Sheffield, 2006-11-13 This groundbreaking work explores media scholar Sut Jhally's thesis that advertising functions as a religion in late capitalism and relates this to critical theological studies Sheffield argues that advertising is not itself a religion but that it contains religious dimensions analogous to Durkheim's description of objects as totems Religion as Magical Ideology Konrad Talmont-Kaminski, 2014-10-20 Religion as Magical Ideology examines the relationship between rationality and supernatural beliefs arguing that such beliefs are products of evolution cognition and culture The book does not offer a false rapprochement between reason and religion instead it explores their interrelationship as a series of complex adaptations between cognitive and cultural processes Exploring the nature of the tension between religious traditions and reason Religion as Magical Ideology develops a dual inheritance theory of religion which combines the cognitive byproduct and prosocial adaptation accounts and analyses the connection between the function of a belief and the degree of protection it gets from potential counter evidence With discussion ranging from individual cognitive mechanisms general functional considerations to the limits of evolutionary and cognitive processes the book offers readers a systematic account of how it will rain when you go out Lu Yangcomplained that he regretted not bringing hemp fiber in advance
