Brown, 2016-10-03 Winner of the 2017 Virginia Marie Folkins Award Association of King County Historical Organizations AKCHO Winner of the 2017 Hal K Rothman Book Prize Western History Association Seattle would not exist without animals Animals have played a vital role in shaping the city from its founding amid existing indigenous towns in the mid nineteenth century to the livestock friendly town of the late nineteenth century to the pet friendly livestock averse modern city When newcomers first arrived in the 1850s they hastened to assemble the familiar cohort of cattle horses pigs chickens and other animals that defined European agriculture This in turn contributed to the dispossession of the Native residents of the area However just as various animals were used to create a Euro American city the elimination of these same animals from Seattle was key to the creation of the new middle class neighborhoods of the twentieth century As dogs and cats came to symbolize home and family Seattleites relationship with livestock became distant and exploitative demonstrating the deep social contradictions that characterize the modern American metropolis Throughout Seattle's history people have sorted animals into categories and into places as a way of asserting power over animals other people and property In The City Is More Than Human Frederick Brown explores the dynamic troubled relationship humans have with animals In so doing he challenges us to acknowledge the role of animals of all sorts in the making and remaking of cities      Washington Public Documents Washington (State), 1923      Public Documents Washington (State), 1923      Western Dairy Foods Review, 1928      Report Washington (State).  American Diaries, 1902-1926 Theodore Dreiser, 2015-09-30 Dreiser's careful preservation of his papers bears new fruit with the publication of his personal diaries for the years 1902-26 This volume presents all seven of Dreiser's hitherto unpublished American diaries the intermittent journals he kept during the most productive years of his literary career Together they constitute a revealing self portrait as well as a valuable commentary on the American scene during the first quarter of the twentieth century They offer reflections on turn of the century Philadelphia the American South and Mid West Greenwich Village of the nineteen teens and Hollywood of the twenties The diaries begin in 1902 when Dreiser was at a low point after the suppression of Sister Carrie and continue until 1926 when he was enjoying the greatest success of his career with An American Tragedy This publication constitutes in its entirety a new source for biographical and critical study This is particularly true of the diaries covering Dreiser's experience in Philadelphia Greenwich Village and with Helen Richardson all of which were not available to previous biographers The present Introduction by Professor Riggio is the first biographical narrative to make use of these materials Future biographers will now be able to speak with more assurance of Dreiser's whereabouts the people he knew what he was reading which writings were in progress and of his fascinating private affairs in general In addition these diaries will be of interest to students of Dreiser's literary art as they reveal subtle aspects of how Dreiser viewed the external world and transmuted it in his daily creative efforts      Seattle Journal for Social Justice
