Race and Mixed Race Naomi Zack, 1993 In the first philosophical challenge to accepted racial classifications in the United States Naomi Zack uses philosophical methods to criticize their logic Tracing social and historical problems related to racial identity she discusses why race is a matter of such importance in America and examines the treatment of mixed race in law society and literature Zack argues that black and white designations are themselves racist because the concept of race does not have an adequate scientific foundation The one drop rule originally a rationalization for slavery persists today even though there have never been pure races and most American blacks have white genes Exploring the existential problems of mixed race identity she points out how the bi racial system in this country generates a special racial alienation for many Americans Ironically suggesting that we include gray in our racial vocabulary Zack concludes that any racial identity is an expression of bad faith Author note Naomi Zack is Assistant Professor in the Department of Philosophy at the State University of New York at Albany She herself is of mixed race Jewish African American and Native American

Multiracial Identity in Children's Literature Amina Chaudhri, 2017-02-10 Racially mixed children make up the fastest growing youth demographic in the U S and teachers of diverse populations need to be mindful in selecting literature that their students can identify with This volume explores how books for elementary school students depict and reflect multiracial experiences through text and images Chaudhri examines contemporary children's literature to demonstrate the role these books play in perpetuating and resisting stereotypes and the ways in which they might influence their readers Through critical analysis of contemporary children's fiction Chaudhri highlights the connections between context literature and personal experience to deepen our understanding of how children's books treat multiracial identity

Neither Black Nor White Yet Both Werner Sollors, 1997-04-24 Why can a white woman give birth to a black baby while a black woman can never give birth to a white baby in the United States What makes racial passing so different from social mobility Why are interracial and incestuous relations often confused or conflated in literature making miscegenation appear as if it were incest When did the myth that one can tell a person's race by the moon on their fingernails originate How did blackness get associated with the curse of Ham when the Biblical text makes no reference to skin color at all Werner Sollors examines these questions and others in Neither Black Nor White Yet Both a new and exhaustively researched exploration of interracial literature In the past interracial texts have been read more for a black white contrast of either or than for an interracial realm of neither nor both and in between Intermarriage prohibitions have been legislated throughout the modern period and were still in the law books in the 1980s Stories of black white sexual and family relations have thus run against powerful social taboos Yet much interracial literature has been written and this book suggests its pervasiveness and offers new comparative and historical contexts for understanding it Looking at authors from Heliodorus John Stedman Buffon Thomas Jefferson Heinrich von Kleist Victor Hugo Aleksandr Sergeevic Puskin and Hans Christian Andersen to Lydia Marie Child Harriet Beecher Stowe William Wells Brown Mark Twain Charles Chesnutt Kate Chopin Cirilo Villaverde Aluisio Azevedo and Pauline Hopkins and on to modern writers such as Langston Hughes Jessie Fauset Boris Vian and William Faulkner Sollors ranges across time space and cultures analyzing scientific and legal works as well as poetry fiction and the visual arts to explore the many themes and motifs interwoven throughout interracial literature From the etymological origins of the term race to the cultural sources of the Tragic Mulatto Sollors examines the recurrent images and ideas in this literature of love family and other relations between blacks whites and those of mixed race Sollors interdisciplinary explorations of literary themes yield many insights into the history and politics of race and illuminate a new understanding of the relations between cultures through the focus on interracial exchanges Neither Black Nor White Yet Both is vital reading for anyone who seeks to understand what has been written and said about race and where interracial relations can go from here

The Souls of Mixed Folk Michele Elam, 2011-02-21 The Souls of Mixed Folk examines representations of mixed race in literature and the arts that redefine new millennial aesthetics and politics Focusing on black white mixes Elam analyzes expressive works novels drama graphic narrative late night television art installations as artistic rejoinders to the perception that post Civil Rights politics are bereft and post Black art is apolitical Reorienting attention to the cultural invention of mixed race from the social sciences to the humanities Elam considers the creative work of Lezley Saar Aaron McGruder Nate Creekmore Danzy Senna Colson Whitehead Emily Raboteau Carl Hancock Rux and Dave Chappelle All these writers and artists address mixed race as both an aesthetic challenge and a social concern and together they gesture toward a poetics of social justice for the mulatto millennium The Souls of Mixed Folk seeks a middle way between competing hagiographic and apocalyptic impulses in mixed race scholarship between those who proselytize mixed race as the great hallelujah to the race problem and those who can only hear the alarmist bells of civil rights destruction Both approaches can obscure some of the more critically astute engagements with new millennial iterations of mixed race by the multi generic cohort of contemporary writers artists and performers discussed in this book The Souls of Mixed Folk offers case studies of their creative work in an effort to expand the contemporary idiom about mixed race in the so called post race moment asking how might new millennial expressive forms suggest an aesthetics of mixed race And how might such an aesthetics productively reimagine the relations between race art and social equity in the twenty first century

Shades of Gray Molly Littlewood McKibbin, 2018-01-01 In Shades of Gray Molly Littlewood McKibbin offers a social and literary history of multiracialism in the twentieth century United States She examines the African American and white racial binary in contemporary multiracial literature to reveal the tensions and struggles of multiracialism in American life through individual consciousness social perceptions societal expectations and subjective struggles with multiracial identity McKibbin weaves a rich sociohistorical tapestry around the critically acclaimed works of Danzy Senna Caucasia 1998 Rebecca Walker Black White and Jewish Autobiography of a Shifting Self 2001 Emily Raboteau The Professor's Daughter 2005 Rachel M Harper Brass Ankle Blues 2006 and Heidi Durrow The Girl Who Fell from the Sky 2010 Taking into account the social history of racial classification and the literary history of depicting mixed race she argues that these writers are producing new representations of multiracial identity Shades of Gray examines the current opportunity to define racial identity after the civil rights black power and multiracial movements of the late twentieth century changed the sociopolitical climate of the United States and helped revolutionize the racial consciousness of the nation McKibbin makes the case that twenty first century literature is able to represent multiracial identities for the first time in ways that do not adhere to the dichotomous conceptions of race that have until now determined how racial identities could be expressed in the United States

Crossing B(1)ack Sika Dagbovie-Mullins, 2013-01-25 The past two decades have seen a growing influx of biracial discourse in fiction memoir and theory and since the 2008 election of Barack Obama to the presidency debates over whether America has entered a post racial phase have set the media abuzz In this penetrating and provocative study Sika A Dagbovie Mullins adds a new dimension to this dialogue as she investigates the ways in which various mixed race writers and public figures have redefined both blackness and whiteness by invoking multiple racial identities Focusing on several key novels Nella Larsen's Quicksand 1928 Lucinda Roy's Lady Moses 1998 and Danzy Senna's Caucasia 1998 as well as memoirs by Obama James McBride and Rebecca Walker and the personae of singer Mariah Carey and actress Halle Berry Dagbovie Mullins challenges conventional claims about biracial identification with a concept she calls black sentient mixed race identity Whereas some multiracial organizations can diminish blackness by for example championing the inclusion of multiple race options on census forms and similar documents a black sentient consciousness stresses a perception rooted in blackness a connection to a black consciousness writes the author that does not overdetermine but still plays a large role in one's racial identification By examining the nuances of this concept through close readings of fiction memoir and the public images of mixed race celebrities Dagbovie Mullins demonstrates how a black sentient mixed race identity reconciles the widening separation between black white mixed race and blackness that has been encouraged by contemporary mixed race politics and popular culture A book that promises to spark new debate and thoughtful reconsiderations of an especially timely topic Crossing Black recognizes and investigates assertions of a black centered mixed race identity that does not divorce a premodern racial identity from a postmodern racial fluidity Mixed Race Life Stories Jillian Paragg,2023-06-30 Framing a new theoretical analysis in a field with limited data Mixed Race Life Stories The Multiracializing Gaze in Canada builds an understanding of the affective lived experiences of mixed race people the different ways they are racialized and how that may impact a politics of mixed race moving forward Mixed-Race Identity in the American South Julia Sattler,2021-05-04 This interdisciplinary investigation argues that since the 1990s discourses about mixed race heritage in the United States have taken the shape of a veritable literary genre here termed memoir of the search The study uses four different texts to explore this non fictional genre including Edward Ball's Slaves in the Family and Shirlee Taylor Haizlip's The Sweeter the Juice All feature a protagonist using methods from archival investigation to DNA testing to explore an intergenerational family secret photographs and family trees and the trip to the American South which is identified as the site of the secret's origin and of the family's past As a genre these texts negotiate the memory of slavery and segregation in the present In taking up central narratives of Americanness such as the American Dream and the Immigrant story as well as discourses generating the American family the texts help inscribe themselves and the mixed race heritage they address into the American mainstream In its outlook this book highlights the importance of the memoirs negotiations of the past when finding ways to remember after the last witnesses have passed away and contributes to the discussion over political justice and reparations for slavery An Anthology of Interracial Literature Werner Sollors,2004-02 This anthology explores the literary theme of black white encounters of love and family stories that cross or are crossed by what came to be considered racial boundaries The Influence of Mixed-race Identity in American Literature Through Three Perspectives: Native American, African American and Hispanic Jessica Saillen,2015 Mixed Race America and the Law Kevin R. Johnson,2003-02 This ground breaking anthology examines the mixed race experience and the impact of law on mixed race citizens in America Complicating Constructions David S. Goldstein,Audrey B. Thacker,2011-10-01 This volume of collected essays offers truly multiethnic historically comparative and meta theoretical readings of the literature and culture of the United States Covering works by a diverse set of American authors from Toni Morrison to Bret Harte these essays provide a vital supplement to the critical literary canon mapping a
