

CARDIOLOGY MCQs

Q-1

A 62-year-old man is admitted to hospital following a myocardial infarction. Four days after admission he develops a further episode of central crushing chest pain. Which is the best cardiac marker to investigate his chest pain?

- A. LDH
- B. Troponin I
- C. Troponin T
- D. CK-MB
- E. AST

ANSWER:
CK-MB

EXPLANATION:

By day four the CK-MB levels should have returned to normal from the initial myocardial infarction. If the CK-MB levels are elevated it would indicate a further coronary event

CARDIAC ENZYMES AND PROTEIN MARKERS

Interpretation of the various cardiac enzymes has now largely been superseded by the introduction of troponin T and I. Questions still however commonly appear in exams.

Key points for the exam

- myoglobin is the first to rise
- CK-MB is useful to look for reinfarction as it returns to normal after 2-3 days (troponin T remains elevated for up to 10 days)

	Begins to rise	Peak value	Returns to normal
Myoglobin	1-2 hours	6-8 hours	1-2 days
CK-MB	2-6 hours	16-20 hours	2-3 days
CK	4-8 hours	16-24 hours	3-4 days
Trop T	4-6 hours	12-24 hours	7-10 days
AST	12-24 hours	36-48 hours	3-4 days
LDH	24-48 hours	72 hours	8-10 days

Q-2

A patient is admitted with central chest pain and a diagnosis of non-ST elevation myocardial infarction is made. Aspirin and fondaparinux are given. What is the mechanism of action of fondaparinux?

- A. Reversible direct thrombin inhibitor
- B. Glycoprotein IIb/IIIa receptor antagonist
- C. Inhibits antithrombin III
- D. Inhibits ADP binding to its platelet receptor
- E. Activates antithrombin III

ANSWER:

Activates antithrombin III

EXPLANATION:

Fondaparinux works in a similar way to low-molecular weight heparin.

ACUTE CORONARY SYNDROME: MANAGEMENT OF NSTEMI

NICE produced guidelines in 2013 on the Secondary prevention in primary and secondary care for patients following a myocardial infarction management of unstable angina and non-ST elevation myocardial infarction (NSTEMI). These superseded the 2010 guidelines which advocated a risk-based approach to management which determined whether drugs such as clopidogrel were given.

All patients should receive

- aspirin 300mg
- nitrates or morphine to relieve chest pain if required

Whilst it is common that non-hypoxic patients receive oxygen therapy there is little evidence to support this approach. The 2008 British Thoracic Society oxygen therapy guidelines advise not giving oxygen unless the patient is hypoxic.

Antithrombin treatment. Fondaparinux should be offered to patients who are not at a high risk of bleeding and who are not having angiography within the next 24 hours. If angiography is likely within 24 hours or a patient's creatinine is > 265 µmol/l unfractionated heparin should be given.

Clopidogrel 300mg should be given to all patients and continued for 12 months.

Intravenous glycoprotein IIb/IIIa receptor antagonists (eptifibatide or tirofiban) should be given to patients who have an intermediate or higher risk of adverse cardiovascular events (predicted 6-month mortality above 3.0%), and who are scheduled to undergo angiography within 96 hours of hospital admission.

Coronary angiography should be considered within 96 hours of first admission to hospital to patients who have a predicted 6-month mortality above 3.0%. It should also be performed as soon as possible in patients who are clinically unstable.

The table below summarises the mechanism of action of drugs commonly used in the management of acute coronary syndrome:

Medication	Mechanism of action
Aspirin	Antiplatelet - inhibits the production of thromboxane A ₂
Clopidogrel	Antiplatelet - inhibits ADP binding to its platelet receptor
