and Underground Resistance where hauntology is virtually extended the future appears in the cracks of the present The contributions to this volume reveal how the sonic nurtures new dimensions in which the real and the imagined fictional hyperstitional speculative bleed into one another where actual sonic events collide with spatiotemporal anomalies and time travelling entities and where the unsound serves to summon the undead Contributors Lawrence Abu Hamdan Lendl Barcelos Charlie Blake Lisa Blanning Brooker Buckingham Al Cameron Erik Davis Kodwo Eshun Matthew Fuller Kristen Gallerneaux Lee Gamble Agn s Gayraud Steve Goodman Anna Greenspan Olga Gurionova S Ayesha Hameed Tim Hecker Julian Henriques Toby Heys Eleni Ikoniadou Amy Ireland Nicola Masciandaro Ramona Naddaff Anthony Nine The Occulture Luciana Parisi Alina Popa Paul Purgas Georgina Rochefort Steven Shaviro Jonathan Sterne Jenna Sutela Eugene Thacker Dave Tompkins Shelley Trower and Souzana Zamfe Sign Wars Robert Goldman, Stephen Papson, 1996-05-21 Television has become so saturated with commercials that it is difficult at times to tell the different images apart much less remember or care about them But on closer look television commercials can tell us a great deal about the interplay of market forces contemporary culture and corporate politics This book views contemporary ad culture as an ever accelerating war of meaning The authors show how corporate symbols or signs vie for attention span and market share by appropriating and quickly abandoning diverse elements of culture to differentiate products that may be in themselves virtually indistinguishable The resulting sign wars are both a cause and a consequence of a media culture that is cynical and jaded but striving for authenticity Including more than 100 illustrations and numerous examples from recent campaigns this book provides a critical review of the culture of advertising It exposes the contradictions that stem from turning culture into a commodity and illuminates the impact of television commercials on the way we see and understand the world around us Who Was Who on TV Norman Chance, 2010-12-22 The information herein was accumulated of fifty some odd years The collection process started when TV first came out and continued until today The books are in alphabetical order and cover shows from the 1940s to 2010 The author has added a brief explanation of each show and then listed all the characters who played the roles and for the most part the year or years the actor or actress played that role Also included are most of the people who created the shows the producers directors and the writers of the shows These books are a great source of trivia information and for most of the older folk will bring back some very fond memories I know a lot of times we think back and say Who was the guy that played such and such a role Enjoy

Dreams in American Television Narratives Cynthia Burkhead, 2013-05-23 Dreams in Television Narratives is the first comprehensive analysis of one of American television's most frequently utilized tropes: the dream. From its beginning, television has been a storytelling medium. Whether delivered to a live audience or played out on a sound stage, narratives and those who write them have always been the crux of the television program. While film can claim a long history of scholarly inquiry into the connection between film and dreams, no comprehensive research exists on the subject of television dreams. Locating its primary function as narrative, the author uses examples from American sitcoms and dramatic programs, analyzing the narrative functions of dreams using as its frame Carl Jung's narrative stages of the dream: exposition, development, culmination, and conclusion. While television dreams are analyzed throughout, case studies of the television programs The Sopranos and Buffy the Vampire Slayer are included to show in detail how dreams function throughout a television series. Includes a compendium of over 1000 television episodes that include dreams, a valuable tool for any television scholar or enthusiast.
