Howe took a leading role in the defining struggles in Britain against institutional racism in the police, the courts and the media. Renegade focuses on his part as a defendant in the trial of the Mangrove Nine, the high point of Black Power in Britain, his role in conceiving and organizing the Black People's Day of Action, the largest ever demonstration by the black community in Britain, and his later work as a prominent journalist and political commentator.

Affective Movements, Methods and Pedagogies Anne Harris, Stacy Holman Jones, 2020-12-09 Affective Movements: Methods and Pedagogies invites readers to think with affect about performance pedagogies and their inherent activist, embodied and collective natures. It works across multiple spheres to help readers understand how to deploy affective approaches rather than to simply think with affect theory about traditional methods. The book is structured and curated across three main thematic sections: affective movements, methods and pedagogies, each of which treats the core explorations of affect and performance through a different perspective. It is concerned with the ways performance and theatrical methods work with and through a theatre of affect. The sixteen chapters include work that models theoretical practices in writing and demonstrates how theorising affect and its methods is itself a performative practice. The contributors offer rich examples from diverse geopolitical as well as disciplinary contexts, innovative methods and finally intersectional theatre of affect. This collection will be of interest to higher education students exploring methodologies and academic researchers and teachers in the fields of performance studies, communication, critical studies, sociology and the arts.
