Nonprofit Trusteeship in Different Contexts Rikki Abzug, Jeffrey S. Simonoff, 2017-11-28 Critical interest in the characteristics make up and management of nonprofit organizations has seldom been higher As this impetus grows this important book draws on advances in neo institutional organizational theory to explore the environmental and contextual influences on the structure and composition of boards of nonprofit organizations Using information theoretic modelling the book studies the interactions of time place and organizational types including faith affiliation on US nonprofit boards using unique quantitative data collected from over 300 prestigious nonprofit organizations in a range of major US cities With examples drawn from a variety of nonprofit sectors including hospitals museums orchestras universities family services and community foundations the book examines how boards evolve over time in often unexpected ways and in ways which reflect the regional industrial and religious differences in the same period Detailing the important implications for theory practice and policy this is the first book length treatment of this topic to feature such a range of industries geographic areas and time frames It offers a refreshing narrative and scientific approach new and comprehensive subject matter and a sweeping new time frame for literature in the field

Nonprofit Governance Chris Cornforth, William A. Brown, 2013-07-04 The current fashion for rolling back the state has seen the nonprofit or third sector playing an increasing role in what were previously the heartlands of the public sphere The growing significance of the sector and its increasing reliance on public funds mean it has also attracted increased scrutiny From outside the sector concerns have been raised about the accountability and performance of nonprofit organizations From within the sector there has been considerable debate about whether the increased reliance on government contracts is in danger of undermining the sector's independence As a result the spotlight has fallen on governance arrangements and whether they are adequate to ensure that nonprofit organizations are effective and accountable for their actions and able to retain their independence This collection offers a comprehensive assessment of research on the governance of nonprofit organizations Nonprofit governance research has been dominated by the study of boards of unitary organizations and has paid insufficient attention to the multi level nature of governance governance relationships and dynamics and the contribution of actors other than board members to governance processes Drawing on the research of leading scholars in the US UK Canada and Australia this book presents new perspectives on non profit governance which help to overcome these weaknesses Written in an accessible manner the book will be of value to scholars researchers students reflective practitioners and governance consultants and advisers

Co-Leadership in the Arts and Culture Wendy Reid, Hilde Fjellv  r, 2022-12-26 This book is about co leadership A leadership practice and structure often found in arts organizations that consist of two or three executives who bridge the art and business divide at the top Many practitioners recognize this phenomenon but the research on this topic is limited and dispersed This book assembles a coherent overview and presents new insights of the field While co leadership is well institutionalized in the West it is also criticized for management s constraint of artistic autonomy and for its pluralism that dilutes leadership clarity However co leadership also personifies the strategic objectives of art audiences organization and community by addressing plural logics navigating the demands of artistic vision and organizational stability It is an integrating solution The authors investigate its specifics in the arts including global practice and its interdisciplinary nature The theoretical frame of plural leadership supports their empirical explorations of the dynamics within the co leadership relationship and with organizational stakeholders Data includes the voices of co leaders artists staff and board members from arts organizations in Canada and Norway Their abductive reflection generates a stimulating research experience By viewing co leadership in action not as a study of static theories the book will appeal not only to students and researchers but also resonate with practitioners in arts and cultural management and assist them to work with co leadership and to manage its tensions Chapters 1 and 4 of this book are freely available as downloadable Open Access PDFs at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Navigating Human Services Organizations Rich Furman, Margaret Gibelman, Ren Winnett, 2020 It has been 17 years since the first edition of Navigating Human Service Organizations Navigating was published and about twenty years since the Margaret Gibelman began working on a unique and engaging textbook that has been used in many dozens of classrooms I did not participate in the initial writing of the book I joined the project later Yet shortly after it was released I reviewed it for possible adoption for a practice class so can semi dispassionately reflect upon the initial notes I made about the latest book of the director of the doctoral program from which I graduated Navigating Human Service Organizations Rich Furman, Margaret Gibelman, Ren Winnett, 2020-07-31 Since its very inception social work has been considered an organizationally based profession with the majority of its workforce employed within formal organizations Whether in nonprofit for profit or governmental agencies the practical realities of human service organizations are a central element of professional social work This book explores the climate and culture of these agencies and provides essential information for surviving and thriving in this setting It prepares students for their future careers so that they will feel empowered in their work and be able to fulfill their responsibilities toward organizational community and social change Using real life examples the authors examine the internal structures of management financing and supervision and discuss common conflicts between agencies and professionals The book's straightforward tone and practical advice make it an asset to anyone entering human service organizations
