Jane Leade Julie Hirst,2017-09-08 Jane Leade 1624 1704 is probably the most prolific woman writer and most important female religious leader in late seventeenth century England yet she still remains relatively unknown By exploring her life and works as a prophetess and mystic this book opens a fascinating window into the world of a remarkable woman living in a remarkable age Born in Norfolk into a gentry family Jane Leade enjoyed a comfortable childhood married a distant cousin who was a merchant and had four children However she found herself totally destitute in London when he died his fortune having been lost abroad As a widow she proclaimed herself to be a Bride of Christ and eventually became a prolific author and a respected blind elderly leader of a religious group of well educated men and women known as the Philadelphian Society The structure of this book is informed by the chronological events that happened during her life and is complemented by examining some of the material she published including her visions of the Virgin Wisdom or Sophia She started writing in 1670 but published prolifically in the 1680s and 1690s and this material offers a fascinating glimpse into the mind of an extraordinary woman Believing herself to be living in the End Times she expected Sophia would return with the second coming of Christ The Philadelphian Society grew under her charge until they were buffeted by mobs in London Jane Leade died in her eighty first year and is buried in the non conformist cemetery Bunhill Fields in London By contextualising her and drawing out the nature of her devotions this new book draws attention to her as a figure in her own right Previous studies have tended to reduce her to one example within a certain tradition but as this work clearly demonstrates she was in fact a much more complicated character who did not conform to any one particular tradition Nell Blaine Martica Sawin,1998 This volume presents the art and life of Nell Blaine a member of the second generation of the New York School Her work represents a dialogue between abstract principles and her sensory responses to the visible world Her oils and watercolours of gardens landscapes and flower still lifes display her commitment to the pleasure principle her delight in vision combined with a gift for improvisation and rhythm learned from the jazz greats of the 1940s British and Irish Paintings in Public Collections Christopher Wright,Catherine May Gordon,2006-01-01 This book sets a new standard as a work of reference It covers British and Irish art in public collections from the beginning of the sixteenth century to the end of the nineteenth and it encompasses nearly 9 000 painters and 90 000 paintings in more than 1 700 separate collections The book includes as well pictures that are now lost some as a consequence of the Second World War and others because of de

accessioning mostly from 1950 to about 1975 when Victorian art was out of fashion By listing many tens of thousands of previously unpublished works including around 13 000 which do not yet have any form of attribution this book becomes a unique and indispensable work of reference one that will transform the study of British and Irish painting Locating Privacy in Tudor London Lena Cowen Orlin, 2007-12-13 Locating Privacy in Tudor London asks new questions about where private life was lived in the early modern period about where evidence of it has been preserved and about how progressive and coherent its history can be said to have been The Renaissance and the Reformation are generally taken to have produced significant advances in individuality subjectivity and interiority especially among the elite but this study of middling sort culture shows privacy to have been an object of suspicion of competing priorities and of compulsory betrayals The institutional archives of civic governance livery companies parish churches and ecclesiastical courts reveal the degree to which society organized itself around principles of preventing privacy as a condition of order Also represented in the discussion are such material artefacts as domestic buildings and household furnishings which were routinely experienced as collective and monitory agents rather than spheres of exclusivity and self expression In everyday life it is argued economic motivations were of more urgent concern than the political paradigms that have usually informed our understanding of the Renaissance Locating Privacy pursues the case study of Alice Barnham 1523 1604 a previously unknown merchant class woman subject of one of the earliest family group paintings from England Her story is touched by many of the changes in social structure religion the built environment the spread of literacy and the history of privacy that define the sixteenth century The book is of interest to literary social cultural and architectural historians to historians of the Reformation and of London and to historians of gender and women s studies Hans Holbein the Younger Erika Michael, 1997-06 A comprehensive annotated bibliography of texts relating to the Northern European artist with an historiographic essay on various aspects of Holbein s reception This is volume 2 in the ARTISTS RESOURCE MANUALS series Jacques Hnizdovsky Woodcuts and Etchings , This work reproduces more than 350 woodcuts and linocuts printed during Hnizdovsky s career House of Treason Robert Hutchinson, 2009-02-26 King makers Conspirators Criminals Nobles Seducers A riveting story splendidly told DAILY TELEGRAPH Gripping and gruesome BIG ISSUE IN THE NORTH Fascinating close ups of outlandish Tudor behaviour DAILY MAIL The Howard family the Dukes of Norfolk were the wealthiest and most powerful aristocrats in Tudor England regarding themselves as the true power behind the throne They were certainly extraordinarily influential with two Howard women marrying Henry VIII Anne Boleyn and the fifteen year old Catherine Howard But in the treacherous world of the Tudor court no faction could afford to rest on its laurels The Howards consolidated their power with an awesome web of schemes and conspiracies but even they could not always hold their enemies at bay This was a family whose history is marked by treason beheadings and incarceration a dynasty whose pride and ambition secured only their downfall The National Church in Local Perspective Jeremy Gregory, Jeffrey Scott

Chamberlain,2003 The political social and economic role of the Church in the various regions of England identifying common themes and highlighting regional differences Africans in East Anglia, 1467-1833 Richard Maguire,2021 What were the lives of Africans in provincial England like during the early modern period How where and when did they arrive in rural counties How were they perceived by their contemporaries This book examines the population of Africans in Norfolk and Suffolk from 1467 the date of the first documented reference to an African in the region to 1833 when Parliament voted to abolish slavery in the British Empire It uncovers the complexity of these Africans historical experience considering the interaction of local custom class structure tradition memory and the gradual impact of the Atlantic slaving economy Richard C Maguire proposes that the initial regional response to arriving Africans during the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries was not defined exclusively by ideas relating to skin colour but rather by local understandings of religious status class position ideas about freedom and bondage and immediate local circumstances Arriving Africans were able to join the region s working population through baptism marriage parenthood and work This manner of response to Africans was challenged as local merchants and gentry begin doing business with the slaving economy from the mid seventeenth century onwards Although the racialised ideas underpinning Atlantic slavery changed the social circumstances of Africans in the region the book suggests that they did not completely displace older more inclusive ideas in working communities Masters in Art ,1900 Each number is devoted to one artist and includes bibliography of the artist Process, Image, Portrait Myron Helfgott,1986 Navy and Marine Corps List and Directory ,1941-04
