Medieval Sculpture And Words Of Art:

Word And Image William Diebold,2018-05-04 This book provides an introduction to early medieval art both the images themselves and the methods used to study them focusing on the relationship of word and image a relationship that was central in northern Europe and the Mediterranean from about 600 to about 1050 Art and Entertainment Andy Hamilton,2024-02-29 Philosophers have discussed art or artistic practices such as poetry since ancient times But systems of art and entertainment appeared only in the modern era in the West during the 18th and 19th centuries And philosophers have largely neglected the concept of entertainment In this book Andy Hamilton explores art and entertainment from a philosophical standpoint He argues against modernist theory that art and entertainment are not opposites but form a loosely connected conceptual system Against postmodernism however he insists on their vital differences Hamilton begins by questioning the received modernist view examining artist entertainers including Jane Austen Charles Dickens Louis Armstrong and Billie Holiday Entertainment he argues is by nature audience centred but so is art in a different way Thus while art should pass the test of time entertainment must pass the test of its own time it has to entertain at the time it is produced Art and entertainment are inter dependent concepts and must be understood together with other aesthetic concepts including criticism genius canons and design These concepts form the subject of later chapters of this book where Hamilton develops a meritocratic position that is neither elitist nor populist He also addresses the contemporary charge of cultural appropriation and qualifies it An innovative feature of the book is the inclusion of dialogues with artists critics and academics that help to recast or reformulate the debate Art and Entertainment A Philosophical Exploration is essential reading for those working in art and aesthetics and will also be of interest to those in related disciplines such as cultural studies music and film studies with an interest in entertainment W.G. Sebald ,2016-08-09 This volume presents the work of internationally renowned scholars from Australia Germany Italy South Africa the UK and the US The focus on W G Sebald s writing as that of an expatriate author offers a fresh and productive approach to Sebald scholarship In one way or another all 28 essays in this innovative bi lingual collection take up the notion of Sebald s experience as an expatriate writer be it in the analysis of intertextual transmedial and generic border crossings on the exposure to the other and the experience of alterity on the question of identity construction and performance on affinities with other expatriate writers on the recurring topics of home exile dislocation and migration or on the continuing work of memory to work through and to preserve the consciousness of a destructive past that has informed the childhood as much as the adult life world of the author The Grove Encyclopedia of Medieval Art and Architecture Colum Hourihane,2012 This volume offers unparalleled coverage of all aspects of art and architecture from medieval Western Europe from the 6th century to the early 16th century Drawing upon the expansive scholarship in the celebrated Grove Dictionary of Art and adding hundreds of new entries it offers students researchers and the general public a reliable up to date and convenient resource covering this field of major importance in the development of Western history and international art and architecture The Mind's Eye Jeffrey F. Hamburger,Anne-Marie Bouché,2006 The Mind s Eye focuses on the relationships among art theology exegesis and literature issues long central to the study of medieval art yet ripe for reconsideration Essays by leading scholars from many fields examine the illustration of theological commentaries the use of images to expound or disseminate doctrine the role of images within theological discourse the development of doctrine in response to images and the place of vision and the visual in theological thought At issue are the ways in which theologians responded to the images that we call art and in which images entered into dialogue with theological discourse In what ways could medieval art be construed as argumentative in structure as well as in function Are any of the modes of representation in medieval art analogous to those found in texts In what ways did images function as vehicles not merely vessels of meaning and signification To what extent can exegesis and other genres of theological discourse shed light on the form as well as the content and function of medieval images These are only some of the challenging questions posed by this unprecedented and interdisciplinary collection which provides a historical framework within which to reconsider the relationship between seeing and thinking perception and the imagination in the Middle Ages

Motherhood and Meaning in Medieval Sculpture Marian Bleeke,2017 An examination of women as mothers in medieval French sculpture What can medieval sculptural representations of women tell us about medieval women s experiences of motherhood Presumably the work of male sculptors working for clerical patrons these sculptures are unlikely to have been shaped by women s maternal experiences during their production Once produced however their beholders would have included women who were mothers and potential mothers thus opening a space between the sculptures intended meanings and other meanings liable to be produced by these women as they brought their own interests and concerns to these works of art Building on theories of reception and response this book focuses on interactions between women asbeholders and a range of sculptures made in France in the twelfth through sixteenth centuries aiming to provide insight into women s experiences of motherhood particular sculptures considered include the Annunciation and Visitation from Reims cathedral the femme aux serpents from Moissac the transi of Jeanne de Bourbon Vendome the Eve from Autun and a number of French Gothic Virgin and Child sculptures Marian Bleeke is Associate Professor of Art History and Chair of the Department of Art and Design at Cleveland State University Studies in the Art and Imagery of the Middle Ages Richard Marks,2013-12-31 Edinburgh Companion to Gothic and the Arts David Punter,2019-08-05 The Gothic is a contested and complicated phenomenon extending over many centuries and across all the arts In The Edinburgh Companion to the Gothic and the Arts the range of essays run from medieval architecture and design to contemporary gaming and internet fiction from classical painting to the modern novel from ballet and dance to contemporary Goth music The contributors include many of the best known critics of the Gothic e g Hogle Punter Spooner Bruhm as well as newer names such as Kirk and Round The editor has put all these contributors in touch with each other in the preparation of their essays in order to ensure the maximum benefit to the reader by producing a well integrated book which will prove much more than a collection of disparate essays but rather a distinctive contribution to a field Language in the Visual Arts Leslie Ross,2014-07-02 This book discusses text and image relationships in the history of art from ancient times to the contemporary period across a diversity of cultures and geographic areas Focusing on the use of words in art and words as art forms thematic chapters include Pictures in Words Words in Pictures Word Picture Puzzles Picture Word Puzzles Words as Images The Power of the Word and Monumental and Moving Words Chapter subsections further explore cross cultural themes Examining text and image relationships from the obvious to the elusive the puzzling to the profound the minor to the major the book demonstrates the diverse ways in which images and writing have been combined through the ages and explores the interplay between visual and written communication in a wide range of thought provoking examples A color insert is included Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here The Marvellous and the Monstrous in the Sculpture of Twelfth-century Europe Kirk Ambrose,2013 Richly illustrated consideration of the meaning of the carvings of non human beings from centaurs to eagles found in ecclesiastical settings Representations of monsters and the monstrous are common in medieval art and architecture from the grotesques in the borders of illuminated manuscripts to the symbol of the green man widespread in churches and cathedrals These mysterious depictions are frequently interpreted as embodying or mitigating the fears symptomatic of a dark age This book however considers an alternative scenario in what ways did monsters in twelfth century sculpture help audiences envision perhaps even achieve various ambitions Using examples of Romanesque sculpture from across Europe with a focus on France and northern Portugal the author suggests that medieval representations of monsterscould service ideals whether intellectual political religious and social even as they could simultaneously articulate fears he argues that their material presence energizes works of art in paradoxical even contradictory ways In this way Romanesque monsters resist containment within modern interpretive categories and offer testimony to the density and nuance of the medieval imagination KIRK AMBROSE is Associate Professor Chair Department of Art and Art History University of Colorado Boulder Sculpture: The great art of the Middle Ages from the fifth century to the fifteenth century Philippe Bruneau,Georges Duby,Xavier Barral i Altet,Sophie Guillot de Suduiraut,1996 Four volumes cover the history of sculpture from earliest times to the 20th century

The Art and Science of the Church Screen in Medieval Europe Spike Bucklow,Richard Marks,Lucy Wrapson,2017 Fresh examinations of one of the most important church furnishings of the middle ages The churches of medieval Europe contained richly carved and painted screens placed between the altar and the congregation they survive in particularly high numbers in England despite being partly dismantled during the Reformation While these screens divided lay from priestly jurisdiction it has also been argued that they served to unify architectural space This volume brings together the latest scholarship on the subject exploring in detail numerous aspects of the construction and painting of screens it aims in particular to unite perspectives from science and art history Examples are drawn from a wide geographical range from Scandinavia to Italy Spike Bucklow is Director of Research at the Hamilton Kerr Institute University of Cambridge Richard Marks is Emeritus Professor of the History of Art at the University of York and currently a member of the History of Art Department University of Cambridge Lucy Wrapson is Assistant to the Director at the Hamilton Kerr Institute University of Cambridge Contributors Paul Binski Spike Bucklow Donal Cooper David Griffith Hugh Harrison JacquelineJung Justin Kroesen Julian Luxford Richard Marks Ebbe Nyborg Eddie Sinclair Jeffrey West Lucy Wrapson Hawthorne, Sculpture, and the Question of American Art Deanna Fernie,2011 Analyzing sculpture in Hawthorne s fiction through the recurring motif of the fragment in its double guise as ruin and project Deanna Fernie establishes the intellectual contexts for her study through a discussion of sculpture and fragmentary form as revealed in American British and Continental thought Her book will be an important text not only for American literature scholars but also for anyone interested in British and Continental Romanticism and the intersections of art and literature Artists of the Middle Ages Leslie D. Ross,2003-06-30 In the first volume of the Artists of an Era series Leslie Ross examines the identities of artists attributed to the most famous and influential works of medieval art These works are much discussed within the realm of art history yet the identities of medieval artists fall victim to incomplete historical records and often remain enigmatic In ten narrative chapters Ross examines this significant area of the art world including architecture iconography metalwork scribework sculpture even medieval art instruction and summarizes the lives and work of that genre s leading artist or artists Students will learn not only what is factually known of an artist s life as well as what is purely speculative but also the processes used to gather the information and fuel speculation Readers will also gain unique insights into the practices and traditions of medieval art and the role it played within medieval society A timeline chapter bibliographies a list of further resources on medieval art and an index offer additional tools to students of medieval art and art history Current Encyclopedia Samuel Fallows,Edmund Buckley,Shailer Mathews,1904 The World To-day ,1903 Mysticism and Experience Alex S.
