a dirty essence that is impossible to cleanse Regnier's field experiments question the widely accepted idea that the social stigma against slavery is a legacy of pre colonial society He argues to the contrary that the essentialist construal of slaves is the outcome of the historical process triggered by the colonial abolition of slavery whereas in pre abolition times slaves could be cleansed through ritual means the abolition of slavery meant that slaves were transformed only superficially into free persons while their inner essence remained unchanged and became progressively constructed as forever unchangeable Based on detailed fieldwork this volume will be of interest to scholars of anthropology African studies development studies cultural psychology and those looking at the legacy of slavery
