

A photograph of a two-lane asphalt road winding through a dense forest. The road has double yellow lines in the center and white lines on the edges. The trees are tall and dark, and the sky is a pale, hazy blue. The overall mood is quiet and contemplative.

Surrency, 2007-03-05 The story of a Military family retiring and choosing to live in a Middle class suburb located in Southern Florida The family thinks they have finally found the perfect place to call home until they meet Thelma a devious conniving and ruthless woman Murder mystery happiness racism and mayhem all the ingredients a woman needed to satisfy her greed and determination to have her way no matter the cost including embezzlement and possible murder Such a small close knit community terrorized so horribly by one woman the People's court singled them out to tell their story on national television The 2000 Presidential election controversy in Florida has nothing on this Story It reveals a behind the scenes look at politics at its worse The best and the worse of our judicial system Could the contents of this story if told sooner have decided the 2000 presidential election Why We Hate Us Dick Meyer, 2008-08-05 Americans are as safe well fed securely sheltered long lived free and healthy as any human beings who have ever lived on the planet But we are down on America So why do we hate us According to Dick Meyer the following items on this much abbreviated list are some of the contributors to our deep disenchantment with our own culture Cell phone talkers broadcasting the intimate details of their lives in public spaces Worship of self awareness self realization and self fulfillment T shirts that read Eat Me Facebook MySpace and kids being taught to market themselves High level cheating in business and sports Reality television and the cosmetic surgery boom Multinational corporations that claim We care about you The decline of organic communities A line of cosmetics called S L U

The phony red state blue state divide The penetration of OmniMarketing into OmniMedia and the insinuation of both into every facet of our lives You undoubtedly could add to the list with hardly a moment's thought In Why We Hate Us Meyer absolutely nails America's early twenty-first century mood disorder He points out the most widespread carriers of the why we hate us germs including the belligerence of partisan politics that perverts our democracy the decline of once common manners the vulgarity of Hollywood entertainment the superficiality and untrustworthiness of the news media the cult of celebrity and the disappearance of authentic neighborhoods and voluntary organizations the kind that have actual meetings where one can hobnob instead of just clicking in an online contribution Meyer argues with biting wit and observations that make you want to shout Yes I hate that too that when the social spiritual and political turmoil that followed the sixties collided with the technological and media revolution at the turn of the century something inside us hit overload American culture no longer reflects our own values As a result we are now morally and existentially tired disoriented anchorless and defensive We hate us and we wonder why Why We Hate Us reveals why we do and also offers a thoughtful and uplifting prescription for breaking out of our current morass and learning how to hate us less It is a penetrating but always accessible Culture of Narcissism for a new generation and it carries forward ideas that resounded with readers in bestsellers such as On Bullshit and Bowling Alone
