Provided by publisher The Client-Consultant Relationship in Professional Business Service Firms Natalia Nikolova, 2019-02-02 The interaction between clients and consultants during consulting projects is essential for their success and therefore for the long term survival of consulting companies The aim of this book is to further advance our understanding of the nature of client consultant relationships Building upon a critical discussion of the contributions and shortcoming of existing research Natalia Nikolova proposes an innovative conceptual model which provides a critical yet constructive platform for the development of a more differentiated view of professional work The framework concentrates on the cultural and political relations between clients and consultants during service production It represents a prolific platform for further research and provides practitioners with an increased awareness of hitherto under explored issues of client consultant relationships This book is aimed at scholars of professional business service firms and those interested in multidisciplinary studies of human relations in general It will also appeal to students interested in these areas and to clients and consultants involved in consulting projects

Sustainable and Traditional Environmental Conservation in Asia Dipayan Dey, Ayyanadar Arunachalam, 2024-10-23 This book articulates the traditional Japanese concept of conservation called Satoyama for effective management of nature's goods and services at a community ecosystem interface in the climate milieu The term Satoyama refers to socio ecological production landscapes and seascapes which are mosaics of diverse land uses and ecosystems that have long been shaped through sustainable human interactions with nature This multilevel study of conservation science therefore serves an interdisciplinary academia consistent with conventions on climate change biodiversity and sustainable development to establish links between conservation priorities and development objectives In this book the Satoyama is introduced as a rights based neo economic conservation paradigm for production linked sustainable development supplemented with case studies from Asia The International Partnership for the Satoyama Initiative was established at the 10th Conference of the Parties to the Convention on Biological Diversity in 2010 to protect and revitalise Satoyama However even after a decade this panacea for sustainability remains unfulfilled for practitioners and policy planners in the global south Satoyama have been disappearing as a result of irresponsible consumption of natural resources and drastically changing agro farming practices threatening wildlife inhabiting those areas as well as the life and livelihood of marginal communities in the vicinity In consideration of the global pandemic crisis the present monograph aims for introspection within a traditional sustainable practice of Asia to augment community resilience and preparedness

Better Practices of Project Management Based on IPMA competences, 2nd edition John Hermarij, 2020-06-11 This book is replaced by a new version 3rd revised Edition Project management is a fast growing profession The IPMA Competence Baseline ICB version 3 dating from 2007 gives a clear description of this profession based on 46 competence elements This book gives the essential theoretical and practical background of each competence element based on the leading sources The structure of this book follows the order of the competence elements in the ICB version 3 divided into Technical competences Behavioral competences and Contextual competences For this reason it is the essential study book for everyone studying for the IPMA D and IPMA C exams and for those project managers that have committed themselves to a lifelong professional development In addition the book had to be applicable to groups of project managers originating from diverse cultures For this reason this is not a book that tells how a Westerner must behave in an Arab or an Asian country but one that looks at the different subjects covered in the ICB as seen from diverse cultural standpoints Each chapter is based on the same structure Definitions Introduction Process Steps Process steps Special topics Text boxes additional to the main text give additional explanation to the main text An elaborate Index of terms allows that this book can be used as the information source to all aspects of project management

Statistical Consulting Javier Cabrera, Andrew McDougall, 2013-04-17 The motivation for this book arose from the statistical consulting course that we have taught regularly for several years In that course we focus on the themes Understanding the statistical consulting process Developing effective communication skills Obtaining experience through case studies In reality there is no substitute for consulting directly with a client and for this interaction to be effective good communication skills are essential Unfortunately this aspect of a statistician's training is often neglected and statistics graduates have little choice but to learn these skills on the job One of the purposes of this book is to address this need Statistical consulting occurs in a diverse range of environments and for tackling real life statistical problems the statistician needs to have a strong interest in the scientific method History itself provides the best examples for developing this interest and so we begin with a brief historical voyage in Chapter 1 There's no time like the present of course and in the remainder of this chapter we describe some of the environments in which statistical consulting plays a major role A detailed discussion on verbal and written communication skills that will be required in a consulting environment is presented in Chapter 2
