But the truth... The Ethics of Consent Franklin Miller, Alan Wertheimer, 2009-10-30. Consent is a basic component of the ethics of human relations, making permissible a wide range of conduct that would otherwise be wrongful. Consent marks the difference between slavery and employment, permissible sexual relations and rape, borrowing or selling and theft, medical treatment and battery, participation in research and being a human guinea pig. This book assembles the contributions of a distinguished group of scholars concerning the ethics of consent in theory and practice. Part One addresses theoretical perspectives on the nature and moral force of consent and its relationship to key ethical concepts such as autonomy and paternalism. Part Two examines consent in a broad range of contexts, including sexual relations, contracts, selling organs, political legitimacy, medicine, and research. Twenty "No-Brainers" for Reforming Education in America Jim Towers, 2007-08. The topic of educational reform does not have to be dull or boring. Written in a thought-provoking, straight-forward, and uncamouflaged vernacular, this book stuns the topic of educational reform in novel, provocative, radical, and at times politically incorrect ways. The no-nonsense approach advocated here lays bare the resounding truth about what must be done now to salvage the American educational system. Themes such as: How can schools regain the public's trust? Why high-stakes testing as now configured must be abolished? Why schools should return to their historic purposes? A different view of compulsory education and the need for education to be cherished as a gift and a privilege, not merely a right, are but a few of the no-brainers put forward as essential for educational reform in the 21st century. This book is a must-read for anyone interested in rejuvenating American education and society. Teachers, administrators, parents, legislators, school board members, and concerned citizens from every corner of American society will be both incited and enlightened by confronting the frank, candid, no-holds-barred ideas contained within these pages. The reader may not always agree, but is guaranteed never to be bored. Beverly Brown, 2004-09-01. Write grant proposals that
