Catholic Preschool and Primary Religious

Education Curriculum for Ireland Catholic Church. Irish Episcopal Conference, 2015 Religious Education Curriculum Catholic Education Office (Sydney, N.S.W.), 2003 Does Religious Education Have a Future? Mark Chater, Clive Erricker, 2013-05-07

The place of religion in the modern world has changed significantly over the past two decades. This has been partially reflected in the academic study of religion but little if at all in religious education. In addition, the place of RE in schools has been the subject of intense debate due to changes to the curriculum and school structure as well as being part of wider debates on religion in the public sphere. Written by two highly experienced leading practitioners of RE, Does Religious Education have a Future argues for a radical reform of the subject based on principles of pedagogy set free from religious concerns. It challenges teachers, researchers and educators to rethink their approaches to and assumptions about religious education and enables them to see their work in a larger context that includes pedagogical ideas and political forces. The book offers readers fresh, provocative and expertly informed critical perspectives on the global context of RE, debates about religion in public places, religion's response to modernity, violent extremism, science and secularism, the evolving educational rationale for RE in schools, the legal arrangements for RE and their impact on the teaching of the subject, the pedagogy of teaching approaches in RE and their effect on standards and perceptions of the subject, the educational commitment of faith belief communities and how this influences the performance of RE. Does Religious Education have a Future proposes a new attitude to the subject of religious education and a new configuration of both its role and content. This book is essential reading for academics, advisers and policy makers as well as teachers of RE at primary and secondary levels and trainee and newly qualified teachers.
