Nordic Explorations:

Nordic Explorations John Fullerton, Jan Olsson, 1999 Nordic Explorations Film Before 1930 includes twenty previously unpublished essays written for the 1999 retrospective of Nordic cinema at la Giornate del Cinema Muto in Italy. It brings together leading research on early cinema in Denmark, Finland, Norway, and Sweden and includes essays on some of the major figures in Nordic cinema including Dreyer, Christensen, Sjöström, and Stiller. Much current research in Nordic film before 1930 is also represented in this anthology with studies of the Norwegian travel genre, Nordic animated film, the relation of Nordic cinema to German and Russian film, the development of educational cinema and industrial film, as well as studies of individual films, filmmakers, and national styles and the relation of the medium to other forms of popular entertainment. The essays make a timely contribution to the more general study of cinema, afford authoritative and stimulating insight into research in the field, and challenge many assumptions regarding Nordic cinema before 1930. A Companion to Nordic Cinema Mette Hjort, Ursula Lindqvist, 2016-05-31 A Companion to Nordic Cinema presents a collection of original essays that explore one of the world's oldest regional cinemas from its origins to the present day. Offers a comprehensive transnational and regional account of Nordic cinema from its origins to the present day. Features original contributions from more than two dozen international film scholars based in the Nordic countries, the United States, Canada, Scotland, and Hong Kong. Covers a wide range of topics on the distinctive evolution of Nordic cinema, including the silent Golden Age, Nordic film policy models and their influence, audiences and cinephilia, Nordic film training and indigenous Sámi cinema. Considers Nordic cinema's engagement with global audiences through coverage of such topics as Dogme 95, the avant-garde filmmaking movement begun by Danish directors Lars von Trier and Thomas Vinterberg, and the global marketing and distribution of Nordic horror and Nordic noir. Offers fresh investigations of the work of global auteurs such as Carl Th. Dreyer, Ingmar Bergman, Lars von Trier, Aki Kaurismäki, and Roy Andersson. Includes essays on Danish and Swedish television dramas, Finland's eco-documentary film production, the emerging tradition of Icelandic cinema, the changing dynamics of Scandinavian porn, and many more. Nordic Exposures Arne Lunde, 2011-07-01 Nordic Exposures explores how Scandinavian whiteness and ethnicity functioned in classical Hollywood cinema between and during the two world wars. Scandinavian identities could seem mutable and constructed at moments while at other times they were deployed as representatives of an essential biological and natural category. As Northern European Protestants, Scandinavian immigrants and emigres assimilated into the mainstream rights and benefits of white American identity with comparatively few barriers or obstacles. Yet Arne Lunde demonstrates that far from simply manifesting a normative unmarked whiteness, Scandinavianness in mass immigration America and in Hollywood cinema of the twentieth century could be hyperwhite, provisionally off-white, or not even white at all. Lunde investigates key silent films such as Technicolor's The Viking (1928), Victor Sjöström's He Who Gets Slapped (1924), and Mauritz Stiller's Hotel Imperial (1927). The crises of Scandinavian foreign voice and the talkie revolution are explored in Greta Garbo's first sound film Anna Christie 1930 The author also examines Warner Oland's long career of Asian racial masquerade most famously as Chinese detective Charlie Chan as well as Hollywood's and Third Reich Cinema's war over assimilating the Nordic female star in the personae of Garbo Sonja Henie Ingrid Bergman Kristina Soderbaum and Zarah Leander

Explorations in the Icy North Nanna Katrine Lüders Kaalund, 2021-05-11 Science in the Arctic changed dramatically over the course of the nineteenth century when early scattered attempts in the region to gather knowledge about all aspects of the natural world transitioned to a more unified Arctic science under the First International Polar Year in 1882 The IPY brought together researchers from multiple countries with the aim of undertaking systematic and coordinated experiments and observations in the Arctic and Antarctic Harsh conditions intense isolation and acute danger inevitably impacted the making and communicating of scientific knowledge At the same time changes in ideas about what it meant to be an authoritative observer of natural phenomena were linked to tensions in imperial ambitions national identities and international collaborations of the IPY Through a focused study of travel narratives in the British Danish Canadian and American contexts Nanna Katrine Lüders Kaalund uncovers not only the transnational nature of Arctic exploration but also how the publication and reception of literature about it shaped an extreme environment its explorers and their scientific practices She reveals how far beyond the metropole in the vast area we understand today as the North American and Greenlandic Arctic explorations and the narratives that followed ultimately influenced the production of field science in the nineteenth century

Norwegian Empire Rolf Hedger, The Viking Age which spanned from roughly the late 8th century to the early 11th century marks one of the most defining periods in Scandinavian history Originating from the lands of modern day Norway Denmark and Sweden the Vikings were skilled warriors traders and explorers whose influence reverberated across Europe the Mediterranean and even parts of North America While they are often remembered for their raids and conquests their contributions to global trade culture and exploration were equally significant The Vikings were driven by a combination of necessity ambition and curiosity Norway with its rugged terrain and limited arable land pushed its people to seek out new opportunities Over time Norse seafaring communities developed advanced shipbuilding techniques creating the iconic Viking longships which were fast flexible and capable of navigating both open seas and shallow rivers This technology was crucial to their ability to explore distant lands and launch raids far from their homeland In 793 the infamous raid on the Lindisfarne monastery in England marked the beginning of the Viking Age This event shocked the Christian world but it was just one of many raids that would follow The Vikings attacked coastal settlements monasteries and trading centers driven by a combination of religious fervor the pursuit of wealth and a desire to spread Norse influence While the Vikings were feared for their brutality they were also adept traders forging links with distant cultures Their mercantile activities helped spread Norse craftsmanship jewelry and textiles while they in turn adopted valuable goods such as silk spices and wine Despite their reputation as raiders the Vikings were also skilled navigators and explorers They established settlements in Iceland Greenland and parts of the British Isles and they ventured as far as North America Leif Erikson's journey to what is now Newfoundland is one of the most remarkable feats of Viking exploration proving that the Norse had the ability to navigate across vast oceans to discover new lands

Nordic Literature Steven P. Sondrup, Mark B. Sandberg, Thomas A. DuBois, Dan Ringgaard, 2017-12-15 Nordic Literature A comparative history is a multi volume comparative analysis of the literature of the Nordic region Bringing together the literature of Finland continental Scandinavia Sweden Norway Denmark and S pmi and the insular region Iceland Greenland and the Faroe Islands each volume of this three volume project adopts a new frame through which one can recognize and analyze significant clusters of literary practice This first volume Spatial nodes devotes its attention to the changing literary figurations of space by Nordic writers from medieval to contemporary times Organized around the depiction of various scapes and spatial practices at home and abroad this approach to Nordic literature stretches existing notions of temporally linear nationally centered literary history and allows questions of internal regional similarities and differences to emerge more strongly The productive historical contingency of the North as a literary space becomes clear in this close analysis of its literary texts and practices Paper - ,1970 The Cinema of Scandinavia Tytti Soila,2005

Modernism and the Architecture of Private Life offers a bold new assessment of the role of the domestic sphere in modernist literature architecture and design Elegantly synthesizing modernist literature with architectural plans room designs and decorative art Victoria Rosner s work explores the collaborations among modern British writers interior designers and architects in redefining the form function and meaning of middle class private life Drawing on a host of previously unexamined archival sources and works by figures such as E M Forster Roger Fry Oscar Wilde James McNeill Whistler and Virginia Woolf Rosner highlights the participation of modernist literature in the creation of an experimental embodied and unstructured private life which we continue to characterize as modern Geological Exploration in the Coppermine River Area, Northwest Territories, 1966-1968 R. mention Ingmar Bergman and Lars von Trier But there is much more to the cinema of Denmark Norway Sweden Finland and Iceland than that and this book shows us what they have been accomplishing over more than a century from the beginnings of cinema until the present The Historical Dictionary of Scandinavian Cinema shows just how long and busy this history has been in the chronology starting in 1896 The introduction then describes the situation in each one of the component countries all of which approached and developed the field in a similar but also slightly different manner The dictionary section with over 400 substantial entries looks at the situation in greater detail with over 400 substantial entries on major actors directors and others significant films various genres and themes and subjects such as animation ethnicity migration and censorship Given its contribution to world cinema it is good to finally have an encyclopedia like this which can meet the interests of the scholar and researcher but also the movie fan Quarterly Review ,1939 Includes section Some Michigan books

Woodley of Menie,2018-07-04 The social sciences share a mission to shed light on human nature and society However there is no widely accepted meta theory no foundation from which variables can be linked causally sequenced or ultimately explained This book advances life history evolution as the missing meta theory for the social sciences Originally a biological theory for the variation between species research on life history evolution now encompasses psychological and sociological variation within the human species that has long been the stock and trade of social scientific
