The Garden

, 2002 Journal of the Botanical Society of South Africa Botanical Society of South Africa, 1927 Australia's Water Resources John Pigram, 2007-05-25 Australia's Water Resources seeks to explore the circumstances underpinning the profound reorientation of attitudes and relationships to water that has taken place in Australia in recent decades The changing emphasis from development to management of water resources continues to evolve and is reflected in a series of public policy initiatives directed towards rational efficient and sustainable use of the nation's water Australia is now recognised as a pacesetter in water reform Administrative restructuring water pricing water markets and trade integrated water resources management and the emergence of the private sector are features of a more economically sound and environmentally compatible water industry It is important that these changes are documented and their rationale and effectiveness explained This timely work provides an important synthesis of these issues This revised paperback edition is a fully corrected reprint of the hardback edition Urban Biodiversity and Design Norbert Muller,P. Werner,J. G. Kelcey,2010-05-10 With the continual growth of the world s urban population biodiversity in towns and cities will play a critical role in global biodiversity This is the first book to provide an overview of international developments in urban biodiversity and sustainable design It brings together the views experiences and expertise of leading scientists and designers from the industrialised and pre industrialised countries from around the world The contributors explore the biological cultural and social values of urban biodiversity including methods for assessing and evaluating urban biodiversity social and educational issues and practical measures for restoring and maintaining biodiversity in urban areas Contributions come from presenters at an international scientific conference held in Erfurt Germany 2008 during the 9th Conference of the Parties of the Convention on Biodiversity This is also Part of our Conservation Science and Practice book series with Zoological Society of London Landprints George Seddon,1998-09-28 From one of Australia s foremost thinkers a uniquely broad ranging 1997 collection of essays on landscape Green Landscapes in the European City, 1750-2010 Peter Clark,Marjaana Niemi,Catharina Nolin,2016-12-08 Green space is a fundamental concept for understanding modern and contemporary urban society shedding light not only on the ecological development of cities but also societal relations urban governance and planning processes Closely linked to issues of environmental change changing perceptions of nature urban well being and social integration as well as city economic competitiveness and branding it is an important element both in the internationalisation of European cities and the forging of their distinctive communal identities Building upon recent research on the history of green landscapes in the city in Europe and North America this volume mirrors the burgeoning global attention to urban green space developments from city policy makers and planners architects climatologists ecologists geographers and other social scientists Taking case studies from Paris London Berlin Helsinki and other leading centres the volume examines when why and how green landscapes evolved in major cities and the extent to which they have been shaped by shared external forces as well as by distinctive and specific local needs Quantifying green space trends in this way raises important issues of classification and categorisation of the different varieties of urban green space While urban parks have received considerable coverage many other smaller less prestigious spaces have been largely ignored This volume argues that green landscapes can only be properly understood when the full range of spaces from parks to recreation grounds housing areas allotments and domestic gardens is taken into account Adopting a broader approach to urban green space helps put European developments during the 19th and 20th centuries into a global perspective Alternative Economies of Heritage Denise Thwaites,Bethaney Turner,Tracy Ireland,2025-02-25 Alternative Economies of Heritage is a groundbreaking edited volume that critically evaluates how the work of heritage can be reimagined as a multifarious field of thought and action to resist the reductive economies of colonial capitalism In a global context of cultural financialisation and ecological crisis where sustainable anti colonial and creative approaches are required to solve urgent problems this volume provides readers with an enriched understanding of heritage as a transforming and multidisciplinary domain which continues to question what is valued discarded or shared with future generations Bringing together researchers from the academy and industry and from varied international contexts this volume asks how does heritage as a complex intersection of contemporary practices with their own diverse histories recognise and circulate cultural value between generations and communities This volume brings together critical and creative perspectives from 29 authors showcasing diverse coexisting heritage economies across six continents that offer new horizons for cultural inheritance It also platforms perspectives from professional and grassroots community based heritage practitioners which may be of interest to non academic readers from not for profit and public sectors Readers of Alternative Economies of Heritage may include students and scholars of heritage and museum studies contemporary art urbanism environmental humanities archaeology anthropology digital humanities and Indigenous studies among other disciplines
