

Nocturne for the Left Hand*

With motion and rubato
Bring out top note of each chord

Catherine Rollin

Measures 1-2 of the Nocturne. The key signature is one sharp (F#) and the time signature is 4/4. The piece begins with a piano (p) dynamic. The left hand plays a series of chords, with the top note of each chord being brought out. The first measure contains two chords, and the second measure contains three chords. A poco cresc. (poco crescendo) marking is present in the second measure.

Measures 3-5 of the Nocturne. Measure 3 starts with a mezzo-forte (mf) dynamic. Measure 4 includes a dim. (diminuendo) marking. Measure 5 returns to mezzo-forte (mf). A simile marking is placed below the bass line between measures 4 and 5, indicating that the dynamics and articulation should remain similar.

Measures 6-8 of the Nocturne. Measure 6 begins with a più cresc. (più crescendo) marking. Measure 7 features a forte (f) dynamic. Measure 8 concludes with a dim. e poco rit. (diminuendo e poco ritardando) marking.

Measures 9-11 of the Nocturne. Measure 9 starts with a mezzo-forte (mf) dynamic and the tempo marking a tempo. Measure 10 includes a cresc. e poco accelerando (crescendo e poco accelerando) marking. Measure 11 ends with a dim. (diminuendo) marking.

*This piece is written to be played by the left hand alone; however, it can be played with both hands, if desired.

Interpreting Chopin: Analysis and Performance Alison Hood, 2017-05-15 Music theory is often seen as independent from even antithetical to performance While music theory is an intellectual enterprise performance requires an intuitive response to the music But this binary opposition is a false one which serves neither the theorist nor the performer In Interpreting Chopin Alison Hood brings her experience as a performer to bear on contemporary analytical models She combines significant aspects of current analytical approaches and applies that unique synthetic method to selected works by Chopin casting new light on the composer s preludes nocturnes and barcarolle An extension of Schenkerian analysis the specific combination of five aspects distinguishes Hood s method from previous analytical approaches These five methods are attention to the rhythms created by pitch events on all structural levels a detailed accounting of the musical surface strict use of analytical notation following guidelines offered by Steve Larson a continual concern with what have been called strategies or premises and an exploration of how recorded performances might be viewed in terms of analytical decisions or might even shape those decisions Building on the work of such authors as William Rothstein Carl Schachter and John Rink Hood s approach to Chopin s oeuvre raises interpretive questions of central interest
