History of Australia An Uneasy Relationship Maev O'Collins, 2010-11-01 The situation of Norfolk Island as a territory of the Commonwealth of Australia is one of the historical anomalies in governance which has persisted since 1914 It reflects the direct historical linkages between the British Crown and those Norfolk Islanders who were descendants of Pitcairn Islanders of Mutiny on the Bounty fame Yet once Federation was in the wind the British Government against the expressed wishes of the Norfolk Island community sought to divest itself of all responsibility for Norfolk Island There is a curious Yes Minister quality about the negotiations which lead to the final take over by Australia and the appointment of the first Commonwealth Administrator of Norfolk Island The direct involvement of Atlee Hunt then Secretary of the Department of External Affairs eventually ensured the appointment of Michael Vincent Murphy In order to achieve this end Hunt had to fend off other applicants who were busy ingratiating themselves with the Minister for External Affairs Patrick McMahon Glynn and the then Prime Minister Joseph Cook This is essentially a study of the relationships between governors politicians public servants and community leaders during the years which followed the take over of Norfolk Island and of the struggle of one Norfolk Islander Charles Chase Ray Nobbs against Australian administrative authority Small Worlds, Global Lives Russell King, John Connell, 1999-10-01 Geologists most from Australia and Britain but with some outliers from continental Europe and North America focus on small islands where the scarcity of people and resources make migration substantially important socially and economically The topics include the Azores historical cultural and literary perspectives on emigration from the minor islands of Ireland Nevis and the post war labor movement in Britain islands and the migration experience in the fiction of Jamaica Kincaid from dystopia to utopia on Norfolk Island Tongans online the changing contours of migrant Samoan kinship and finding a retirement place in sunny Corfu Records of the Australian Museum Australian Museum, 2001

Islands of Inquiry Geoffrey Richard Clark, Sue O'Connor, Bryan Foss Leach, 2008-06-01 Many of the papers in this volume present new and innovative research into the processes of maritime colonisation processes that affect archaeological contexts from islands to continents Others shift focus from process to the archaeology of maritime places from the Bering to the Torres Straits providing highly detailed discussions of how living by and with the sea is woven into all elements of human life from subsistence to trade and to ritual Of equal importance are more abstract discussions of islands as natural places refashioned by human occupation either through the introduction of new organisms or new systems of production and consumption These transformation stories gain further texture and variety through close examinations of some of the more significant consequences of colonisation and migration particularly the creation of new cultural identities A final set of papers explores the ways in which the techniques of archaeological sciences have provided insights into the fauna of the islands and the human history of such places Provided by publisher Land Settlement in Early Tasmania Sharon Morgan, 2003-12-11 This is the first detailed examination of land alienation and land use by white settlers in an Australian colony It treats the first decades of settlement in Van Diemen's Land encompassing the effects of the European invasion on
