LIFE, 1965-06-04 LIFE Magazine is the treasured photographic magazine that chronicled the 20th Century. It now lives on at LIFE.com, the largest most amazing collection of professional photography on the internet. Users can browse search and view photos of today's people and events. They have free access to share print and post images for personal use. In the National Interest Gary Evans, 1991-01-01 Gary Evans traces the development of the postwar NFB, picking up the story where he left it at the end of his earlier work John Grierson and the National Film Board: The Politics of Wartime Propaganda.

Nobody Waved Goodbye Elizabeth Haggard, 1971 Detecting Canada Jeannette Sloniowski, Marilyn Rose, 2014-03-25 The first serious book-length study of crime writing in Canada, Detecting Canada contains thirteen essays on many of Canada's most popular crime writers including Peter Robinson, Giles Blunt, Gail Bowen, Thomas King, Michael Slade, Margaret Atwood, and Anthony Bidulka. Genres examined range from the well-loved police procedural and the amateur sleuth to those less well-known such as anti-detection and contemporary noir novels. The book looks critically at the esteemed sixties television show Wojeck as well as the more recent series Da Vinci's Inquest, Da Vinci's City Hall, and Intelligence and the controversial Durham County, a critically acclaimed but violent television series that ran successfully in both Canada and the United States. The essays in Detecting Canada look at texts from a variety of perspectives including postcolonial studies, gender and queer studies, feminist studies, Indigenous studies, and critical race and class studies. Crime fiction, enjoyed by so many around the world, speaks to all of us about justice, citizenship, and important social issues in an uncertain world. The Cinema of Québec Janis L. Pallister, 1995 Québécois cinema, too long neglected and too long unknown by American viewers and often not appreciated on its own terrain, receives its well-deserved defense in Janis L. Pallister's The Cinema of Quebec: Masters in Their Own House.

Canadian Cinema Since the 1980s David L. Pike, 2012-12-06 Award-winning author David L. Pike offers a unique focus on the crucial quarter-century in Canadian filmmaking when the industry became a viable force on the international stage. Pike provides a lively, personal, and accessible history of the most influential filmmakers and movements of both Anglo-Canadian and Québécois cinema, from popular movies to art film and everything in between. Along with in-depth studies of key directors including David Cronenberg, Patricia Rozema, and Denys Arcand, Jean-Claude Lauzon, Robert Lepage, L'a Pool, Atom Egoyan, and Guy Maddin, Canadian Cinema since the 1980s reflects on major themes and genres and explores the regional and cultural diversity of the period. Pike positions Canadian filmmaking at the frontlines of a profound cinematic transformation in the age of global media and presents fresh perspectives on both its local and international contexts. Making a significant advance in the study of the film industry of the period, Canadian Cinema since the 1980s is also an ideal text for students, researchers, and Canadian film enthusiasts. Turn Up the Contrast Mary Jane Miller, 2011-11-01 From Shakespeare to cop shows, sitcoms to docudramas, for over three decades the CBC has presented viewers with every variety of television drama and has become Canada's closest equivalent to a national theatre. Turn Up the Contrast is the first book to explore the content of Canadian television drama and is both a critical analysis and a survey history of how Canadians have used the medium to tell themselves their own stories As a part of her research Mary Jane Miller watched thousands of hours of television sampling series and viewing in their entirety shorter programs such as movies and mini series Asking a variety of questions she selected a number of programs for detailed analysis and devotees of The Beachcombers King of Kensington Seeing Things Cariboo Country Wojeck or A Gift to Last will be pleased to find their favourites among those discussed at length A University of British Columbia Press CBC Enterprises Co Publication

Film and the City George Melnyk, 2014-05-01 Most Canadians are city dwellers a fact often unacknowledged by twentieth century Canadian films with their preference for themes of wilderness survival or rural life Modernist Canadian films tend to support what film scholar Jim Leach calls the nationalist realist project a documentary style that emphasizes the exoticism and mythos of the land Over the past several decades however the hegemony of Anglo centrism has been challenged by francophone and First Nations perspectives and the character of cities altered by a continued influx of immigrants and the development of cities as economic and technological centers No longer primarily defined through the lens of rural nostalgia Canadian urban identity is instead polyphonic diverse constructed through multiple discourses and mediums an exchange rather than a strict orientation Taking on the urban as setting and subject filmmakers are ideally poised to create and reflect multiple versions of a single city Examining fourteen Canadian films produced from 1989 to 2007 including Denys Arcand's Jus de Montrer 1989 Jean Claude Lauzon's Lolo 1992 Mina Shum's Double Happiness 1994 Clement Virgo's Rude 1995 and Guy Maddin's My Winnipeg 2007 Film and the City is the first comprehensive study of Canadian film and urbanity the totality of urban culture and life Drawing on film and urban studies and building upon issues of identity formation in Canadian studies Melnyk considers how filmmakers films and urban audiences experience represent and interpret urban spatiality visuality and orality In this way Film and the City argues that Canadian narrative film of the postmodern period has aided in articulating a new national identity

Ingmar Bergman's Persona Lloyd Michaels, 2000 Long held to be among the world's greatest filmmakers Ingmar Bergman shaped international art cinema from the 1950s to the 1980s Among his many works Persona is often considered to be his masterpiece and is often described as one of the central works of Modernism Bergman himself claimed that this film touched wordless secrets only the cinema can discover The essays collected in this volume and published for the first time use a variety of methodologies to explore topics such as acting technique genre and dramaturgy It also includes translations of Bergman's early writings that have never before been available in English as well as an updated filmography and bibliography that cover the filmmaker's most recent work

West/Border/Road Katherine Ann Roberts, 2018-04-18 The North American entertainment industry is rapidly consolidating and new modes of technological delivery challenge Canadian content regulations An understanding of how Canadian culture negotiates its rapport with American genres has never been more timely West Border Road offers an interdisciplinary analysis of contemporary Canadian manifestations of three American genres the western the border and the road It situates close readings of literary film and television narratives from both English Canada and Quebec within a larger context of Canadian generic borrowing and innovation Katherine Ann Roberts calls upon canonical works in Canadian studies theories of genre and a wide range of scholarship from border studies cultural studies and film studies to examine how genre is appropriated and sometimes reworked and how these cultural narratives engage with discourses of contemporary Canadian nationhood The author elucidates Guy Vanderhaeghe's rewriting of the codes of the historical western to include the trauma of Aboriginal peoples Aritha van Herk's playful spoof on American western iconography the politics and perils of the representation of the Canada

US border in CBC produced crime television and how the road genre inspires and constrains the Québécois and Canadian road movie. Guide to the Cinema(s) of Canada Peter Rist, 2001-07-30 This new volume in the Greenwood Press series Reference Guides to the World's Cinema discusses the films and personalities of the Canadian cinema. This guide encompasses the diverse output of both the English and French Canadian communities and includes 175 films and 125 filmmakers and actors. Alphabetically arranged, entries discuss important films, actors, directors, shorts, and a number of experimental films. With few exceptions, films are included only if their production company was incorporated in Canada. Similarly, filmmakers and actors represent people who have worked primarily in Canada. This guide will interest scholars, students, and film buffs. Brief bibliographies after each entry provide sources for further reading. Three appendixes provide additional information regarding Canadian-born filmmakers and actors excluded from the main text, winners of Canadian film awards, and a listing of the top ten Canadian films.

They Shot, He Scored James K. Wright, 2019-04-30 Eldon Davis Rathburn (1916-2008) one of the most multi-dimensional, prolific, and endlessly fascinating composers of the twentieth century wrote more music than any other Canadian composer of his generation. During a long and productive career that spanned seventy-five years, Rathburn served for thirty years as a staff composer with the National Film Board of Canada. 1947-76 scored the first generation of IMAX films and created a diverse catalogue of orchestral and chamber works. With the aid of extensive archival and documentary materials, They Shot, He Scored chronicles Rathburn's life and works, beginning with his formative years in Saint John, New Brunswick, and his breakthrough in Los Angeles in connection with Arnold Schoenberg and the LA Philharmonic Orchestra. The book follows his work at the NFB, his close encounters with some of the most celebrated international figures in his field, and his collaboration with the team of innovators who launched the IMAX film corporation. James Wright undertakes a close analytical reading of Rathburn's film and concert scores to outline his methods, compositional techniques, influences, and idiosyncratic approach to instrumentation, as well as his proto-postmodern proclivity for borrowing from diverse styles and genres. Authoritative and insightful, They Shot He Scored illuminates the extraordinary career of an unsung creative force in the film and music industry.

About Canada: Media Peter Steven, 2016-07-01T00:00:00Z

Canada enjoys a long-held reputation for producing high-quality media, from National Film Board documentaries to the CBC to children's programming. But in recent years, funding cuts, commercial media concentration, and a sour political environment have been steadily eroding this reputation. In About Canada: Media, Peter Steven examines developments in film, television, the internet, and newspapers, and finds that the quality of our news and entertainment media is steadily declining, as well as becoming increasingly restricted and less diverse. Although Canada is not alone in this crisis of quality, we are particularly vulnerable, living in the shadow of the United States. However, despite this decline and the shadow of our southern neighbour, Canada still produces distinctive and popular work which receives critical international acclaim. About Canada: Media explores all things CanCon and argues that the Canadian people must reclaim the media from elite interests in order to ensure its democratic and quality future.
