other European literature to the nature and origin of these theories and ultimately to help them clarify their own attitudes to literature Professor Ruthven's approach is to bring together and analyse examples of the way in which major writers and critics have dealt with the critical issues raised by different kinds of writing He emphasizes throughout the variety of critical stances taken at different times in response to the challenge posed by highly original works and he draws on a large number of instances from all the major periods of English literature The examination of the historical material presented here should encourage students of English as well as other modern European literatures to recognise and re appraise their own critical assumptions
